A young college in a very youthful University, U.C.L.A.'s College of Business Administration has made amazing progress in the few short years of its existence, and now ranks among the best in the country. Sharply contrasting this enviable development in size and academic rating, are the facilities of the College. Business classes are conducted in almost every building on campus, from the Education building to the basement of the Chemistry building. In addition, the offices of the college and the faculty are cramped in a rear wing of Royce. There is a crying need for a separate and distinct Business Administration building, one which would house the Economics Department as well as the College of Business Administration. The next building to be constructed on this campus should of necessity be a new Business Administration building, with specially designed labs and equipment, with possibly a special library for business students and faculty only. With such a physical plant supplementing our distinguished faculty, U.C.L.A.'s College of Business Administration would soon become the "Harvard of the West."

DEDICATION

In these days of blitzkriegs and total war, a nation no longer depends solely upon its military leaders and statesmen. Of increasing importance is the industrial leader, who by advanced scientific methods, coordinates all of the amazingly complex factors of production into the sinews of an impregnable defense.

The need for producing such leaders, therefore, is a most vital one. Outstanding among those whose task it is to train these future economic generals is the Dean of the College of Business Administration. Learned, sincere, and gifted with the rare ability to inspire all those who come into contact with him, he is largely responsible for the gratifying number of industrial leaders that have come forth from this institution. As a mark of our appreciation of the genuinely fine qualities of this man, we dedicate this book to Howard Scott Noble.

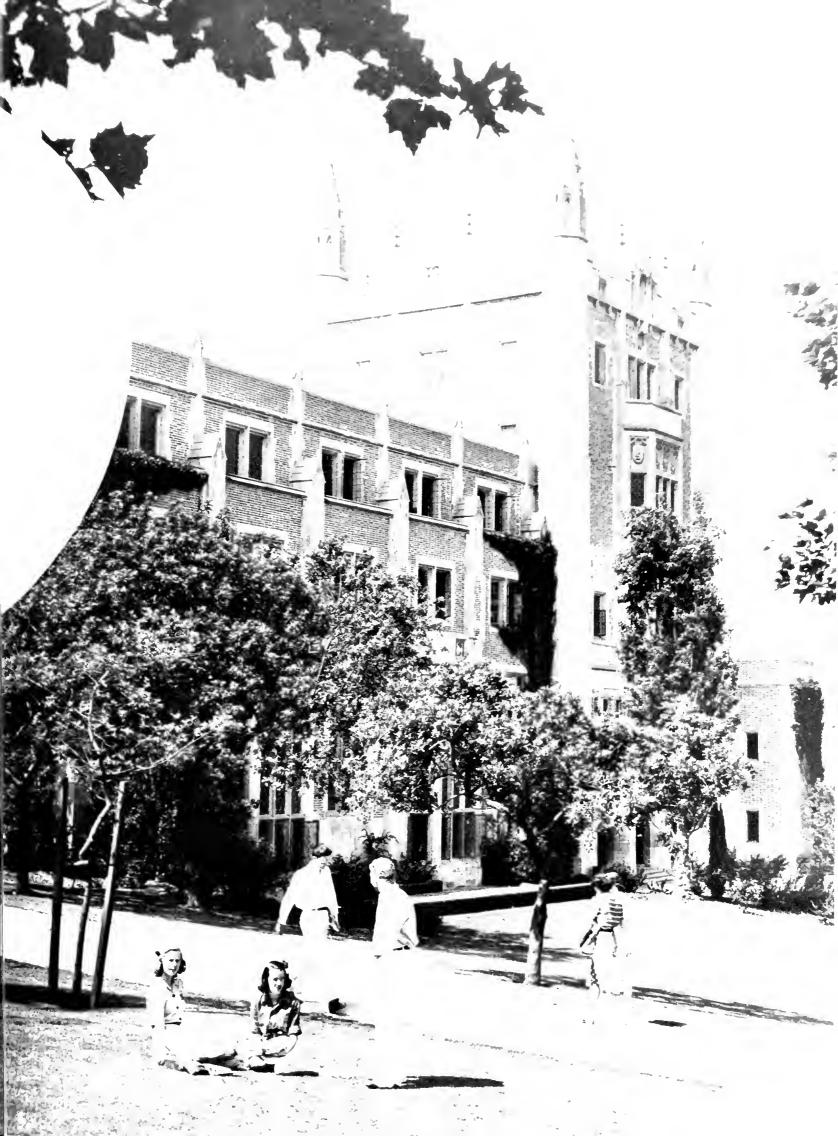

HOWARD SCOTT NOBLE

This building stands to serve the University and to tell of the human kindness, the conservative vision and the courage of William G. Kerkhoff.

Thus reads the copper dedicatory plaque on a wall of the main lounge in Kerckhoff Hall. It epitomizes the character of one of the University's real benefactors. William G. Kerckhoff watched the first buildings rise on the new U.C.L.A. campus and before he died in February, 1929, he voiced his desire to give a student union building to the new institution. It was his wife who brought his plans to fruition. In conjunction with Dr. Ernest Carroll Moore, then Director and Vice-President, Mrs. Kerckhoff instructed her architects to plan an edifice that would in every way be adequate to the needs of students. Emphasizing its own peculiar purpose, Kerckhoff Hall departs from the style of other campus structures and resembles Henry VIIth's Tudor Gothic Chapel at Westminster. Ten years ago on January 20, 1930, Kerckhoff Hall was formally dedicated. Speaking for Mrs. Kerckhoff, who was too overcome with emotion to make the presentation, Mr. Allan Balch voiced the Kerckhoff sentiments of gratitude and satisfaction. Today it houses the most genuinely democratic student government organization in the country and stands as a worthy monument to the Kerckhoff's concern for the college student's welfare.

MILESTONE

Originally a small, two-year institution with only a few hundred students, U.C.L.A. has become, in twenty-one years, the third largest University in enrollment west of the Rockies. Established in 1881 as the Los Angeles State Normal School, it soon, as the city grew, became necessary to move the school away from the business section. A then spacious tract on Vermont Avenue was chosen, and here the state school continued operations until 1924, when as the University of California, Southern Branch, the institution again outgrew its campus. At this time the regents took advantage of an offer of land in the Westwood hills, and the University was again moved to a more accommodating location. Since taking root on the Westwood Campus, the University of California at Los Angeles has fought continuously to become more than a little brother of a great university. And, today, as the youngest major university in the United States, U.C.L.A. boasts a scholastic and athletic standing which compares favorable with the oldest and best universities in America.

N 1926 when the architects were drawing up their blue-prints, they were puzzled as to the style of the campus. The traditional Spanish architecture did not seem adequate to the practical needs of a University, and consequently the warm dignified Italian Romanesque of the Lombards was chosen. In September, 1929, four buildings greeted curious students on the new campus. In little more than a decade the number has been increased to eleven, with a future full of promise.

HROUGH these doors walk the students of today and the teachers of tomorrow. The Education Building, adhering to the traditional style of the Library and Royce Hall, is more elaborate in its use of terra cotta design. Over the main entrance is an interesting brickwork pattern, and the freize which runs around the second story gives an impression of inlaid Italian mosaic. Two corresponding auditoriums balance the wings.

ADMINISTRATION

Governor Culbert L. Olson

GOVERNOR

Governor Culbert Olson's official position in the opinion of the University public is that of Chairman of the Regents, but to the students he is a loyal Bruin rooter and a neverfailing advocate of progressive administration. He has consistently supported a generous allotment in the state budget for the University's enlargement and improvement, and has championed tuition fee reductions, looking forward to their ultimate elimination.

The governor is a firm believer in the system of free education extended to state-owned schools, and a faithful friend of every branch of the University.

BOARD OF REGENTS

The Officers and Regents of the University of California meet to discuss and pass upon all important measures and changes affecting the seven campuses of the University. Members of varied organizations and professions are represented upon the Board. Seated, left to right: Fred Moyer Jordan, Charles S. Wheeler, Jr., Lieutenant-Governor Ellis Patterson, Frederick J. Roman, Joseph D. Hodgen, Edward A. Dickson, Comproller James H. Corley, News Service Head Harold Ellis, Attorney John U. Calkins, Jr., Secretary-Treasurer Robert M. Underhill, Garret N. McErney, President Robert Gordon Sproul, Asssistant-Secretary Winifred I. Williams, Mortimer Fleishacker, George I. Cochran, Edwin W. Pauley, Sidney Ehrman, Rev. Charles Ramm.

Dr. Robert Gordon Sproul, President of the University of California

President Robert Gordon Sproul is well known as one of California's finest orators and well liked as an informal "good fellow." He began his University of California career early by his undergraduate prominence at Berkeley in such varied activities as sports-announcing and the holding of several student body offices. Then, after serving in numerous administrative positions, he was elevated to the presidency of the University eleven years ago. Dr. Sproul, in a message to the Southern Campus and its readers, pointed out that this marks the first year of U.C.L.A.'s majority, and that this past year more than 10,000 young men and women were afforded training on this campus, 1500 of whom received their degrees at June Commencement. In summing up this twenty-second year of service he feels that one may say that its real record of achievement will be found written in the future.

Miss Mildred L. Foreman, Occupations Bureau Manager, has broadened the scope of Occupational Conferences to include the discussion of medical, religious, and social service subjects.

Aubrey L. Berry, Appointment Secretary, has charge of teacher placement. He has started a Group Leadership Plan which gives undergraduates a chance to work with elementary and high school groups.

Harry M. Showman Registrar, supervises all general correspondence concerning the University and its courses, is secretary of all faculties, and serves on various University committees.

Herman A. Spindt, Manager of the Bureau of Guidance and Placement, divides his time between U.C.L.A. and Berkeley. Formerly Superintendent of Kern County High Schools, he has been with U.C.L.A. since 1938.

Hiram W Edwards, Director of Relations with Schools is official contact man for high school and junior college matriculation in addition to being an Associate Professor of Physics and Associate Director of Admissions

Deming G Maclise, Business Manager of the University keeps finances straight for practically everything in the school. Formerly Assist ant Comptroller, Mr Maclise also serves as Secretary to the Regents

John Goodwin, Librarian, has completed plans for vital library improvements. Mr. Goodwin hopes to see the main stack enlarged and the reserve room extension completed by this fall.

Merton E. Hill, Director of Admissions, has charge of this duty for both divisions of the University. Dividing his time between U.C.L.A. and Berkeley, he also teaches education courses at both schools.

With outside activities as varied as the colleges they represent, U.C.L.A.'s Deans pursue their special interests both within and without their official capacities. Graduate Division Dean Knudsen carries on his acoustics work by serving as a member of the L. A. Noise Abatement Commission. Letters and Science Dean Watkins engages in labor arbitration. Applied Arts Dean Cozens works on physical education achievement measurements. Business Administration Dean Noble writes and revises accounting texts: Summer Session Dean Williams devotes himself to Summer School plans. Agriculture's Dean Chandler does field work to discover methods of plant disease prevention and cure. Education's Dean Lee particularly prefers studies in vocational education.

[Pictures of the Dean of Women and Dean of Undergraduates are to be found on pages 282 and 344 respectively.]

With hopes for a building of its own in the near future, the College of Business Administration continues to take on ever-increasing prominence. This year saw the awarding of the master's degree in the college for the first time. Howard Noble, former Economics Chairman and author of the Advanced Accounting Text, was chosen Dean when the college was established by the Regents in 1935, Business Administration students are known for their participation in their college's organizations and considered among the most active groups on campus.

Dean Gordon Watkins, ever-busy Letters and Science Head, relishes labor arbitration activities, personnel counselling to large corporations, and the study of comparative economic systems. Recently invited to become special industrial consultant in Los Angeles for the U. S. Department of Labor, Dean Watkins hopes to find time for occasional hikes in the High Sierras.

FACULTY

Dr. Ira Frisbee uses his spare time for income-tax problems and the writing of an auditing text-book. Colleague Wilbert Karrenbrock collaborates on an accounting text, while both emphasize this as the first year with a master's degree in their department.

Departing from law-practice and devoting more of his time to U.C.L.A. and Business Law courses, Dr. Arnold Eger prepares a book on the subject. Dr. John Clendennin surveys dividend payments and premiums, plans a study of Federal Crop Insurance.

SU

Economic theory and practice are represented by Dr. Benjamin Anderson's pamphlets and market advice respectively. Dr. Lewis Maverick stresses the relationship of Economics to Democracy and studies the Chinese influence on European social thought and economics.

In preparation for government service, Dr. Robert Glendinning presented new graduate courses in geographic aspects of land-planning; Dr. George McBride's political geography course kept up with geographic developments of foreign affairs.

Dr. William Putnam continues research on Eastern Sierra glaciation, cites geology course emphasis this year on strategic minerals and their locations.

Family

Dr. John W. Caughey discusses California history, whereas Dr. Roland Hussey's interest lies in his ten years' research on International Rivalry in the Caribbean areas.

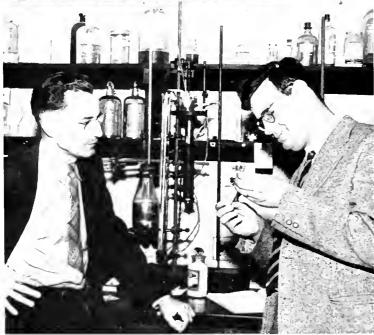

Dr. Andre Lobanov continues his study of Russo-European relations from 1776 to 1914, while Dr. David Bjork recently completed a monograph on Baltic Sea Piracy during the Middle Ages.

This year found a large number of departments on campus featuring National Defense Program coordination. Deans, Faculty, and Students played significant roles in the various developments. From the Home Economics Department with its study of housing problems for the halfmillion draftees to Mechanics Arts with its directly-concerned technical courses for student aircraft workers, the University participated academically. The Physics Department featured meteorology and military acoustics classes preparatory to government work along these lines. Applied Mathematics research by both faculty and students concerned ideas applicable to governmental needs. Geographical land-planning courses emphasized necessary points for future service. Dean of Letters and Science Gordon Watkins served as Chairman of the Committee on Human Resources and Skills for the State Council of National Defense. And Dean of Graduate Division Vern Knudsen contributed his suggestions to the acoustics section of the National Defense Research Commission. The University took its position as an integral part of the state and nation.

Drs. Hans Reichenbach and Hugh Miller discuss respective philosophical theories, their recently published books, the increase in the department's graduate division, and the newly established reading courses.

Aiming to prepare students for industrial and research chemical positions, U.C.L.A.'s is considered the finest Organic Chemistry Department west of the Mississippi. Drs. Coryell and Blacet continue their respective researches on iron blood compounds and photo-chemistry, as both undergraduate and graduate enrollment rises rapidly.

Of the 6630 foreign students enrolled at colleges and universities in the United States, the largest number, 559, is to be found at the University of California. U.C.L.A. claims 132 of these students, the largest group; 48 from Canada, 28 registered from Germany, with relatively smaller groups from England, China, Austria, Mexico, and Russia. Altogether, 36 countries were represented. In the faculty also, two new additions from Norway raised even higher the teaching reputation of the university. Dr. Jakob Bjerknes, internationally famous meteorologist and author, holds the 1940 Symon's Gold Medal. Dr. Jorgen Holmboe, Meteorological Forecaster, and member of the Ellsworth Antarctic Expedition, was formerly with the University of Oslo. Such as these help add true universality to U.C.L.A.

Dr. Clenus Sponsler, having written almost forty pamphlets on protoplasm structures and allied subjects, continues to publish his most recent findings. He points out opportunities for experiment and study offered to students by the University's Botanical Gardens.

The Public Health Nursing course, begun on campus in 1937, takes on new responsibilities as Defense programs progress. Dr. Elinor Beebe emphasizes the need for a program academically sound, but also of practical value. She cites opportunities in State Health work offered graduates.

This past year has seen new oeveopments in every department of the university. Recent graduates from the Geology department are active in the search for strategic minerals such as mercury, manganese, tin, tungsten and oil, while present students are being fitted for similar work in the future. The French department proudly claimed Dr. Fernand Baldensperger, greatest living French literary critic. as visiting Lecturer for both fall and spring semesters. Newly appointed Research Associate to the University. is Dr. H. S. Jennings, who is conducting extensive research on life and habits of single-celled organisms.

Former Professor of Zoology and Director of Zoological laboratories at Johns Hopkins University, Dr. H. S. Jennings joined the U.C.L.A. faculty as Research Associate last fall semester. His present investigations are concerned with the study of the social behavior, heredity, and general biology of one-celled organisms. He is ably assisted in this work by Dr. T. T. Chen and Miss Pauline Opitz.

With the addition of an important collection of works from Burdach's Library, the German library this year reached a total of 20,000 volumes. A biography of Goethe's father forms Dr. Reinsch's research, while Drs. Arlt and Hand continue collection of material (to the extent of three volumes) in their study of popular songs used for religious purposes.

Settling down in the recently completed Life Science Building, replete with darkrooms and elevators, Drs. Knight Dunlap and Roy Dorcus found the situation psychologically ideal. Enthusiastically, they inaugurated a new psychology course to solve student problems and experimented with neurotic rats to aid in such research.

Drs. Edwin Lee and Jesse Bond stress greater cooperation with surrounding communities as part of plans for the Education Department's expansion and development. Of increasing importance is the necessity for careful selection of teachers with improvements to be established in the counseling system, and with a final "following up" of the new teachers.

Most famous living exponent of atonal music, Dr. Arnold Schoenberg has been an active member of the faculty since 1936. He feels that U.C.L.A. offers the academic rather than the conservatory approach to music-study, and looks forward to establishment of Master's Degree in the department very soon.

Seldom thought about, but of interesting content, are the activities of professors "on leave" during their allotted one or two semesters. Making an intensive study of Australian wage and price levels is Dr. Paul Dodd from the Economics Department. Geography's Dr. Burton Varney has spent the past year in research on phases of California climate. This past semester, Dr. A. E. Longueil has been continuing a study in the technique of English poetry; Mr. John Olmsted has conducted French historical research. Psychology's Dr. Frank Davis began work toward the completion of his book; Dr. C. G. Haines of Political Science is completing a history of the U. S. Supreme Court. A different leave is that of Political Science Professor Charles Titus who is now stationed at the San Francisco Presidio doing army work.

Dr. J. A. C. Grant this year revived the undergraduate seminars in Political Science for interested majors in the department. Especially interested in modern Latin America and its problems, Dr. M. Russell Fitzgibbon has written and is writing research upon this topic. The reflection of current events was strongly seen in the department's increased enrollment and prominence.

Director of Government Research Bureau. Dr. Frank Stewart is completing his history of United States municipal reforms and serving on the Los Angeles Charter Revision Committee. Interested in Far Eastern affairs, Dr. H. Arthur Steiner plans to travel in Europe and the Far East to carry out his research project dealing with those parts of the world and their problems.

Dr. Robert W. Hodgeson always has five or six projects going on at the same time, his experiments depending upon the climatical conditions. Head of the Subtropical Horticulture Division of the university, Dr. Hodgeson devotes his research to studying citrus fruits, avocados, Oriental persimmons, and loquots.

he Cilva Carca

Drs. Wendell Mason and William Whyburn work on special research problems and plan the featuring of a coordinated program between the Mathematics and Physics Departments. In line with defense programs, 1941 Summer Session offerings are to be concerned with Applied Mathematics and Engineering.

Despite European conditions, the French Department showed no decrease in enrollment. Several new conversational courses were inaugurated. Mediaeval French and historical grammar occupied the research of the late Chairman, Dr. Henry Brush, with the ever-busy Dr. Paul Perigord concentrating on a multitude of activities.

Building booms and modern sculpture meet in Dr. George Cox's group of special interests. All for the sake of art and education. Dr. Cox's architectural theories support tendencies toward use of local building materials, the materials dictating the style of the building.

With the rising tide of nation alism throughout the world, the people of the United States have become increasingly more conscious of their country and its place in the general scene. In the schools and universities, there has been a shift from the stressing of foreign cultures to that of American, both North and South. This subject has been so much in the public thought that a new curriculum dealing with Americanism has been added to the college of Letters and Science. Included in the collection of present courses are several new additions, which will form a comprehensive background in American culture and institutions suitable for students not wishing to specialize. Especially stressing these courses, are the English, History, and Political Science Departments of the University.

Dr. Samuel Herrick contents himself with practical problems in astronomy and spends most of his extra-curricular time with allied material.

To fill a vital need in United States National Defense, Metcorology courses in weather forecasting and analysis are conducted by Dr. Jacob Bjerknes in the Library basement. Established here only last semester, the weather school is expected to become a larger and more important part of the Physics Department as the need for competent observers and forecasters continues to grow. Also stressing points practical for defense work are Physics Department members Kaplan, Holmboe, and Fletcher.

Thomas Watson, Supervisor for the entire University Defense Program, cooperates with nearby aircraft industries in an attempt to raise training standards of student-employees. Because of nearness to the factories, U.C.L.A. is the only university able to offer this program. In coordination with this training plan, nine new courses in Mechanics Arts were added to the curricula.

Equally enthusiastic about their work, Mrs. Jane Stryker and Miss Gertrude Maloney stress the importance of the child's education before personality trends are set. They endeavor to train both the student-teachers and children attending the training school by not only the newest but the best of methods so that U.C.L.A. may continue to be looked to for future leadership as it has in the past.

Although departmental emphasis is upon American literature this year, England is not forgotten as Dr. Lily B. Campbell prepares a poetic history of England and works on ever-present Shakespearean problems. Dr. Sigurd Husvedt also continues his collection of ballads from England, Scotland and Wales.

Dr. Greta Gray cites the lower division increase in Home Economics courses as a result of the professional curriculum. Dr. Gray states that the majority of majors in this department are working for either their teaching credentials or positions in the rapidly developing field of Dietetics.

RETIMING PROFESSORS

On May 13, a banquet was held in Kerckhoff Hall in honor of the retiring faculty members. Sponsored by the Men's Faculty Club and the Los Angeles Chapter of the American Association of University Professors, the chief guest of honor was Dr. Ernest Carroll Moore, founder and builder of U.C.L.A. and former Vice-President and Provost of the University. Among the retiring members were Mrs. Eva M. Allen, who served in the Commercial Department for 27 years, and Dr. Herbert F. Allen, a member of the English Department for 22 years.

Dr. Hedrick introduced two of the retiring professors: Dr. Ernest Carroll Moore, Philosophy and Education, 32 years; Dr. Arthur Patch McKinlay, Latin, 22 years.

ALUMNI

M. Phillip Davis, Delta Tau Delta, class of '28, this June finished a three-year term as Alumni Association President. A prominent Los Angeles attorney, Mr. Davis held miscellaneous offices before taking over the presidency. Under his regime, the association has grown in both membership and prominence.

Mrs. Rowe Rader Baldwin fills the only women's position on the executive board of the association. Best known for her publicity work for U.C.L.A., as Vice-President, Mrs. Baldwin, Alpha Delta Pi class of '29, has served for one year.

Deming G. Maclise, as Business Manager of the University, automatically holds the position of Alumni Treasurer. Mr. Maclise, Alpha Delta Phi at Berkeley, class of '14, also serves as Board of Control Chairman and Council member.

With a roster of over 6,000, the U.C.L.A. Alumni Association continues to increase in membership, prominence, and activities. One coordinating factor is the unit of regional clubs which meet monthly or bi-monthly to discuss campus affairs. The Alumni office helps to give out the proper information on the University, preventing the danger of mistakes by newspapers and magazines. During the football season, the organization publishes a weekly containing the newest "choice bits" from coaches and players. Deserving Freshmen benefit by the $150 Alumni Scholarships which are awarded yearly to Los Angeles High School Graduates who would otherwise be unable to continue their education. and who lead in scholarship and extracurricular activities.

In June, the Spring Homecoming climaxes the year's activities. This is more academic in nature than the Fall event, with the program usually featuring a book review and six seminars by faculty members. There is a lighter side, however, which includes a special dinner, followed by a "U.C.L.A. in Review" variety show. With a concentrated Life-Membership Drive under way, and a capable and experienced group of officers in charge, the Alumni Association looks forward to becoming an even more important and necessary part of the University in the future.

John B. Jackson, Alumni Secretary, fills the only full-time position of the Association. Appointed in 1939, he runs the affairs of the group, subject to approval. He also edits the monthly "U.C.L.A. Magazine," with Jack Thompson, '31, as Associate Editor. Phi Delta Theta, class of '27, "Johnny's" name may be found in every annual under the listing of past recipients of the U.C.L.A. Honor Award, for there has never been a time when he was not active around campus.

Dr. and Mrs. Sproul and alumna Virginia Kiem greet guests at the Wm. Rogers Clark Memorial Library during Alumni Week.

Hocus pocus was the keynote of the Fall Homecoming show in Royce. The smiling faces of George Budke, Keith Cordrey and Milt Vallens seem to indicate that the ring which Dr. Giovinni is about to make disappear is not theirs.

A more serious side of alumni activity was the religious triologue held in Royce last fall. Stuart Ratliff and Gil Harrison await their speaking turns.

M. Phillip Davis, Alumni president, applauds, and Dr. Sproul smiles as another Charter Day speaker retires.

"Goodbye Forever," says Joe Alumni to his worldly possessions as Dr. Giovinni goes to work.

Old acquaintances and old bunions were in the limelight as alumni danced away Homecoming on the crowded Biltmore Hotel floor. The Alumni Assistation in stricture, a billness enterbride, even if it aid balance the guident the joan and give Johnny Jackson a bonu, because of the lucost of the association. Besides openiting Homesoming in the spring and fall the Association offer, the alumnicum outstanding functions as the Alumni Dance in the fall, and the Chaiter Day banquet at the Bitmore Hotel at which time the alums rule elected with claimscale nearest and discuss past times.

CLASSES

John Vrba, Senior Class President, has been seen a lot, heard a lot, and done even more. Ever full of good spirits as 1940 Yell King, he led the screaming, cheering rooters through the most exciting and successful football season in the history of the school. Another rung in his ladder of success was his Chairmanship of the California Arrangements Committee, under which impressive title, he is especially remembered for his presentation of All-U Sings and "Royce Hall Tonight." This past year brought the senior presidency, and, in April, Phi Beta Kappa. Disclosed future plans tell of a naval course in Chicago after graduation. What Johnny Vrba will do to Chicago, only the future can tell. In addition to "vice-presidenting" all Senior Class activities, Bee Brown divided her otherwise spare time between the causes of Mortar Board, Guidon, Southern Campus, and A.W.S.

Dorothy Lee Belden, Secretary, when not in the midst of fulfilling her secretarial duties, could always be found doing something that had to be taken care of for A.W.S., Homecoming, or Y.W.C.A.

When Dick Preston left campus soon after his election, Harvey Gallinger stepped into his shoes as Treasurer of the class. "Harv" devoted his time to juggling complicated Senior finances.

After three years of study and stooging, the Seniors decided to lean back and enjoy the fourth. Accordingly, they began their social year with a Thanksgiving Eve Turkey Trot, featuring the double attractions of a prize gobbler and a popular orchestra. Taking the song, "June in January" in a most literal fashion, the front lawn of Kerckhoff was cluttered up with Seniors upon the occasion of their annual picnic. The real climax of the year, however, was the traditional Senior Week, beginning the last day of finals. The Alumni Association's "Year in Review," an informal Draft Party, and an all-day outing at Lake Enchanto started off the beginning of the end. The year ended socially with soft music and dim lights as the Seniors bid farewell to U.C.L.A. at the Aloha Ball on graduation night. Academically, the end came with commencement exercises, held for the first time in the recently-completed University Open Air Theater.

JACKIE ROBINSON-The younger half of the "Goal Dust Twins", Jackie Robinson, the Pasadena flash, set out to reach new heights of football fame during his last year of varsity competition, but was injured in the Texas A. & M. game and didn't get back into form until he ran through Washington State. Starting slowly in basketball season, Robinson ended the year as high point man of the conference. He checked out of school to play professional basketball, and broke the heart of track coach Harry Trotter, who had counted on him for the broadiump.

THE BECKLER AND HANK SHATFORD-These two sleek sports are the Daily Bruin sport page. Lovers of all things athletic, they get most of their exercise beating their way to the tote machines at Santa Anita, spend sleepless nights setting headlines in the printshop, spend hours writing their columns. Spend little else. Faced with the bleekest sports seasons that U.C.L.A. has seen in years, the boys found consolation in the thought that our teams were building characters.

Because of his unobtrusiveness. Tom is often underestimated by those who do not know him well. The secret of his success is his rare ability to get other people to work for him, and cheerfully at that. Like all other greats, he has his human weaknesses. JEAN MACKENZIE-Tri-Delt prexy Jean MacKenzie manians her house standard in the U.D.S., long the stronghold of the activity-loving D.D.D.'s. She played the controversial role of "Topsy" in the controversial performance of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" (sho' nuff) without effort, with elan. A natural for the part. Talented, vivacious Mac is called "Beetle" by her friends, almost anything by Vrba, and loves it. She sings, too. Her voice tests better for quantity than quality, but she can remember all the words, and that's what counts in the U.D.S. She is a history major, knocks off terrific grades, and has few if any inhibitions.

Kerckhoff Caesar is potentate politico Jim Devere, student body prez and Phi Delt manna from heaven. BILLIE MAE THOMAS-Billie Mae's rise to the vice-presidency of the A.S.U.C.L.A. may have been an accident but it could well serve as a four year model for aspiring female politicos. As the pride of Hershey hall, she won the hearts of the dormitories, then she pledged Kappa in her junior year, and rode into office with support from all sides. Once in power she did an excellent job as official hostess of the student body, and as a student council member. Smooth, conservative, and conscientious, B.M.T. takes no chances. Typical is her knocking at Devere's door, asking "Jim, are you decent?" frightening Devere into a spasm.

VIRGINIA SCHMISSRAUTER—"Boss" Schmissrauter, president of Phrateres, claims control over a bloc of eight hundred votes which she rules with an iron hand. A dimpled economics major from San Pedro, she is president of Alpha Chi Delta and is on the senior council. A typical political leader, Virginia snaps orders to her henchwomen from the corner of her mouth, gestures curtly, would smoke a cigar if she were a man. In spite of Virginia's nonorg power, her sister pledged Alpha Gamma Delta in her freshman year, leaving the Schmissrauter empire without an heiress.

He spends a great part of the day giving the soft answer that turneth away wrath to crack-pots, red-hots, and irate faculty members, brushes his long locks over the vanishing frontier of his forchead, and strains the problems of the world and the campus through the pounding keys of his Underwood. Quiet-spoken, he is a bastion of the liberal bloc on the council, made Phi Beta Kappa, takes his job seriously, and finds little time for the bright lights and the girlies.

IGNACIO QUIJADA—"Is this the face that launched a thousand ships?" Well, not exactly, but it has launched Bruin shells for four years. And done more than launched Bruin snells for four years. And done more than launch them at that. Four year crewman "Iggy" Quijada loves the sport so much that he even sleeps in the boathouse. Neckdeep in activities, "Iggy" seems never to have made an enemy, which is in itself quite a record. He is a member of the Organization Control Board, Blue Key, Blue C, and majors in zoology.

The Junior Class officers, like the entire class, are best remembered for the Prom. Each one as enthusiastic and ambitious as the next, the executive reins were in the hands of a perfect combination. Jerry McClellan was President, Alva Lloyd, Vice-President, Mary Moore, Secretary, and Hitoshi Yonomura, Treasurer,

When the year began, the Junior Class members had an idea in the back of their heads. The council talked, met, ate. and talked: finally decided to have a Junior Prom. Elaborate planning began, and when the long-awaited March 28 and 29 arrived, the first U.C.L.A. Junior Prom was held. Friday evening, in his first West Coast appearance, Glenn Miller reigned in "Kerckhoff Castle." Adding to the evening's variety were the rhumba rhythms of Don Ricardo. Saturday night, a capacity audience packed Royce Hall to enjoy the amazing Junior Jubilee, "Of All Things." From there, the path led onward to the Finale, the fraternity and sorority open houses. Small in comparison, but not to be forgotten, was the introduction at the start of the Football Season of "42" a real Bruin, who appeared as Class Mascot at every game. When the year ended, the Junior Class members had an ache in the back of their heads, but all realized that their year had been one of the biggest and best.

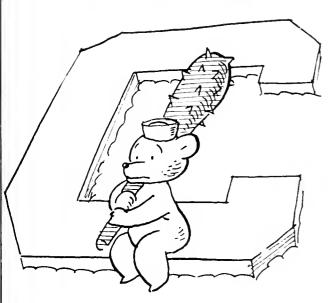

The Sophomore officers fulfilled the duties of their respective offices and spent most of their time in various and sundry activities, curricular and otherwise. Giving their best for the "class of '43" were President Dagget, standing, and Vice-president Eleanor Thomas, right, Joan Hollister did the secretarial honors and Bill Farrar kept the books.

.. and now they're Sopho

And now they are sophomores! By this time they know how to bull on quizzes, how to apple-polish the teachers, and how to cut to go to the beach. But they also know that they have to study to stay here and enjoy the fun. However, this year their age and experience was of no avail when they took a shellac-ing at the hands of the Frosh in the annual Brawl. Football season found them loyally guarding the big "C" on the hill. For a dash of the social side of life, they tried a few exchange council dinners and collaborated with the Frosh on a successful barn dance. They were in their element with their blue-jeans, corncobs, and straw hats.

Like all class officers the Freshmen made campaign promises of "big things" for activities, but unlike most, these promises were fulfilled. President Max Willardson headed the group with the able assistance of vice-president Martha Darbyshire who was chairman of various committees. Helen Haitbrink as secretary not only handled correspondence but also the telephone as she contacted members of the class, while Bill Cain, treasurer, was constantly being loaded down with contributions for the well-stocked treasury.

Held early in the spring and establishing many new traditions for future classes to renew, Freshman Week was the foremost activity of the Class of '44. Striving to unite its members and to introduce them to U.C.L.A. life, the group organized a special All-University Sing, edited a Frosh copy of the Daily Bruin, promoted a stag for Freshman men, a dance in the Kerckhoff Hall lounge, and closed the activities with a skating party for its members. The Freshman were victorious in the annual Frosh-Soph Brawl and, when the outcome of that massacre had been forgiven, they united with their elders to present the Frosh-Sophomore Barn Dance. Other activities undertaken by the class were the Freshman Barbecue and exchange dinners.

ACADEMIC LIFE

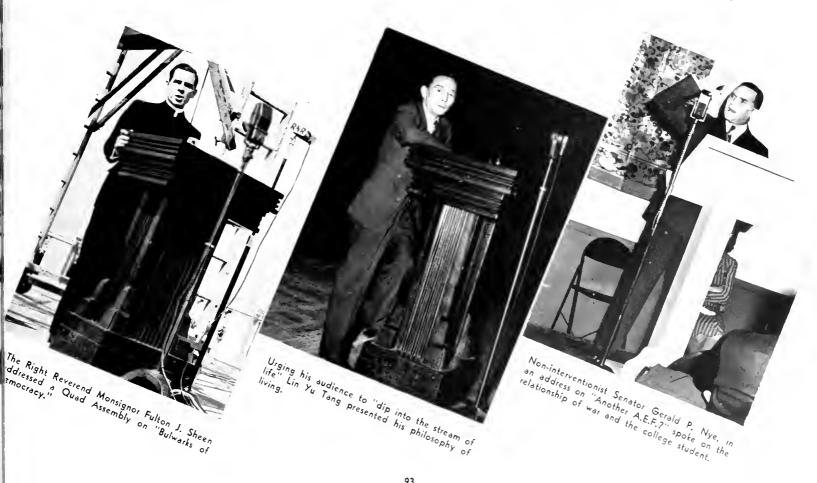

Ten and eleven o'clocks were dismissed as over half the student body filled the Quad to hear President Sproul speak on the part the University was to play in the National Defense program.

Speakena

Throughout the year, students are given an opportunity to hear leading figures in political, educational, religious, and other fields, through lectures given in Royce Hall Auditorium. For very special occasions, all ten and eleven o'clock classes are dismissed and the assemblies are held in the quad. Among those presented during the current year were: Isolationist Phillip La Follette who spoke on the role of America's youth in the United States of tomorrow: Julean Arnold, commercial attache in China and Japan for forty years, who discussed "What interest has America in Far Eastern problems?": the noted painter Thomas Benton who presented his views on "American Art"; Czechoslovakian educator, historian, and diplomat Dr. Vlastimal Kybal, who spoke on "Thomas Masaryk and Democracy"; world-famed English poet Alfred Noyes who took his stand in the upholding of traditionalism in literature. Group addresses included a debate on Peace, and a Religious Trialogue discussion.

U.C.L.A.'s favorite orator, President Robert Gordon Sproul welcomes Freshmen and new students to the University at the first All-U Assembly of the year.

Delivering the principal Charter Week address, Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, President of Stanford University, spoke in Royce Hall auditorium on "Our Pacific Destiny."

Flanked by Dr. Wilbur of Stanford and Mr. Davis, president of the Alumni Association, Dr. Sproul graciously receives alumni and friends at the Charter Day Banquet.

Charles

Marking the 73rd anniversary of the University of California and the 50th anniversary of Stanford University, students, faculty, and alumni of both colleges participated in a joint celebration of Charter Week from March 23 to 30. The University Explorer radio program introduced the activities with a discussion of "The University and National Defense" on the 23rd. Monday morning, all classes were dismissed as the faculty members marched in traditional procession to Royce auditorium where special Charter Day ceremonies were held with Stanford President Ray Lyman Wilbur as the principal speaker. Monday evening, alumni of both universities gathered at the Biltmore Bowl, M. Philip Davis, U.C.L.A. Alumni Association President, presiding. Igor Gorin presented a concert of Russian and Italian songs in the Concert Series' contribution to the week on Tuesday evening. Wednesday was highlighted by the annual Faculty Research Lecture, delivered by Dr. Arnold Schoenberg on "Composition with Twelve Tones," a discussion of his controversial musical scale treatments. The Friday afternoon organ recital featured Dr. Warren Allen of Stanford as guest artist. With similar special exercises being held at the Berkeley, Davis, San Francisco, Mt. Hamilton, La Jolla, and Riverside campuses of the University, 1941 Charter Week celebration was truly typical of the largest university in the United States.

The University of California, chartered in 1855 as California College, dates back to the gold rush of '49 when farsighted gold-rushers included provisions for its establishment in the Californian Constitution. The years that have elapsed since that time have seen the University rise from a small institution with few buildings to one of the largest co-educational centers in the world. Today, more than 25,000 graduate and undergraduate students benefit from the advantages the University has to offer. The hub of this far-flung educational system is Berkeley, whence comes almost all official action for the entire organization. The original College of Letters and Science, as well as twelve other colleges and schools are located on the northern campus. Here, also, are situated the main library, museums, business offices and endowments of the University, while in San Francisco, the University maintains the medical school, the College of Dentistry, and the California College of Pharmacy.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

As President of the student body, Jim Devere came through a year of board and committee meetings with all the ease of a veteran politician. His duties included presiding over the council, representing the university on other campuses, and acting as host for campus functions. He will probably tell you that the most fun he had from the office was planning the Pacific States presidents Association convention. As president of that Association Jim planned the convention for the week-end of May in Catalina. Round tables on student government, a dinner dance, and of course the boat trip over and back made the week-end a success. Phi Delt Jim made this year a memorable one for efficient leadership and good policies, despite the fact that he had to grapple with the unique problems of the draft and its subsequent uncertainties.

Vice-Prexy

Billie Mae Thomas got the social activities of U.C.L.A. down to a fine point of organization and established several new and beneficial projects. The Bruin Host parties for incoming freshmen were a brainstorm that worked so well that next year their scope will be greatly enlarged. Orchestras took the place of recording systems at All-U Dances much to the delight of those who attended the affairs. Kappa Billie Mae proved herself to be a charming and winsome hostess for all official functions, without sacrificing efficiency and originality in the least.

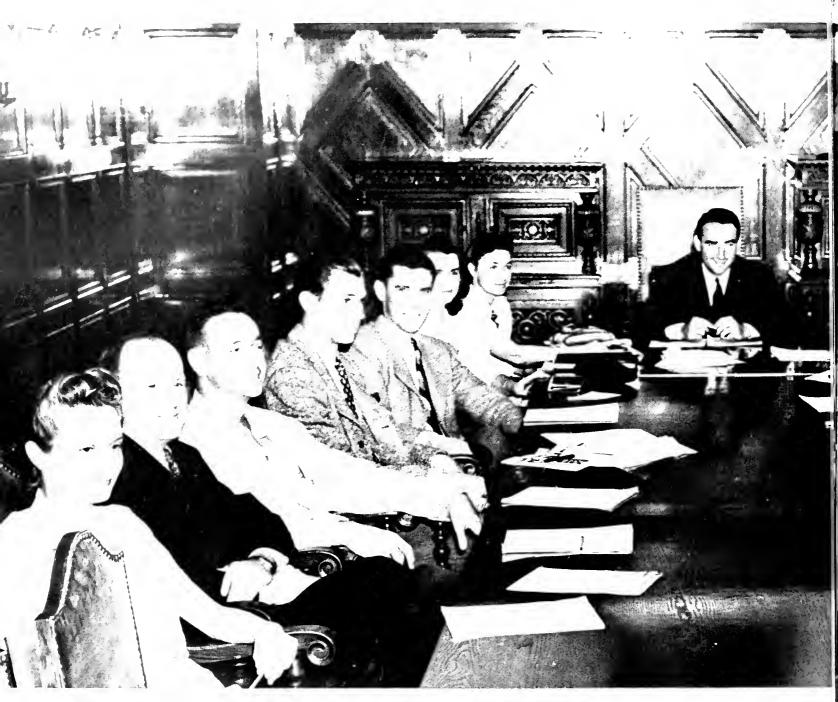

Known in the days past as "Baseball Jim", "Deever" as he is often called, is now famous for his big, friendly "Hello".

Very popular and equally as charming, Billie Mae was an excellent team-mate and made the Devere-Thomas combine one of the best yet.

President Devere allows a brief respite from the discussion of pressing problems. Members are Ayleen Searl, John Jackson, Bill Kuehne, Carl McBain, Ray Gillette, Billie Mae Thomas, Marty Grim, Jim Devere, Dean Miller, Bruce Cassiday, Ruth Nelson, Bill Irvin, Wolfe Gilbert, Bill Ackerman, and Harriet Stacy.

Under the fair and open-minded attitude of A.S.U.C. President Jim Devere, all the members of the council took an active part in the semi-monthly meetings of the group, and attained notable achievements in unity. tradition, and service. Establishing a new social program, the Bruin Host Plan, and a Social Service Council, as well as answering the long-felt needs in the opening of the bottleneck in front of the library were a few of the projects instituted by the Council. The broad knowledge of Wolfe Gilbert, O.C.B. Chairman: the clear thinking of Bill Irvin, Forensics Board head: and the grand sense of humor displayed by Carl McBain, made council duties stimulating experience for faculty members Dean Earl J. Miller, and Graduate Manager Bill Ackerman, who are official backers for U.C.L.A. policies. The Council realized that they should place their emphasis on responsibilities, not rights: on duties, not privileges and carried out the program with excellent results.

The Organizations Control Board completed a successful year in its capacity of regulatory and advisory functions. In addition to its past duties of providing tutors and arranging transportation for students, the O.C.B. maintained files of extra-curricular activities. By mid-terms of the second semester Gilbert was able to report that unauthorized organizations on campus had ceased using the name of the Associated Students. Career service opportunities were opened for O.C.B. personnel when Gilbert appointed three co-ordinators, Joe Luder, Jim Rose and Phyliss Worth. Positions created were Head of Elections, Representative of Interfraternity, and a special Service Director. All were formed in an effort to pave the road to broader co-ordination.

What a man that Luder is! Had so much work to do that one secretary was not enough.

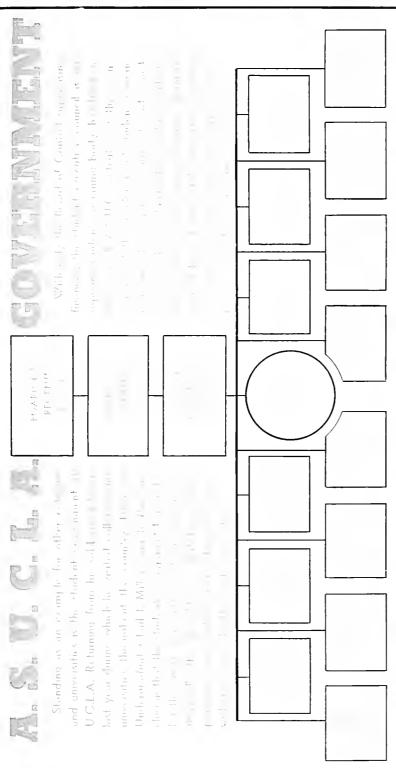

Joe, Margaret, and Jackie complete some O.C.B. business on social events.

Members of the Org Board gathered around for a business session. Awaiting proceedings are seated: John Bohn, Betty Beal, Alice Wheaton, Bill Coston, Chairman Gilbert, Bob Alshuler, and Barbara Chapman. Standing are Jack Hock, Wally Kindel, Jim Rose, Stan Cerro, Joe Luder, Al Elmer, Bob Weil, Andy Smith, Travers Hilson, Pat Darby, and Georgie Randle.

Members of the Board of Control had frequent meetings to discuss the financial situation of the A.S.U.C. This is pictorial proof that not all meetings were work and no play. From left to right are Jim Devere, Deming Maclise, Tom Freear, Marty Grim, Billie Mae Thomas, Dean Helen M. Laughlin, John Jackson and Bill Ackerman. Dean Earl J. Miller was not present. Mr. Maclise is chairman of the board

Keeping the million-dollar Associated Students corporation on a sound financial basis is the job of the Board of Control. Acting on the recommendation of the Student Council, the Board passes on budgets, contracts, and appropriations. Business Manager Deming G. Maclise is chairman of the Board, and in addition to Graduate Manager Bill Ackerman, who is an ex-officio member, there are six other members of this group to handle a big job. Jim Devere, Billie Mae Thomas, and Tom Freear were the three student members for this year, with John Jackson as the alumni representative. In addition to the chairman were Dean Helen M. Laughlin and Dean of Undergraduates Earl J. Miller. The Board is an eight year old administrative body, having replaced the old Student Finance Committee in 1933.

In 1930, Deming Maclise came to U.C.L.A. to take the position which he still holds, that of Business Manager of the University. Mr. Maclise directly controls the financial arrangements of the A.S.U.C. and it is largely due to his business ability that the financial standing of the A.S.U.C. has been so greatly improved.

The Associated Students is a voluntary organization operating under the supervision of the Board of Regents. It is a self-governing body which controls the bookstore, cafe, and all student activities including dramatics, publications, and athletics. Graduate Manager William C. Ackerman heads the Associated Students and under his jurisdiction are fourteen distinct departments. Ackerman is assisted in his work by specialists in various fields and foremost among these is A. J. Sturzenegger, Assistant Graquate Manager. Deming G. Maclise, Business manager of the University, is the treasurer of the Associated Students and works in cooperation with Ackerman in regard to contracts and finances. This past year, the organization has shown a satisfactory profit and under Bill Ackerman's guidance the A.S.U.C. has become a well-operated organization.

UCLA's first Crew Queen, "Marty" Grimm is the attractive secretary of Bill Ackerman. A graduate of the university, "Marty" was prominent in student affairs. She also serves as secretary for the Student Council and the Board of Control.

All the activity problems of the Associated Students come to Bill Ackerman, Graduate Manager of the A.S.U.C.L.A. A million dollar organization, the A.S.U.C.L.A. with its fourteen departments is the only division of student activity which deals with the administration, the students, and the public. Ackerman, who has been with the University since 1933, is the coach of the tennis team which has won seven championships. Since he became coach of the tennis team, Ackerman has become a representative on the National Intercollegiate Championship Tennis Board.

Liens, agreements, athletic budgets, and traveling expenses for all major and minor sports are only a few of the affairs which come under the jurisdiction of A. J. Sturzenegger. "Sturzy," who has been with the A.S.U.C. since the campus moved to Westwood, is interested in all University activities, particularly sports. A graduate of the University of Nebraska and the Harvard Law School, Mr. Sturzenegger is the assistant to the graduate manager.

A one-time member of the Southern Campus Editorial Staff, Lila Blackburn is now Sturzy's Chief Assistant. Besides keeping track of her boss, Lila handles the athletic awards for successful Bruin athletes.

A.S.U.C.

Under the Ackerman magic wand, A.S.U.C. executives hit a new high in efficiency during the year. Director of Athletics Bill Spaulding was an effective behind-thescenes coordinator. T. D. Stanford made an art of purchasing at the lowest cost. Bob Reeder got the feel of the easy chair occupied by Joe Osherenko as director of publications. Stan Reed handed out a smile with each check. J. H. Lennox ruled the accounting office with a deft hand. Mrs. Fern D. Kelley and Ralph Stillwell put quality before all in the Co-op and Students' Store. Harry Morris took charge of all tickets, and Ben Person, athletic publicity director, sold most of them. Joe Felker, warehouse manager, and G .W. Buckingham, custodian, round out the list.

In his dual position of Auditor and Purchasing Agent for the A.S.U.C.L.A., T. D. Stanford handles all the general purchasing for departments and organizations. As purchasing agent, Stanford deals with everything from football supplies to food, and as auditor he checks and verifies all the transactions of the A.S.U.C.L.A.

Joe Lennox, the A.S.U.C.L.A. Chief Accountant, supervises and controls the expenditures of the A.S.U.C.L.A. budget. Lennox came here last year, and foremost among his accomplishments is the abolishing of the sales tax in the Cafeteria and Coffee Shop, which saves each person at least fifty cents a year, and the A.S.U.C.L.A. a total of $3600 per year.

Guy W. Buckingham, more popularly known as "Buck" is Chief Custodian of Kerckhoff Hall. Buck has been with the University for six years and besides scheduling all the dinners, parties, and banquets in Kerchoff, Buck also supervises the work of the athletes who are assigned for duty in Kerckhoff.

J. W. Felker manages the A.S.U.C.L.A. warehouse and checks all merchandise for those "tremendous commercial concerns" housed in Kerchoff. Felker informs us that 12 tons of sugar and 1½ tons of salt were used this year. Moreover, 200,000 Blue Books went through his department, as further proof that the U.C.L.A. student does work once in a while!

Mrs. Fern Kelly, efficient Manager of the U.C.L.A. Cafeteria and Coffee Shop, sees to the daily feeding of some 4,500 persons. Strictly a non-profit organization, the Co-op is definitely the most popular student rendezvous on campus.

H. J. Dallinger, official U.C.L.A. photographer, was claimed by the army in March after having served the University three years. Herb's job consisted primarily of covering athletic and social events from a photographer's angle. Bob Pritchard was appointed to fill Herb's place during his absence.

Ben Person, Director of the Athletic News Bureau, was at one time editor of the Grizzly, the precedessor of the Daily Bruin. Ben is the man who sees that U.C.L.A.'s athletic events receive proper nation-wide publicity, and by giving out advance information, he indirectly assures a full Coliseum.

Ralph Stilwell, jovial manager of the University Book Store, supplies the undergraduate with everything from text books to candy bars. Ralph's forte is bargains de luxe and his hobbies are photography and baseball games.

All tickets for both social and academic functions at U.C.L.A. are under the immediate supervision of Harry Morris, Manager of the A.S.U.C.L.A. Ticket Department. Morris supervises the sale of tickets to both the student and the public for all U.C.L.A. events.

Stanley Reel, A.S.U.C. cashier, is beloved by all Kerckhoff kiddies as the man with the checks come the first and sixteenth of every month. He is the man with all the answers on matters of finance.

New to the ranks of the department managers is Robert Reeder, who shouldered the woes of the director of publications' post in June. Reeder has been in newspaper work since his graduation three years ago

PUBLICATIONS

In 1938 Bob Reeder graduated from U.C.L.A. Today he returns to take over the office of Director of Publications. In the meantime he has been active in the newspaper world.

The new, the old and the permanent of the publications' office get together as Bob Reeder, Alice Tilden and Joe Osherenko huddle after the latter's testimonial dinner.

Student publication greats Freear, Hauptli, and Cassiday help celebrate with Joe Osherenko at the latter's testimonial dinner.

After an almost endless series of interviews and eliminations, a candidate finally was selected to replace Joe Osherenko as Director of Publications. Joe threatened to leave in January, finally departed in June, and Bob Reeder, a former managing editor of the Daily Bruin, assumed the post. Married to the former Jerry Humason, who also called the Daily Bruin office her home, Reeder's most important qualifications for the job seemed to be a 3-A classification in the draft. Bob thus assumed the task of directing such readily perused publications as the Southern Campus, Daily Bruin, Goal Post, W.A.A. and A.W.S. handbooks and the perennial Student Handbook, functions handled so capable by Osherenko for a decade. Stepping into two very large shoes, Reeder now faces the task of maintaining the financial level set by the wizardry of Osherenko plus acting as an editorial and technical advisor for publications. Four years in newspaper work give him what the position takes.

'Way back in 1930 when the paths across the grass were just beginning to show, a little man by the name of Joe Osherenko came along. Joe knew all sorts of things about copy, printing, advertising, and publications in general. Coincidentally, there was a crying need for an office to integrate University student publications. The logical combination was Joe plus the real need to equal the Publications Office with Joe as the Director of Publications. In these "way back when" days Joe pledged that the policy of the office would be "to tie the many interests and activities of the university together to make this an interesting community." Aside from supervising and coordinating A.S.U.C.L.A. publications, it has been the duty of the office to plan and check the various financial budgets. To assist him, Joe has been fortunate in having Alice Tilden, better known as "Tillie", to hold down the fort in the front office. Aside from knitting sweaters and dispensing good humor she is kept busy with such things as page contracts, balancing the books, and advertising. After a decade of service to the University Joe began to recognize a conflict between his Kerckhoff duties and his own advertising agency. His resignation became effective in January of this year.

After serving the University for over a decade Joe Osherenko had to resign his office as Director of Publications because of the pressing duties of his own advertising agency. In the last few years his visits have been rather infrequent, but when he came things hummed. Has done a lot in developing that office from its infancy and in making it serve an important function.

More than once the Pub Board gathered for stormy sessions but here is becalmed. Sitting are Barbara Bettin, Jack Hauptli, Claire Cox, Mr. Osherenko, Wolfe Gilbert, Tom Freear, and Steve Melnyk. Standing: Bruce Cassiday, Ray Rosecrans, Harvey Gilmer, and Mr. Reeder.

EDITOR

Despite the distraction of a predominately female staff, Steve Melnyk wasn't too proud to pitch in with the pasting and other practical phases of yearbook construction. Working on an average of twenty-four hours per day, Stephen Q. prodded his staff to greater heights. He refused to be stymied by an unprolific photography department. Instead of taking a holiday he took Christmas vacation to launch his pet brain child—the all-campus yearbook plan which resulted in the largest turnout in the history of the University in the special election held in January. Forceful in a quiet sort of way, he put his political finger here and there and generally influenced people with his "huba huba" and "crud and stuff."

ART EDITOR

Introducing Sir Albert Kaelin, artiste extraordinaire. A product of the Art Department he abounds in ideas ranging from the sublime to the ridiculous. The super-layouts, all the cartoons, spots and hand lettering are his doing. Kept the office busy dodging his extra corny jokes. Is plum full of personality and fun.

PHOTOGRAPHER

Head photographer, Keith Covey took over the darkroom in his sophomore year. Socialite Covey gets free bids to all the biggest affairs but dislikes working in white tie and tails. Has most fun working on the side-lines at the big games. Democratic man, Covey shoots only his very best friends.

The year 1940-41 brought innovations in many forms; the Kaelin touch in the layouts, full color photos of the campus by nationally famous Charles Kerlee, cartoons by Walt Disney, and a real mystery in unprecedented amounts of lost copy.

We have reorganized the book to include the formerly segregated fraternity and sorority members under University Men and University Women respectively. We have covered more non-org affairs than ever before. Color is used generously throughout the book and we have endeavored to make the book informative by including all types of statistics. Besides improvements in the book, the year saw the first Southern Campus float entered in the Homecoming Parade and the addition of a director emeritus in the person of the Yogi. Also worthy of mention was the influx of worms in the form of propaganda posters for the all-campus yearbook campaign.

ASSOCIATE EDITOR

A yearbooker from way back, Barbara Bettin attained the Associate Editorship via the Photo-librarian and Organization Editor route. Besides helping with make-up and mounting, "Barks" scheduled most of the pictures and managed to round up the necessary campus big shots. In addition to being a Poli-Sci major, she is a member of the Publications Board and Alpha Chi Alpha, After graduation in June, the business world is Barbara's chief objective.

ASSISTANT EDITORS

A Gamma Phi socialite, Betty Beal bided her time between the house, her copy duties, and Education 330. Has many accomplishments, a main one being a Delt pin. Also spent her time on O.C.B. and A.W.S. Council. Second semester whirlwind, Maric Dashiell stepped into the position vacated by Mary Frances Rickershauser to take over the job of Engravings Editor. Wears the pin of A Chi O, and on the sport side, wields a mighty golf club.

Organizations editor, Marcella Sutton was one of those rare persons who met deadlines. Cool and efficient, Marcella pasted pictures and filed senior data cards, wrote a little copy and managed some extra time for her A.W.S. Council activities.

With blackouts in vogue, the windows of the inner office, the editor's sanctum sanctorum, were screened with cardboard and admission to use the new pencil sharpener was granted only to a chosen few. These were sometimes proffered a pastel colored candy wafer from the editor's private collection. Allergic to Kaelin's putrid puns and corny crooning, the staff soon took a Sedlitz. What paper was left after the staff wrote their term papers and law briefs eventually afforded opportunities for tit-tat-toe. The family of staff members had its share of eccentricities. We will remember Steve for his fancy footwear; Barbara for her cigarette chain; Kaelin for his missing triangles; Covey for his wide assortment of alibis; Betty Beal for her fluttering; Marie for her shapely personality; Bee Brown for her grade point average; Dorothy for her jiu jitsu; Gordie for his smoothness; Helen for her plugging; Simpson for woman trouble; and Beverly for her quizzical eyebrows. Looking back on the dried up paste, the circa 1927 radio, the proof that never came back and the general bedlam, the staff agrees that a delightful time was had by all.

Efficient and personable, Marge Frank did a fine job as assistant copy editor. Good executive material.

Senior V-P, See Brown, spent part-time on the University Women's sec-

With a good crew of assistants, Dorothy Fleischmann edited the Activity

Gordon Hewson deserted the Sports staff to edit the University Men's section.

Efficiency expert Helen Zellner worked on the book far into the night even after her Social Section was completed.

Russ Simpson, track man and Sports editor, was busy with 440 and copy records.

Term papers and Academic section kept Beverly Vener busy with copy and more copy.

The duty of the Academic Staff was to look up data on faculty members whose life is no longer a closed book. Compiling material are Isabel Moore, Beverly Vener, Catheryn Mastopietro and Peggy Palmer.

Under the leadership of Marcella Sutton, the Organizations staff smiled forth to complete their work during the Easter holidays. Aiding Marcella were such Southern Campus notables are Margaret Karl, Carol Lubic, Bill Dettmar, and Mary Brooks.

Under the outstanding leadership of Russell Simpson, Sports Editor, the staff made quick work of all major and minor sports copy. Bruin men Jim Vento and John Beckler (not pictured) helped Phil Baker and Russ while heckler Travers Hilson wrote tennis copy.

Bob Grim as lab man of the darkroom often kept the night watch, working tirclessly.

Busily snapping pictures during the past year were staff photographers Keith Covey (top) and Forrester Mashbir (left). Joining the staff only a few weeks before finals Johnny Closs helped clean up loose ends.

Often working far into the night, the editorial staff needed the impetus offered by Waldo Edmunds. Editor of the first All-American Southern Campus and now service man for Mission Engravers.

SOUTHERN CAMPUS

MANAGER

A glutton for work is this little man with the smiling face and the crew haircut. Was manager of the Southern Campus in 1940. Left such a good record that he bobbed up in the same position again this year. By this time he had had lots of good experience in worrying about sales promotion schemes and how many books can be sold. Was not quite busy enough so, as chairman of Homecoming, he staged a successful celebration. In mid-winter he took time out to break an ankle skiing. On the social side of the ledger he adds the title of S.A.E. president. All this goes to prove that Mrs. Freear's boy Tom made good in college.

Here is Jane Wallerstodt surrounded by other members of the live wire sales staff. They accomplished the unexpected by selling out completely before finals.

Jerry McClelland took care of arrangements for organization pages.

Joe Jacobucci Sales Manager

Anne Brown Sales Manager Rex May Sales Manager Doug Christensen

Publicity Manager

Even though the managerial staff oid not start its sales campaign until later in the season than usual they had a beautiful head start because Tom Freear, the Manager, having held the same position the previous year, knew all the ropes. Then, too, Mary Jo Funk, the Associate Manager, was an old hand at the work and was also very capable. Thus it can be seen why the staff even with a late start, had one of the best sales years. In fact, sales were kept open during finals because the book had come so close to being a sellout that it seemed worthwhile. And as the Publications Office suspected the sales reached the maximum.

Frances Wright was in charge of supervising office workers.

Frank Dana fell heir to the job of soliciting and arranging advertising.

Lorraine Hofmann handled senior reservations which is always a big task.

Associate Manager is Mary Jo Funk's official title. The fact that she was the main-stay of the office is summed up in Tom Freear's words, "My God, my country, and Jo Funk. Is one good example that brains and beauty do combine. Brings fame and sunshine to the Gamma Phi house and is a Mortar Board member.

With Anne Brown showing them the way, the sales staff went forward to new heights to make this year's book a complete sellout. Off with a slow start, the staff finally came around during the last few days of sales to keep Alice Tilden in the Publications office overly busy with reservations and final payments.

Mary Jo Funk, Associate Manager, carried the main burden of the sales staff on her shoulders. With the aid of Jane Wallerstedt, Mary Jo handled the records of the sales staff.

EDITOR

Jack Hauptli will probably go down in Bruin history as one of its best editors. One of his important accomplishments was a general cleaning up of the editorial page. Showed his intestinal fortitude in presenting and sticking by a strict non-interventionist attitude. As Chairman of the Publications Board he had a voice in the Student Council. All the work and responsibility was a challenge to him to keep his grades up and the end reward was a Phi Bete key.

EDITOR

As a result of the Bruin shakeup Bruce Cassiday was given the opportunity as first semester Bruin Editor. Was kept busy taking orders and giving orders. Had a chair on the Student Council as the university representative at large. Leads a lazy life since his retirement as editor. Takes a few units here and there and now heads the Men's Page as creator of buffonery. Is a Theta Chi bid for immortality and a member of the Rally reserves

ASSOCIATE EDITOR

Diminutive Claire Cox, a veteran of three years in publications' work, was the selection to fill the new position of associate editor created by the Student Council. From her busy desk came the Bruin feature page and helpful instruction for freshmen.

The Daily Bruin office with its clatter of dilapidated typewriters, rattling teletype machines, and shouting staff members, is the only place where newspaper training is offered at U.C.L.A. Beneath its informal exterior, the Bruin strives to present unbiased campus news, and to keep Bruins briefly informed upon general world news. An internal reorganization of the office resulted in an Associate Editor taking over the combined positions of Feature and Assistant Editors. The staff in the spring semester, functioning under the new system, consisted of Editor Jack Hauptli, Associate Editor Claire Cox, Managing Editor, Malcolm Steinlauf, and Manager, Ray Rosecrans. Bruce Cassiday also did excellent work as Editor for the first semester, and aided Lenny Safir and John Henderson in turning out a completely screwball Men's Page. The always popular "Grins and Growls" column, and Bob Barsky's "Two Bits Worth" were other features which helped make the Bruin a particularly interesting publication. Harriet Luke directed Women's Page activity for two semesters to put the finishing touch to a paper which functioned more truly than ever before as a voice of U.C.L.A.'s students.

MANAGING EDITOR

Conscientious, capable Mac Steinlauf was the boss of the front page as managing editor during the second semester. The toughest job on the Daily Bruin keeps the managing editor on call eighteen hours a day. He lays out the page, assigns the stories, disciplines the staff. His is the ultimate responsibility for errors and omissions and over his desk come the plaints of irate publicity chairmen, student body officers, and faculty members. Steinlauf took the beating, gained weight despite it, was named next year's editor as the result of his good work.

SPORTS EDITORS

Jerry Levie came into his inheritance as sports editor during the fall semester, only to have bad dreams come true as the football team settled into a solid losing streak. Jerry stayed faithful to the end of the season though, loyally predicting victory each Friday and excusing defeat on Monday. Until the last he insisted that Stanford couldn't keep winning and that fortune would favor the Bruins.

Hank "Basil" Shatford gained his psuedonym for his simply ripping stories on the jolly old sport of cricket. When not bowling wickets or beating the Santa Anita gee-gees, Hank was sports editor during the second semester and turned out some brilliant pages. His column "Sport Slag" was one of the most popular features of the Daily Bruin.

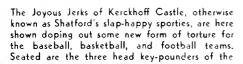

The Bruin staff turned intellectual, and harbored not only Lenny Safir, but two Phi Betes in the persons of Flora Lewis, Night Editor, and Jack Hauptli, Managing Editor. Hauptli stepped into the place vacated by first semester Editor Bruce Cassiday, who then joined John Henderson's Men's Page, after "bjerkist" Lenny Safir left for New York and a position on the Daily Mirror. All of this looks strangely as if there was a lot of buck-passing in session with Et Bruin. Claire Cox, Feature Page Editor became Associate Editor the second semester, and backed up Harriet Luke, Women's Page Editor, who handled the page for the entire year. Hank Shatford and Jerrie Levie lovingly shared the Sports Page. Bob "Two-Bits" Barsky, Night Editor, was appointed Managing Editor for the coming semester, and has not been speaking to anyone since. Night editors include up and coming staff members such as Frances Gold, Cecelia "Sissy" Meyer, and Tom Smith, who did all the dirty work around the office.

Frances Gold, known as "Red" to the staff, is a night editor and sociology major. Worries over deadlines and studies crime and delinquency.

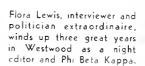

Self-styled leading romeo and athlete of the staff for the past two years is Night Editor Everett Hayes, who also dabbles in soccer.

staff, Sam Sale, who looks as though he just found Opal; Boss-man Hank Shatford, who's just on his way to the races; and Johnny Bockler, that famous beach-boy. Standing are ex-sports ed Milt Cohen, Don Bradford, and Jim Vento.

Alternate Night Editor Tom Smith spent a busy year hiking from Kerckhoff to the Ad building and back again trying to dig new dirt out of his old beat.

Perennial night editor, Bob "Two-Bits" Barsky told people off in the guise of literature. Owes his success to interviews with his oracle dog, Duke.

Advertising man turned politician is Junior Ad. Manager Ernie Markowitz, who was elected '42 senior prexy.

Pride of the S.A.E.'s and the R.O.T.C. is Junior Ad. Manager Bill Wilson, who spent most of his time siniling at "Tillie".

Besides vying for the title of No. campus fashion plate, Natalie Plahandled Bruin National Advertising.

GOAL POST

Bruin pigskin followers keep up to the minute on all of the latest football news with their pre-game perusal of the Goal Post, still another publication of the Associated Students.

Milt Cohen is his name, and the Goal Post his fame. He edited the gridiron gazette.

THE ARTS

Since his arrival at U.C.L.A. two years ago, Ralph Freud, lecturer in public speaking and supervising director of drama, has inaugurated a "New Deal" in the Dramatics Department which has resulted in a series of most unusual and most successful plays. Launching an extremely active year, U.D.S. included in its annual program a series of experimental dramatic attempts in which new techniques of lighting, costuming, and modern dramatic staging were introduced to local audiences. Another successful innovation was the organization of the Committee on Drama, Lecture and Music. This body is headed by Dr. Gustave O. Arlt, and acts as a clearing board and coordinating unit for University presentations. New, too, was the Theater Conference held on campus which brought together theater experts and Southern California educators to set standards for University dramatic expertations.

Supervising Director Ralph Freud is responsible for the amazing batting average of U.D.S. successes.

Jack Morrison, A.S.-U.C. Director of Dramatics, assists Freud in devising schedules for student theater work.

Ayleen Scarl hud a very busy year as Chairman of the Drama Board.

Suspended animation and production work! Acrobat Grant Shepard daringly hangs from a ladder while Jean Spitzel works down to a new paint job for Slim Nyby. Jean Alschuler nonchalantly rights the inevitable bucket.

For every moment that a play, dance recital or musical is on the stage there are countless hours of labor executed by the members of the backstage crew. Their work is little publicized although without it successful presentations couldn't exist. Workmen, carpenters and technicians begin their labors weeks before the opening performance and their work is relayed in turn to painters, designers and make-up men whose industry is evidenced until curtain time. This hardworking group is composed mostly of U.D.S. members who aren't part of the cast of the current production.

Curtain! It's the zero hour with Stage Director Slim Nyby, actor Brainard Duffield, and ingenue Gloria Nygaard poised for action.

And more production work! Necessarily clothes-conscious workers hold long sessions during which new clothes are improvised from old for whatever production may be in the offing.

FALL WORKSHOP

The Fall Workshop opened the season by presenting, entirely under student direction. Oscar Wilde's comedy of manners, The Importance of Being Earnest. In keeping with the University plan to present annually a selection from the History of Comedy Series, Love's Labour's Lost was presented for the All-University show of 1940. The following month, the rollicking melodrama Uncle Tom's Cabin, complete with handle-bar moustaches and olio acts took the University by storm. Henrik Ibsen's ocial drama An Enemy of the People, brought a more somber note to Royce Hall audiences and concluded the Fall Workshop series.

The versatile Mr. Duffield gently admonishes scapegoat Joe Clifford in a scene from "An Enemy of the People."

Ted Berlin, a pursued neurotic criminal, makes a pass at psychology professor living Ravetch in a tense scene from the underworld drama, "Blind Alley."

SPRING WORKSHOP

A week after registration for the Spring semester the first Workshop show for the season, Julian Thompson's The Warrior's Husband, started rehearsal. Elaborate sets and costumes were entirely student designed and constructed and campus approval merited the effort. Blind Alley, the second Workshop production, employed a small cast and presented no costume problem. Therefore effort was concentrated on the set which was the first box-set seen on Royce Hall stage for two years. An original revue, Spontaneous Confusion, written and produced by students, proved to be a most successful experiment and ended the Workshop list for the semester.

Brawn, beauty, and brains! All are exemplified as Marcelle Fortier swings at Bud Meyers in a scene from "The Warrior's Husband."

THESPIAN TOUR

They're off! Lloyd Borstleman, Dick Kennedy, Ayleen Searl, Harriet Phillips, Doris Mansfield, Mary Welch, and Jean McKenzie bid U.C.L.A. a fond adieu before leaving on the Christmas tour. A group of some twenty students, cast and crew, toured the two top shows of the semester, Uncle Tom's Cabin and The Importance of Being Earnest. Stops included the Davis campus, the Berkeley campus, and the Jewish Community Center at San Francisco.

KNICKERBOCKER H O L I D A Y

Gloria Nygaard is literally torn between Bob Searles and Brainard Duffield while Townsmen Pete Klain, Ted Berlin, Ben Goldblatt, Joe Clifford, Pinky Howell, and Lloyd Borstleman look on in frank disapproval. Knickerbooker Holiday, the annual musical comedy, was the most sensational show of the year and a tremendous success.

LOVE'S LABOUR'S LOST

On Guard! Bob Niesovitch, Brainard Duffield, and Buell Brooks east knowing glances as well as exercise from Love's Labour's Lost. Directed by Ralph Freud, this product in receive the different bands and Music Decartments with H.D.S. and embraces the full some of creative art.

Br. Foundtus

Two thousand people, old and young, watched Dr. Faustus plunge to Hell on March 14, 15, and 19 in Royce Hall Auditorium. Christopher Marlowe's 350-year-old play amazed and delighted an audience that broke all laboratory theater records here, and provided a clearcut example of what is being done with experimental plays at U.C.L.A. Produced under the auspices of three departments (Art, English, and Phy. Ed.) and the University Dramatics Society, Dr. Faustus was an excellent example of the cooperation and coordination traditional in experimental drama at U.C.L.A.

Dr. Faustus featured Robert Lee in the dancing lead and Brainard Duffield as the voice.

DANCE RECITAL

Founded on the belief that young people should have an opportunity to experiment in the arts and that a university is the place for this experimentation, Dance Recital was presented for the eighth successive time on May 15, 16, 17. On the whole, the success of this year's recital gave further proof of the desire to recreate future Dance Recitals.

Typical of the novel costuming and action is this scene from one of the dance recital offerings.

As chairman of the forensics board, Bill Irvin had a scat on the Student Council. He also was one of the squad's ace debaters.

Responsible for many of the victories of the forensics squad was Dr. Wesley Lewis, who shared the coaching responsibilities.

Other mastermind behind the debating scene was Dr. James Murray, who here seems at the point of expounding a little pro and con.

The forensics group again came out of a year of word-battles holding creditable victories in several contests. In the tournament sponsored by Western States Teachers of Speech, Leslie Swabacker took second place in the Women's Impromptu and George Oliver won first place in the Panel Discussion. In the LACC Tournament, Frank Wolf and Ed Sanders won first in Lower Division Men's Debate, Leslie Swabacker took second in the Women's Impromptu, and Wolf took second in the Men's Extemporaneous. Four hundred contestants from all major western state schools, saw Sanders and Wolf bring the Pi Kappa Delta Championship to UCLA. Graduation deleted the ranks of an outstanding debate squad as Bob Dickerman, George Oliver, and Bill Irvin argued their last for the Bruins.

Leading the pro and con through a successful year was the Forensics Board. Bill Irvin apparently lost out in this debate to see who would get the three seats.

Dr. George Stewart McManus, University organist, presented throughout the year his most popular organist, presented throughout the year his most popular structures or the huge $75,000 Skinner organ recitals every Tuesday and Friday noon and every third Sunday on the huge $75,000 Skinner organ in Royce Hall auditorium.

MUSIC

With symphonic numbers and choral music floating through the late afternoon air from the third floor of the Education Building, it was easy for Uclans to know that the music organizations were anything but lacking in interest and effort. The Glee Clubs enjoyed the best year yet, when they took second place in a Southern Colleges Choral Groups Contest which included groups from Occidental, S.C., Scripps, and Pomona. The A Cappella Choir had the honor of supplying choral music for the world premiere of Albert Coates' opera-"Gainsborough's Duchess". This performance was repeated several times by popular request, and thus increased the prestige of already prominent groups. A number of other on-campus concerts were given by the combined music organizations, and met with the enthusiastic approval of the Bruin public.

Superscing, arranging and requating all musical productions, All-U-Sings, and various other activities, the Music and Societe Board composed of Helen Douglas, Tom Freear, Ray Gillette, and Mark Katzman, had more than a boay time of it all.

Ray Gillette as chairman of the Music and Service Board represented it on Student Council.

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB

Sporting their new white uniforms, the well-trained members of the Women's Glee Club respond to every meaningful motion of Director Raymond Moreman's sensitive fingers. With a wide background of musical experience gained in renowned musical centers, Mr. Moreman is well qualified for his difficult and exacting job of organizing and training choral groups.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

Another outstanding choral group under the direction of Raymond Moreman is the University A Cappella Choir, which has won acclaim for its splendid recitals given throughout the Southland. A great deal of the success is due to the untiring effort of the director, who formerly was musical director at Long Beach Junior College. Working with Sir Albert Coates, the group won new laurels for their annual Christmas Concert presented in Royce Hall.

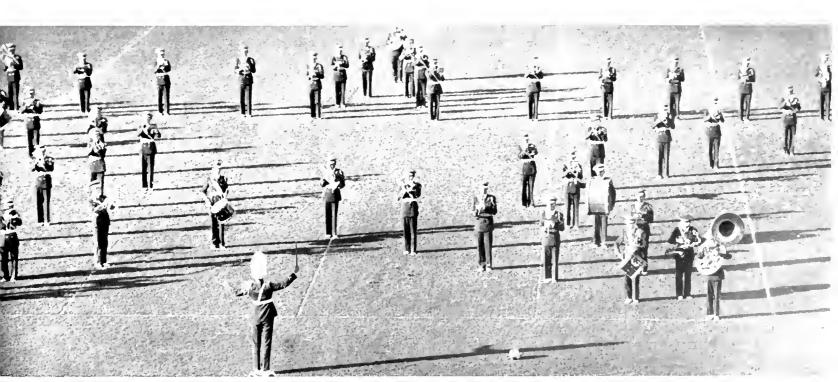

Radio

Recently formed was the university Radio Unit. In conjunction with the Campus Theater, the group is essentially interested in recording and radio script material. This newly formed group should easily gain campus and radio recognition as long as the instigators of the Junior Weekend had such an easy time receiving recognition and being interviewed on the Broadway Hollywood News Hour.

Stunt

The Bruin Band's stirring music did much to make U.C.L.A.'s athletic contests thrilling to the conscientious rooter. Leroy Allen instructed the group, and aided the band at all events of the year. The band was in no competitional meets, but gave a joint concert with the Cal Band during the fall semester. Another concert was given on May 12, in Royce Hall. A reorganization this year established an all year membership in the band, allowing two semester activity for the first time in the Band's history.

Thus the students of the university study the heavens with finest of equipment and with the best teacher, practical experience, governed by an experienced and noted faculty.

ATHLETICS

Royce Hall

Off-to Roycz

Symbol of the U.C.L.A. campus is majestic Royce Hall. Within its walls are housed the departments conceined with the study of the humanities—language, literature, history and government. Therefore the name of Josiah Royce, the great American philosopher who had come to the University of California in 1871 as a boy of 15, was chosen. It is interesting to note the architectural similarity of Royce Hall and the San Ambrogio Church of Italy.

ATHLETIC ADMINISTRATION

Mr. William Spaulding was at his best when he assumed a semiserious role as an administrator and good-will ambassador. His good-natured humor made Bill the most popular master of ceremonies on campus.

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

William Spaulding, UCLA's genial director of Athletics, occupies a unique position in the athletic setup. Bill is not contented with merely trying to untangle the numerous and complex changes in the schedules of some twenty-one sports. In addition to his Associated Student duties, the former football coach spends his mornings teaching golf to mixed Physical Education classes. Perhaps less known to the public is the extensive goodwill campaign which Bill carries on by means of numerous speeches and public appearances.

Bill coached his classes in the morning and put theory into practice in his own afternoon games.

Carl McBain became chairman of the Men's Athletic Board after equalling the American record for the 400 meter hurdles. Before letters can be awarded, the list submitted by the coaches must be approved by the Athletic Board. Members are selected from various sports and work under Assistant Manager Sturzenegger. SEATED: Chairman Carl McBain, Sturzenegger STANDING: Warfield Garson, Joe Jacobucci, Bruce Johnston, Ignacio Quijada, Bill Reordan.

The '42 class followed Hitoshi (Moe) Yonemura.

Russ Bidwell led cheers for the '41

Despite reverses on the athletic front, Bruin cheer leaders displayed unbounded enthusiasm, keeping the support of the rooting section behind the team from start to finish. Head yell-king Marv Katzman especially kept up an unceasing demand for more and ever more pep and volume from the stands. Right-hand man to the yell-king was Hitoshi Yonemura who assisted Katzman with the men's section. Leading the women rooters in the use of the blue and gold pom-poms were Homer Rydell and George Hallberg. Acrobats Dave Hurford and Russ Bidwell added a great deal of action and spirit with their spirited hand-springs and back-flips. The outstanding innovation introduced by the yell leaders was the use of the "rocker", a new antic first used in collegiate circles by the Bruin yell-king. A sea of amazed rooters gasped when Katzman first began to rock, then stamp his foot, and on the third downbeat go into the "Cal spell-out". Enthusiasm for the "rocker" spread first to the Bruin section, who made good use of this introduction to color the spirit of their yells. Fame of the grotesque antic spread along the coast and was adopted by colleges from S.C. to Washington.

Most active vocalists on campus were the hard-working members of the rooter-rouser aggregation. KNEELING: Dave Hurford and Russ Bidwell, who expressed themselves acrobatically. STANDING: Homer Rydell, Marv Katzman, and George Hallberg. Rydell and Hallberg led the women's section. Katzman just led anyone who would follow.

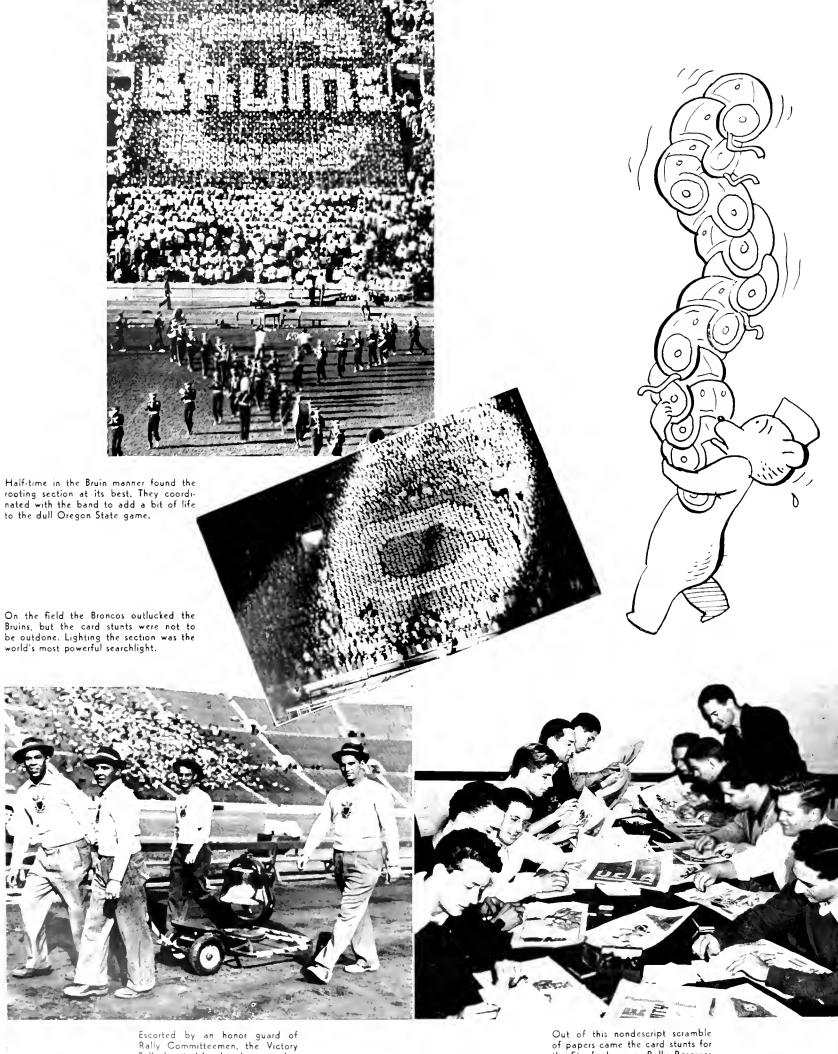

Homer Riddell of '43 was all the class in yells.

Sophomores kept their eyes on George Hall berg.

Freshman Dave Hurford was the youngest leader.

Escorted by an honor guard of Rally Committeemen, the Victory Bell, donated by the alumni, makes its traditional entrance to toll the points scored.

Out of this nondescript scramble of papers came the card stunts for the Stanford game. Rally Reserves and Ycomen arc marking cards for the rooters.

Stunts

Next to bell: Harrison and Bowdoin. FRONT ROW: Melnyk, Hamner, Emerman, Mahon, Park, Preston, Yonemura, Catterlin, McDaniel, and Katrman. SECOND ROW: Hill, Jacobucci, Dumont, Slater, Mascot, Ziegler, Nygren, and Hilson. THIRD ROW: Seligman, Davis, Cramer, Schrouder, Taylor, and Massman. FOURTH ROW: Klipper, Snyder, Gantman, Nelson, Wallace, Brown, Barnes, and Parr. FIFTH ROW: Divver, Lee, McGill, Falcon, Meagher, Wilson, Brodek, and Mettler. SIXTH ROW: Simon, Willner, Brembeck, Jewell, Miller, Morehart, Byron, and Williams. SEVENTH ROW: Ryland, Reider, McCorkell, Taylor, Vellek, Viles, Everitts, and Smith.

Famed throughout the football world for their animated stunts and precision, Bruin rooters added further glory to themselves by bringing more color to the card stunts than has been done in the past. Otis Yost, the head of the Stunt Committee, planned the stunts which were met with much acclaim by the fans across the Coliseum. The smooth presentation of the stunts was under the direction of Bob Park, Rally Committee chairman. Featured in the night games was the huge searchlight which was trained on the rooting section as the cards were formed into stunts. A brilliant novelty in the Bruin section was the use of metallic cards which reflected vivid colors as the sun's rays struck them. In addition to the men's section were the pompoms of the women placed on one side and in front of the men. Bruin rooting was at its best for the colorful Homecoming game against Stanford and again against the Trojans. Stanford rooters across the field saw 4,000 men form U.C.L.A.'s largest section of the year. Credit for executing the stunts goes to the Rally Committee, Yeomen, Frosh Reserves, and Spurs.

The Old South surrendered one of its prize sons when Mike Chambers left Louisiana State to become part of UCLA's "New Deal" in athletics. Mike's famous exercises have put Bruin athletes in better condition than any group on the Coast.

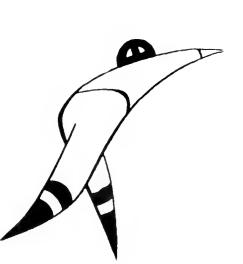

The tenendous amount of detail handled by the football managerial staff requires a plural senior manager. Ben Brown and Ted Sanders served as the multiple head this year, arranging the work schedule for the managers and checking on all equipment to be packed for the games. Both are Juniors, having started as sophomore managers.

Fresh from an undefeated season in 1939, the pigskin situation looked very bright on the opening day of practice. The coaching staff welcomed the largest turnout in Bruin history with a large number of veterans returning. Replacing Kenny Washington at the key left-half spot was admittedly the most serious problem and one which led to a continual switching of the backfield. Jack Robinson naturally fell heir to Kenny's spot, but this meant that the man-in-motion lost most of its threat, at least until the close of the season when Ted Forbes revived it possibilities. Ray Richards had little difficulty in replacing the graduated veterans so the play of his charges kept the Bruins within corning range during the early games. The backfield mixup plus the disheartening losses in the first four games combined to knock morale to the depth. Only once did the Bruins regain a winning spirit. Against Washington State they flashed their old form for their only vistor.

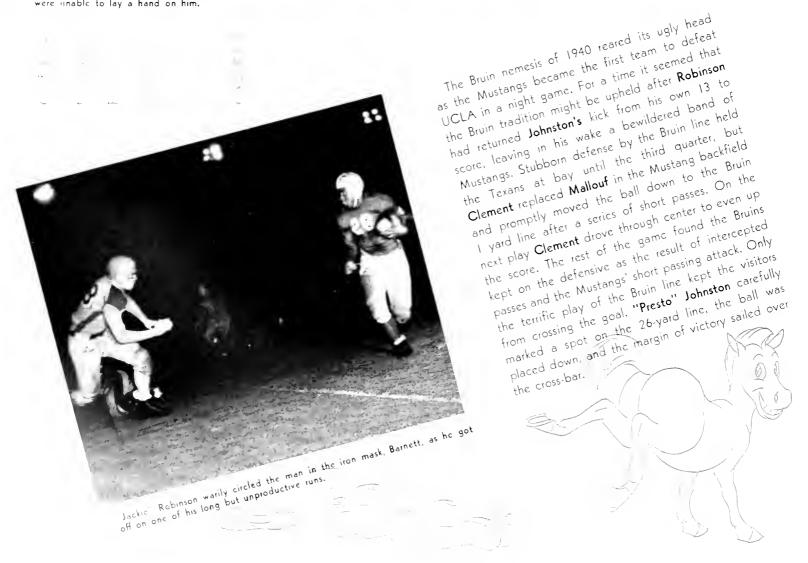

Following the precedent of past Bruin teams, the 1940 squad again chose to pick two of its members as co-captains. Don MacPherson represented the linemen from his position at right end. Quiet and dependable, Don was off to a poor start as the result of a broken toe received in pre-season practice. Bob Simpson stepped into his berth with such efficiency that Don had difficulty breaking into the lineup, but his playing proved his right to the captaincy. Don's biggest moment came in the Stanford game when he completed a beautiful pass for a touchdown. Co-leader with MacPherson was stocky Ned Mathews. Ned monopolized the quarterback post, being relieved at rare intervals by Benny Kvitky. Ned was the brains of the team and received wide publicity for his excellent choice of plays. On the defense Mathews proved his value to the team by virtue of his ability to defend against passes, and his deadly tackling which made the left side of the Bruin defense a tough wall to penetrate.

Johnny Clements reached the promised land after plowing through the center of the Bruins from the one-yard line. Beesley (49) helped to open a huge hole through which Clements scooted so fast that Robinson (28) and Mathews (55) were unable to lay a hand on him.

John Kimbrough, in background, was not the only powerhouse in the Aggie backfield. Derace Moser, triple-threater of the quartet, was also hard to bring down. He showed drive on this end sweep when he left Simpson rolling on the turf. DeFrancisco (31) had to leave Moser to Ted Jones (37).

the game when John Kimbrough intercepted a pass on the Aggie 44. Kimbrough and Conaster drove to the Bruin 9 with "Jarrin' Jawn" going the last yards on an end sweep. Robinson, Cantor and Smith led the Bruins in an attack to the Aggie 5. Here the Bruins bogged down after a penalty and an incomplete fourth down pass. Only other Bruin threat came at the end of the third period when Cantor completed a 50-yard pass to Bartlett on the Texas 12. On fourth down Milt Smith stood alone in the end zone, only to watch Cantor's pass fall short. The crushing power of the Aggies manifested itself in the fourth quarter as they hammered a tough Bruin line on a sustained drive. The Aggies fired an illadvised pass into the arms of Leo Cantor, and the inevitable had been stopped as the Bruins froze the ball for the remaining seconds of play.

In the first eight minutes of play the Bruins surged to a lead after a spectacular 57 yard pass from Cantor to Smith. The Golden Bear rose in anger, fought back to score minutes later, but failed to convert. Heroic line play by the Bruins stopped three drives in the second quarter as Huters, Derian, Jurkovich, and McQuary led a spirited attack. A fighting Bruin clawed at the Cal goal line throughout the second half as Curti, Mathews, Cantor, and Forbes put the ball in scoring position three times. Midway through the fourth quarter the Bears held the ball in mid-field, their attack stopped cold. Then Verne Gaston fell back, hurled a pass to Morley Mathewson, and watched his teammate sprint to the Bruin 17. Three plays picked up a mere three yards. On fourth down with two and a half minutes to play, Henry Zacharias kicked a field goal to steal the lead from the Bruins. On the Bear's 10 yard line Zacharias fumbled the pass from center, losing the ball as Milt Smith recovered. After a penalty had moved the ball to the 5 yard line the Bruins were set up for what seemed to be a sure score, but the bubble burst before the eyes of the frenzied rooters. Four times they drove against the Cal line; four times they were stopped short. As the shadows fell across the Berkeley stadium, the Golden Bears blissfully claimed possession of the ball, held it until the final gun sounded, then carried it off the field as the symbol of victory.

Glimpsing the gap by Bruin DeFrancisco (31), "Scooter" Forbes packs the porky into a Bear trap formed by end Cox (94) and fullback McQuary (53). Even Ted's speed, which usually pulls him through such scrapes, was of no use here.

(Left) Captain Art Anderson of the Bears seems dubious about the whole thing. Co-captains MacPherson (38) and Mathews (55) keep an eye on the fateful flight of the coin which gave the Bruins the kick-off.

Ned Mathews (55) missed his tackle and Matheson (6) made a bid to overhaul Jim Jurkovich. But the right half slipped by and ambled off on a scoring jaunt behind Bear fullback Jack McQuary's able blocking.

Gene Gray (25) fumbled the ball as Bruin tackle Jack Finlay hit him, leaving the ball at the mercy of English (86) and Younce (53).

Nate DeFrancisco blocked quarterback George Peters (58) momentarily, but the latter recovered to down "Scooter" Forbes (54).

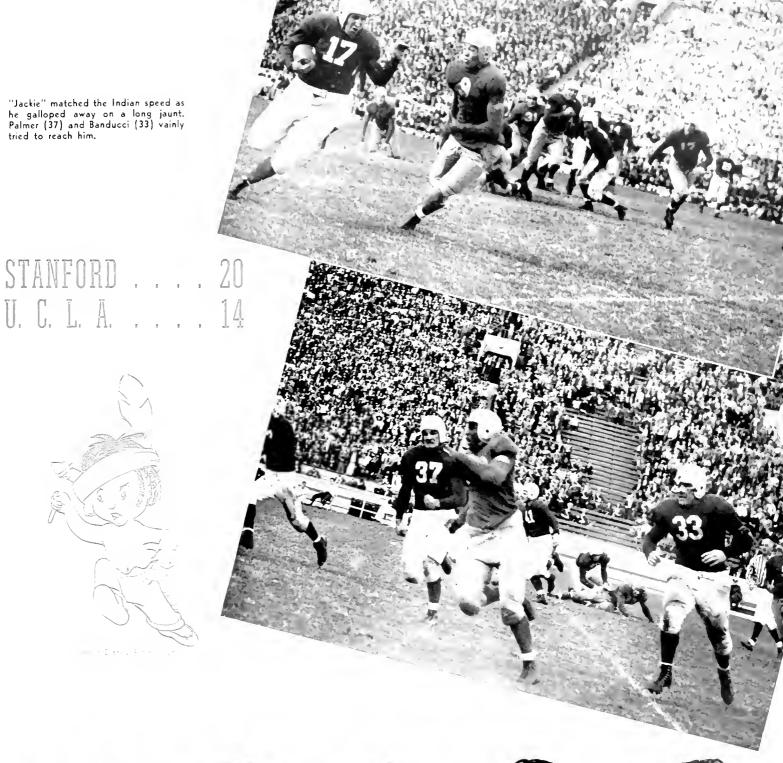

Leaving the Bruins without a point to show on the scoreboard, the Beavers eked out a narrow margin of victory in a dull, unexciting contest. Bruin lack of organization played a large part in the defeat, being ably supported by the staunch defense of the visitors. The Beavers played a very conservative game, but the two passes which they did throw were far too effective. Both passes were thrown by Bob Dethman as the Beavers marched on their 57 yard scoring drive. Gray completed the first pass down to the Bruin 31, Jim Kisselburgh added 5 yards in two plunges, then Leovich completed the second pass for a touchdown. The Bruins came back with their most serious threat of the game with Forbes running for 12 yards and then taking a pass from Robinson for 16 yards to place the ball on the Oregon 32. Forbes picked up 2 yards through the line, but here the local team was halted, Beavers taking over when Robinson's fourth down pass to MacPherson failed to make a first down. Cantor created a bit of excitement as he completed two passes to the Oregon 43, but here the attack ended with an interception.

Pete Kmetovic emerged from the "T" and turned loose his blazing speed to circle the Bruin left end. Ray Bartlett was left flat-footed.

Led by the powerful running of "Buck" Berry, the Webfeet paddled their way over the swamped turf of Hayward Field, while the best the Bruins could do was to bog down in the mire of mud and despondency. The Oregon defense was so well planned that all Bruin attempts to get an offense underway were nothing more than futile motions. Effectively aiding the defensive play of the Ducks was the spotty blocking of the UCLA players. Robinson and Forbes gave promises of getting away on several occasions, only to lose their footing and add to their coatings of mud. The defensive work of the Bruins was somewhat more effective, with Jack Sommers and Art Anderson turning in the best performances of the day. This game marked the first defeat of the season for the Bruins, and was in large part due to their lack of spirit, whereas the Webfeet were cheered on by a home-coming audience.

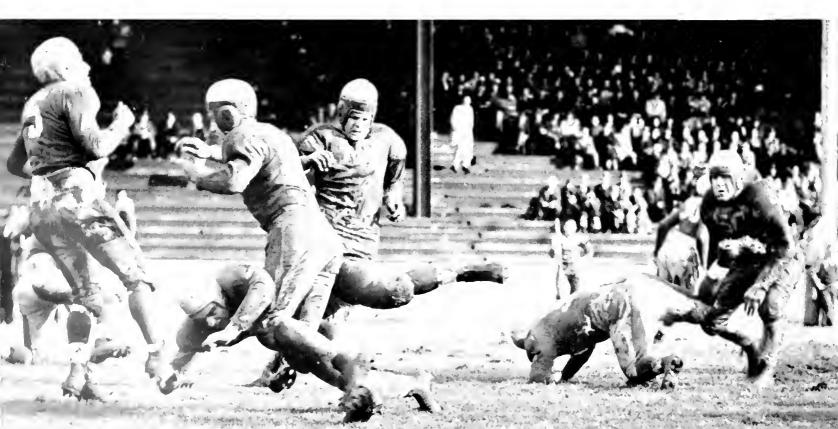

With mushy footing, fullback Bill Overlin (5) barely managed to get his punt beyond the reach of Dick Horn and Jim Stuart (10). Ned Mathews put a beautiful block on Horn as the latter rushed from his defensive position at left end.

Don Mabee (12) demonstrates one of the reasons for the swamping of the Bruins. Co-captain Ned Mathews went high into the air, but failed to knock down this are this pass.

Bill Overlin's punting was invaluable to the Bruins against the Cougars. He had plenty of time on this kick with Godfrey (67) and Woody (in air) nearest threats.

Robinson received splendid blocking from his team mates as he sailed through the Cougars on a long run. Noah Curti put a beautiful block on Johnson (32).

Congaralia

Sparked by Robinson and Forbes the Bruins climaxed a sensational game by emerging with their only victory of the season. After fumbling away a 6-3 lead the Bruins were trailing 20-6 with the first half rapidly waning. Suddenly the Bruins turned on an aerial barrage. Anderson took a perfect pass from Robinson to score, followed in close order by Simpson's circus catch of a toss from Mathews. With the score tied Robinson opened the third quarter with a 60 yard run to pay dirt, adding to his total by converting. The Cougars came right back with Sewell in the driver's seat, but their failure to convert left the Bruins with a one point lead, which Robinson increased with a 75 yard run for a fifth touchdown.

The law of averages had a terrific struggle with the Bruins but finally broke through a long string of defeats to chalk up a win for the Blue and Gold forces on the Coliseum scoreboard.

for the first half favored UCLA by a wide margin, only Curti's fumble on the Washington 7 preventing the Bruins from taking an early lead. The fumble came at the end of a 70-yard drive which marked the only serious threat to the Washington goal. Within a few minutes after the opening of the third period the Huskies had scored on a pass, McAdams to McDowell, being only a preview of what lay in store for the Bruins. Milt Smith was carried from the field a few plays later with a broken leg to add to the gloom in the Bruin camp. By the end of the third quarter the Huskies had a substantial 21 point lead, largely due to the triple-threat activities of Dean McAdams. Younglove took a 25 yard pass to start the scoring in the fourth quarter, followed in close order by McConkle's 30 yard plunge for touchdown number five. Just to add a bit of insult Phelps intercepted a pass by Forbes and rambled 55 yards for the final score. Forbes and Curti turned in swell sixty minute performances, while Simpson and MacPherson were bulwarks on defense.

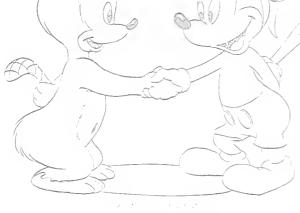

Forbes picked up a few yards on a reverse after eluding Dean McAdams (60), All-Coast half, but was stopped by Nixon (52).

"Jackie" circled the Huskies' left end only to have his speed halted by the power team of Stackpool (16) and Means (32).

THE GAME

Rabid sports fans converged on the Coliseum to witness the fifth in the series of Los Angeles' "biggest games". Old-timers recalled the bitter rivalry between the cross-town foes. Bruin fans crossed their fingers and hoped that this might be that "next year" when the Trojan jinx would be broken. And fond recollection brought back the scenes of 1936; of Williams' touchdown, and Jimmy Jones scoring to give S.C. a 7-7 tie. 1937 witnessed an aerial barrage with Washington on the throwing end, Hirshon took a 67 yard pass as the Bruins pulled up within six points of the 19 point Trojan lead. Bruin fans went into mourning after the 1938 game when the Trojans won by a 42-7 score. Best of all games was the scoreless tie of 1939 when 102,000 tans saw the Bruins ex from the Rose Bowl.

Trojan card stunts drew the half-time interest of Bruin rooters. Even the hard working Spurs in the foreground took time off for a glance, or so.

Bruin card stunts saluted the Trojans with all their famed precision and color. The officials needed this rest after those Trojan expeditions.

"What goes on here?" screamed Bruin fans as they watched their bitter rivals start on another of those steamroller drives.

Trojan Titamic

Annually the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum provides the setting for the Bruin-Trojan titanic. Largest amphitheatre in the world, the Coliseum could have seated almost twice the number of fans present. This year's attendance of 60,000 fell far short of past records.

The Bruins got off to an auspicious start against their old rivals after scoring early in the first period. Robinson and Forbes dusted off some ancient plays to move the ball down to the Trojan 6 in blitzkrieg style. "Jackie" circled the defensive left end. Al Krueger, to score standing up. His attempt at conversion was blocked, but picking up the ball Jack raised Bruin hopes by passing to MacPherson, only to have the co-captain drop the ball. Reviving the days of the "Thundering Herd," the Trojans turned on terrific power to march 61 yards to a tally. Robertson sparked the drive, finally going over from the 2, and Bob dc Lauer converted to put the Trojans in front. Constant Trojan threats kept the Bruins worried for the rest of the half. S.C. took the kickoff at the opening of the third quarter and repeated their first touchdown drive, this time going 67 yards in eleven plays. Berryman led the Trojans to their third touchdown on a 62 yard drive. Forbes put the Bruins back in the running by taking a short pass from Robinson to score from the 15. Robertson came right back to chalk up his third touchdown, with de Lauer following with his third conversion. UCLA's most creditable performance was the smashing defensive play of Herb Wiener.

Coach Wilbur Johns directed the basketball squad for his second year as Varsity coach. Prior to his reign as headman of the Bruin quintet, Johns headed the Freshman basketeers. What spare time was left to the genial mentor was occupied by his tennis instruction to gym classes. In his first year as coach he guided a team which had not tasted a conference victory for years to a banner year by emerging with three conference wins. Though only two wins graced his banner this year, Coach Johns was the only one to defeat Stanford during the real title race.

Baskerballo

Midway through the conference race Bruin basketball stock reached its highest point since the days of Dick Linthicum. Coach Johns floored a quintet which had benefited from the first tour taken by a Bruin team through the midwest. Robinson formed the nucleus of a fast-breaking attack with Handlesman and Co-captain Anderson alternating at the other forward position. First blow to weaken the Bruins was the loss of Anderson with a broken arm. "Jackie" compensated in part for this loss by hitting a scoring streak which carried him to the top in conference points. Co-captain Bob Null got "hot" to provide the margin of victory over Stanford as the "fire-men" met their first conference defeat. Troy's long span of victories seemed to be at an end until fate took away the services of Null via concussion of the brain.

Bob King as senior manager had a tremendous job assisting Coach Johns on the trip east.

Assistants to senior manager Bob King included Bob Overpeck, Paul Rich, and Fred Martin, pictured above. As usual the complete staff of ten managers was never to be found at the same time, but they were kept busy (his year with the numerous trips and practice games on the schedule.

In the upper photo center Marty Haderlein of the Loyola Lions barely managed to get off his shot as Clark George reached from behind to deflect the ball.

Johnny Fryer (11) succeeded in breaking through the Trojan defense only to have Ted Gossard (7) block his shot on the way to the basket. Ernie Handlesman (6) and Bob Ormsby (18) waited for the ball so that they could once again start their scoring duel which they carried on through this practice game and ensuing conference tilts.

Robinson's set-up shot was deflected at the last second by Frank Miller (66), stocky guard for the "Galloping Gaels". The Bruins had no chance to recover the rebound with Frank Boyle (5) and Ed Loomis (3) surrounding the basket, but they controlled the ball enough to chalk up the first of two victories over the Gaels of St. Mary's.

The U.C.L.A. basketball team may not have been the winningest team in the school's history, but it was the most widely travelled. After dropping a pair of games to San Diego and one to 20th Century-Fox, Wilbur Johns took his boys all the way back to Michigan for a series of games. It was a swell trip although the Bruins didn't manage to win any games, losing to St. Paul 30-23, Western State Teachers 56-43, Bradley Tech 52-49, and Illinois Normal 37-21. Back in town the Bruins dropped one to a classy Indiana five, and then won their first game of the season from Loyola 39-38. A touring Bradley Tech team repeated their previous win, and then the Westwooders wound up their practice series in a blaze of glory with a pair of wins over San Francisco University and St. Mary's 55-53, and 45-29.

CALIFORNIA

The Berkeley brothers provided the Bruins with their first league victory, and their biggest argument. The Bears, after coasting to a 42-32 victory in the first meeting between the two teams were rudely shocked the following night when an inspired Bruin team nosed them out 35-33. "Long John" Fryer led the locals to this, their first conference win of the season, receiving lots of help from Jack Robinson, Bob Alshuler, Ernie Handelsman and Bob Null. The next two games were played in the belligerent atmosphere of the Berkeley gym, where the Bears, far from playing the perfect host, handed the Bruins a pair of defeats and left them with an unsympathetic attitude toward Berkeley officials and rooters. The first game found the Bruins bewildered by the sound and variety of the boos, and they succumbed 54-32. They caught on the next night, however, and played one of their best games of the season, only to lose out 30-28 in the final minutes. Noah Curti came into his own in this series and played a great game. Co-captain Bob Null suffered a brain concussion in the last game and was forced out of action for the rest of the year.

Clearly the class of the conterence was the Stanford Indian five, yet the Bruins gave them a fight in every game. They blew a lead in the first game to lose 54-44, but came back strong the next night to defeat the Cards 45-44 in one of the most exciting games of the year. Co-captain Bob Null led his team to victory—the final conference win of the year for the Bruins, and the first league defeat for Stanford. In the northerners' gym, the Bruins fell twice to the championsto-be, 49-44, and 56-34. Jack Robinson and Stanford's great center Don Burness fought nip-and-tuck for the individual scoring crown, but Robinson won out with a great drive in the final two games to win the honor for the second straight year. In the selections for the all-conference team made by the coaches, the entire Indian squad was placed on the first team, Robinson making the second.

Stanford's famed speed got a taste of its own medicine when Robinson ran circles around the defense to score. Sharpshooters Handlesman (6) and Indian Burness got a few pointers.

Stanford numbers took control of the ball after jump-off between Don Burness (20) and John Fryer (11). McCaffrey (17), Davidson (5), and Williams (8) moved too fast for the Bruins.

Bruin defense arrived in the nick of time to block an attempted goal by the Indians on the latter's home court. Three speedsters, Robinson, Williams, and Burness awaited results.

Typical of the rough action in the series with the Trojans was this bit of action at the Shrine Auditorium. Bob Alshuler fought to take the ball away from his opponents.

Such shots as this one made the second game with Sam Barry's charges a memorable occasion for Robinson. Jack ran wild to ring up 20 points, his highest scoring game.

TROJAN JINX

For the ninth straight year the Bruins tried in vain to defeat the Trojans in basketball, losing four times to their rivals last season. The first game was a runaway for the Trojans 56-35, but the next one saw the Bruins barely nosed out 43-41. A great Trojan rally nipped the third game 53-47, while the season ended on a sad note when the Barrymen won the final tilt 52-37. Jack Robinson, Co-captain Bob Null, Co-captain Lloyd Anderson—injured since the first Stanford game—and Clark George played their final games for the Bruins.

Joe E. Brown led the optimistic crowds who flooded the Westwood gym as the Bruin quintet gave promise of putting on some of the most thrilling games since the old days at the Pan-Pacific Auditorium. The local gym provided an atmosphere of intimate rivalry between the opposing teams and rooters which had been so sadly lacking on the remote scene of action at the Pan-Pacific. Rivalry between the stands was coupled with broadcasting over a Southern California network to furnish a genuine feeling of college spirit. As usual the conflicts with the Trojans drew the largest crowds, all wondering if the old jinx still held good, which it did despite the close scores and Bruin optimism.

Press row during game time was always an active place, especially with publicity man Ben Person and Yell-king Katzman competing.

DeForest Fisher turned over the band to Marv Katzman as the musicians became a miniature rooting section.

Popular official, Jerry Nemer, kept a close watch on the ball while waiting for the Bruins to attempt a free throw.

Coach Don Ashen has been the recipient of many tough breaks in the past, but this season climaxed his burden. Strong as the Frosh team was, the old Trojan jinx continued to hold sway as the Brubabes lost by the narrowest margins in two games of the series played this year. Only once has Troy lost to the Bruin Frosh.

Closely supervising the diet of his Freshman charges, Don Ashen presided over the training table prior to one of the S.C. games. Training tables were held the nights preceding game nights in order to have the boys feeling in top condition. Mike Chambers allocated the calories by saying what could and what could not be consumed, but Mike's choice always met with the unanimous approval of all athletic teams.

(Below) High scoring center, Lee, made a beautiful set-up shot, only one of several that he looped in during the second game against the Trobabes. Bailey (3) was too late to block Lee, but along with Karhatsu and Shanley (8) he waited for the rebound in case of a missed basket.

One of the best freshman basketball teams ever to represent the Bruins took the court during the past season. Under the tutelage of Don Ashen the boys ran through one of the toughest schedules possible, and emerged with a highly creditable record. The Brubabes were unbeatable for the first half of the season, hanging up eight straight victories before they dropped a game. Led by big Marvin Lee, the Frosh knocked off Ariel Tech, Four Way Club, Pasadena, Chaffey and Riverside junior colleges, The Herald, March Field and Loyola Freshman without a loss. They then ran into a little trouble, and after Modesto J.C. beat them 42-24, went through the rest of the season with only one more victory, a repeat win over Chaffey J.C. Ineligibility cut into the squad at the close of the semester, and Ainsley Bell, Art Kaihatsu, Gene Redmond and Ken Haselfield were all dropped. This left Jack Baddely, Mickey Panovich, Dick Perry, Bill O'Brien, Bob Jones, Pierce Brooks, Dick Bardrick and Theron Owen to carry on. Biggest disappointment of the year was the failure of the Brubabes to beat the S.C. Frosh.

BASEBALL

Baseball players can always be distinguished from other athletes; they are the boys with the dusty uniforms who constantly chew on something between plays and keep up an endless line of chatter. As an example the 1941 squad served very well. Caught in a silent stance for once, the squad members were: FRONT ROW: Takashi Kobayaski, Ira Hawkins, Stratis Zampathas, Bill Frank, Captain Johnny Moore, Irving Jaffe, Don Cox, Rudy Hummes, Norton Nelson, Harry Oka. BACK ROW: Bob Park, Harry Sketchley, Lynn Compton, Ray Keene, Dave Hill, Urban Sur, Ray Bartlett, Bob Null, Glenn Burns, Kirk Sinclair, Coach Art Reichle.

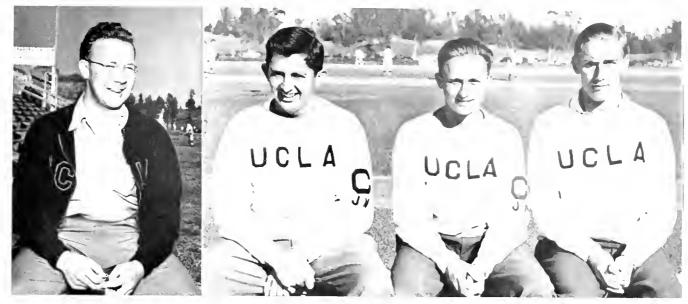

Athletes of all sports begin the celebration of a victory in the shower rooms where a mad-house of enthusiasm goes on. As an example, take a look at Kirk Sinclair, Don Cox, and "Stagie" Zampathas as they exulted over walloping the Broncos.

Coach Art Reichle, left, had plenty of occasions to talk over the baseball situation with Captain Johnny Moore. Outsiders would have had a hard time picking out the Bruin coach since Art is only a few years older than his charges. Once an outstanding pitcher for the Bruins, Art got his start on the coaching side last year when he was named as coach for the Frosh. The new coach was lucky to have a veteran captain in the person of Johnny Moore to help him organize the team. Johnny was a mainstay in the outfield after playing at second base as a sophomore.

John Sudduth moved up into the aristocracy when he became senior manager. No longer did he have to play "pig-tail", for now he could crack the whip over the players when it came to recording hits and errors.

Carrying out the orders of the senior manager were Bob Wolcott, Don Hollman, and Dick Bopp. Their work during practice was much easier than in most major sports since the ball players wear most of their equipment. Any loose bats and balls gave the managers a chance to start up their own game when they were not chasing foul balls or wild pitches. The only drawback to their job was to stay clear of the horsehide barrages.

BASI

With Art Reichle, Bruin mound ace of four years back, making his debut as mentor, the Westwood diamond men flashed an array of power at the plate and an array of errors afield. This rather unfortunate combination resulted in three victories as against twelve defeats, although the local nine managed to out-hit their opposition in a majority of their losing efforts. Highlight of the season came not in the win and loss column but in the dedication of the new Joe E. Brown field on campus during the Stanford series in late March. Impressive ceremonies and a large student turnout made it an auspicious occasion, but Brother Bruin missed his cue and lost an exciting game to the Indians, 6-4. Their new surroundings apparently confused the Reichlemen, for during the remainder of the season they managed only one win, a 12-10 thriller over St. Mary's. The campaign was a heartbreaker for Coach Reichle, his squad throwing away four contests by a single tally. Reichle trained his squad well, kept their competitive spirit high, but repeated miscues on the defensive upset the best laid plans of toiling pitchers. The team left behind the hope for new successes next year.

Don Cox found the defense too tight for him when he attempted to make a sacrifice hit against Los Angeles. The flashy Coast League team turned Don's efforts into a double play. Many new Angel faces made for an interesting game.

Not especially noted for his speed, Harry Sketchley was lucky to beat an infield toss to first base. Harry got a base hit out of the deal to swell his batting average which reached almost .400 during the practice contests.

Traditional number-one rooter for the Bruins was Joe E. Brown. The comedian took his baseball very seriously, often giving expert advice to the players as he did to Sinclair here. That's Bill Spaulding at his right and Lee Frankovitch on

Perhaps the toughest and most colorful practice in history was lined up for the Bruins at the beginning of the year, including such teams as the powerful Fournier All-Stars, the Los Angeles Stars, and the San Diego Marines. Loyola University invaded Westwood on several occasions to battle the Bruins. Southern California junior colleges and semi-pro teams completed the schedule that preceded the season and carried on through the rest of the year. Coach Art Reichle, faced with the task of developing a new group of players, gave all the boys a chance to perform during the practice grind. It was through this process that such players as Art Keene, Ira Hawkins, and Bill Frank were discovered. Bruin fans got a big treat in one of the games with the Angels when Art Keene pitched seven innings and allowed only two runs. Ray Bartlett, left-fielder, and first-baseman Harry Sketchley led the team in batting throughout the pre-season campaign. Sketchley returned to the Bruin fold after a year's absence and many rumors to the contrary to provide a world of power at the plate.

ST. A.T.

Against the league-leading St. Mary's Gaels the Reichlemen exhibited some of the best and poorest ball of the season. The Bruins lost the series I-2, but could have won the three if some poor fielding hadn't spoiled things. In the first of a three-game series the Bruins outslugged the Gaels to hang up a I2-10 victory. In a double-header the next day St. Mary's came back to squeeze out I-0 and 9-8 victories. Art Keene pitched sixteen innings of great ball before weakening.

Rival keepers of the first base post collided when Harry Sketchley dived head-first into the bag in a close play. Heffernan of the Gaels stretched far enough to rob Harry of a hit and gain a decision over his opponent with two hits for the day. The Bruin clouter was held hitless, which was of no advantage to his batting average for the year.

One of the big mysteries of an amazing year on the diamond was the identification of this Bruin batter, though the dirty uniform looks typical of Sketchley. Whoever he was his safe arrival at first was welcomed by the Bruin fans.

TA LARA

The Bruin nine opened its season with an impressive 7-5 win over the Santa Clara Broncos at Sawtelle. Harry Sketchley's booming bat led the assault for the Reichlemen. Next day the Broncos came back to top the locals by a 7-4 count. Kirk Sinclair and Sketchley led the attack for the locals, accounting for all the tallies with their extra-base clouts. In the third and final game against the Broncs, played up north, the Bruins ran into more than their share of tough luck. Under menacing clouds they almost overcame a big lead, but were nosed out by a 98. Santa Clara went into a seven run lead in the first two innings, but the Bruins finished strong and almost nipped the Broncs. Captain Johnny Moore turned in a great game in the outfield for the Bruins while Ira Hawkin's play on the infield and at the bat was a good sight to the downhearted Bruins. Santa Clara had a good team, but like the Bruins had a hard time winning any ball games.

Sketchley's headlong dive for safety went for nothing as the Stanford hurler received credit for an assist as he tossed to first for a putout. Stanford invaded the local diamond for a brace of games with the Bruins, and starring "Cootie" Thompson as the bulwark of the attack and defense, defeated the Bruins in both games. Thus ended the dedication of the Joe E. Brown Field. The first game found the Bruins rallying in the late innings to give the Indians a scare but lost the game 4-6. Lynn Compton and Don Cox collected homers for the locals. Claude Purkett took the mound for the visitors the next day and limited the Bruins to five hits while his teammates scored on eight hits for a 4-1 win. In the northern game Purkett again proved too tough as he set the Bruins down with three runs in a ten-inning struggle. Stanford drove across four runs.

After their first two league tilts with the Broncos, the Bruins entertained the powerful Bears in a pair of games on the Sawtelle diamond. In the first game the Bruins hopped on the pitchers for eight tallies in the first five innings and came out with an 8-7 win. Art Kenne starred at the plate and on the mound to give the Bruins their first victory. Sketchley and Null helped out by collecting homers and driving in a couple of runs apiece. The Bears solved Rudy Hummes' curves to take the second game 9-4 despite the stick work of Compton and Sketchley. The last game of the series was a walk-away for the Bears as they walloped their visiting brothers II-3.

Rumor has it that the Bruin who crossed up the Bears by beating the throw to first was Harry Sketchley, not that there is any resemblance.

Southern California's Trojan nine made a clean sweep of its series with the Bruins, scoring two of the wins via the shutout route. Ed Vitalich, league-leading hurler, held the Bruins scoreless in the first game, winning 5-0. The second game proved somewhat of a hitting battle, but again the Trojans got the upper hand, taking this encounter 8-5. U.C.L.A. threatened in the late innings but the early Trojan lead could not be overcome. Rudy Hummes, the local ace, hurled a great game in the finale but was edged out when Bob Foltz, S.C. pitcher, held the Bruins to three scattered hits. The Bruins went scoreless for the second time against the Barrymen and for the third time of the year when they lost the last game 0-5.

Konopka started another S.C. rally by beating out a throw to first. The Trojans made a clean sweep of the series as they took the last game away from the Bruins on the local diamond.

The cross-towners put up a better defense than did the Blue in Golders. Harry Sketchley's scratch hit didn't give him a chance to reach first.

Ace chucker Rudy Hummes looked good before the pitch but his batting average told a different tale. Catcher is Jerry Bowman of the gridiron.

TEAM

BASEBALL

Coach Billy Guyer ran right into the same old problem that had faced his predecessors, that of recruiting enough members of the Freshman class to field a baseball team. Only after several practice sessions had elapsed did the roster list more than nine candidates. A handful of stars furnished enough power and fielding finesse to make the season partially successful. Strangely enough, two of the defeats came at the hands of high school teams, Fairfax and University. In the first of a two-game series with the Loyola Frosh the Brubabes put on a merry circus to lose by a football score to the Cubs from Del Rey. The second game found a vastly improved Bruin nine holding the Loyola team to a tie in a six-inning contest. Glory came to the pea-greeners by walloping the Trojans twice with Milt Shedd pitching air-tight ball. Bob Schminke, Stewart Bowdan, Bob Lusk, and Al Harris furnished the power at the plate.

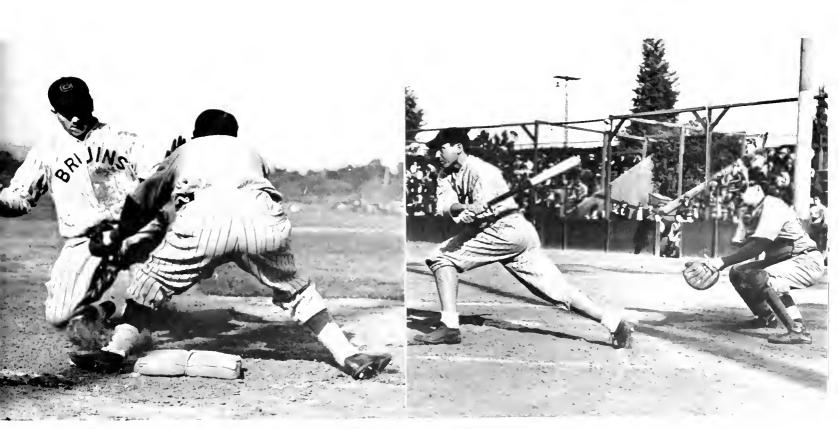

Prior to their last game, the Frosh voted to place at the honorary helm of the team two of its most valuable members. Milt Shedd, at left, was so honored because of his sterling mound work. Stewart Bowdan was made his cohort after a brilliant year at third base.

The baseball teams this year boasted of what is perhaps the youngest coaching combination in any large college. Billy Guyer was selected to boss the yearlings after being only one year removed from his post as second baseman and captain of the 1940 team. Billy's fiery red hair and uncurbed enthusiasm made him the sparkplug of the varsity teams on which he played. These same qualities were injected into the play of his new associates.

Stewart Bowdan was caught napping at first base and only luck and a good slide took him under the outstretched glove of the Loyola first-sacker.

Third-baseman Stu Bowdan added plenty of punch to the Bruin batting order. Another hit boomed off his bat as he swung at an offering from the Loyola hurler.

TENNIS

One of UCLA's busiest officials is Bill Ackerman, whose best known title is that of Graduate Manager. His duties in this capacity are enough to keep most people fully occupied, but not Bill. Daily he drops the title as an official and assumes that of coach of the varsity and freshman tennis teams. His interest in tennis has led to his appointment as NCAA chairman in this district.

At the beginning of the season the Bruin tennis outlook was bright. Due to illness and ineligibility, the season took on another aspect. Bob Stanford, Craig Cunningham, and Alex Gordon, who played so brilliantly last year were out along with two other boys who were being counted on to win points—they were George Peet and Bill Anderson. Among those who will be lost to next year's squad through graduation will be J. D. Morgan, the captain and inspiration of the local netters. J. D. has played for the locals for the past three years and his steady playing, good spirit, and determination will be hard to replace. Gone also will be Tony Prodan and John Chapman, both who played steady tennis. For next year's team, however, the prospects look bright and Coach Ackerman will have plenty of replacements such as the remaining varsity which is composed mainly of sophomores and juniors, the junior varsity, and a very strong freshman team together with the boys who didn't see action this year. The Blue and Gold netters all in all can look forward to a very strong team next year and should give any of the schools in the Pacific Coast Conference a close race.

Sentenced to two years hard labor, Travers Hilson finally landed the soft berth as Senior Manager of the tennis team. He still found plenty to do in arranging for the northern tour and the visiting teams at home

Eugene Kayser and Tom Idle have the job of calling matches and retrieving tennis balls that go over the fence. Both boys were first year managers and next year will be junior managers. Next is Travers Hilson, the present senior manager. George Mayle, in charge of the freshman team, will be next year's senior manager. Bob Stanford, out of active competition this year, ably supported the managerial staff with his accurate calling of the matches.

S E A S O N

In the first practice match of the season the Bruin netters played a double header with Cal Tech and Redlands. In the first match the Uclans ended with a 5-5 tie, but against Redlands an 8-1 victory was registered by the Blue and Gold boys. The U.C.L.A. Alumni proved too tough for the present crop of Bruins, and they went down to defeat by a 3-12 count. The All-Stars, composed of well known Southern California players, handed the locals a 7-2 set-back in another practice match. The local netmen came back in the next match and defeated the Arizona Wildcats 9-0 in what appeared to be the best match played by the Uclans this year. In the finale, the Bruins dropped their last match to Miami University 1-8.

Morgan had to stretch to reach a high volley from the racquet of Jack Tidball. Teammate Dick Dearden shared in the loss handed them by Tidball and Larry Meyers.

Against the invading alumni the Bruin captain found the going plenty tough, for instance returning this low drive. Elbert Lewis defeated him in two sets.

Morgan, Bruin captain, went high into the air as he came to the net and returned the ball to the Stanford opponents. Morgan teamed with Dick Dearden to give the Bruins their first doubles team, a combination which won more than its share of games. Against the Indians they won in a close three-set match.

In the first match with California, played on the local courts, the Bruin netters lost 2-7. The Uclans took only two single matches. Morgan, playing number two singles dropped Brown 6-1, 4-6, 6-4 and Bleak number three singles won over Spencer 6-1, 6-3. The remaining singles and the three doubles were closely fought, but the Bear netmen edged through to victory, usually in the third set. Cal acted as host for the second match and once again trounced their relatives, this time 8-1. Tony Prodan won the only point for the Bruins, by outlasting Ammonette in the sixth singles 12-10, 6-2. The other matches were won by Cal in two sets except the feature contest in which Canning won over Dearden 4-6, 6-2, 10-8.

Victim to the game of Ralph Bleak was California's number three singles player Spencer, here returning a high volley to his backhand from Bleak.

California's clean sweep in all three doubles matches included as their victims the Bruin tandem of Dick Dearden and J. D. Morgan, top Bruin twosome.

Kruger and Hutchinson of Stanford tool the other doubles from Inouye and McAnulty, 6-3, 6-0.

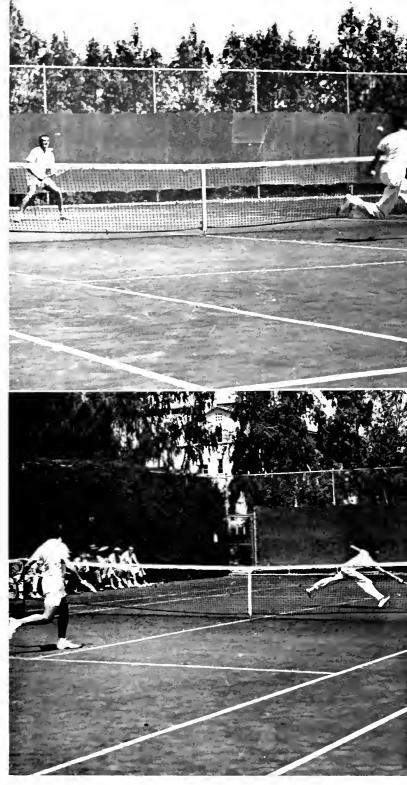

MATCHES

In the first of the two matches with U.S.C., placed on their courts, the Trojans won by an 8-1 accision. Bleak and Prodan scored the lone point in the second doubles over Jorgenson and Roth, 6-2, 63. Otherwise, the Figueroa boys had the match well in hand. Keller of the Bruins barely was topped by Mattman 7-9 7-5. 3-6. In the second match between the two schools, the Bruins playing on their home courts, they improved considerably but lost by a score of 3-6. The Bruin netmen swept to victory in all of the doubles while the Trojan netters won the six singles. Morgan and Dearden, the locals' pride and joy and first doubles combination, dropped Toley and Jorgenson 6-4, 1-6, 10-8: Keller and Bleak playing second doubles won over Carlock and Odman, 1-6, 6-4, 6-3 while Inouye and Prodan, in the third doubles, outlasted Nelson and Sweet 5-7, 6-2, 6-0. All of the doubles lasted three sets, while only the second singles went the full length. Morgan in this match barely lost to Toley 4-6, 6-2, 4-6, in a hard fought contest.

Captain J. D. Morgan tried to blast Toley off the local courts, but his first serve to the Trojan was too long. Morgan lost in three sets to the Trojan, his second loss to Toley.

Dick Dearden came up to the net to return a drive from the racquet of Ted Olewine in the second meeting of the year between the two. Dearden played first singles for the Bruins but was no match for the highly rated Olewine of the Trojans.

Typical of the smashing game played by Olewine was this shot which caught Dearden out of position on his backhand. The Trojan ace is one of the ranking younger players in the country, as are so many of his hometowners in Santa Monica.

Frosh mentor Larry Myers, left, and captain George Freister were in the best of humor as they talked over one of the S.C. matches. Larry, a graduate student at U.C.L.A., remembered the days back in 1934 when he played on championship Bruin teams. Freister played second singles on the yearling squad.

TRACK

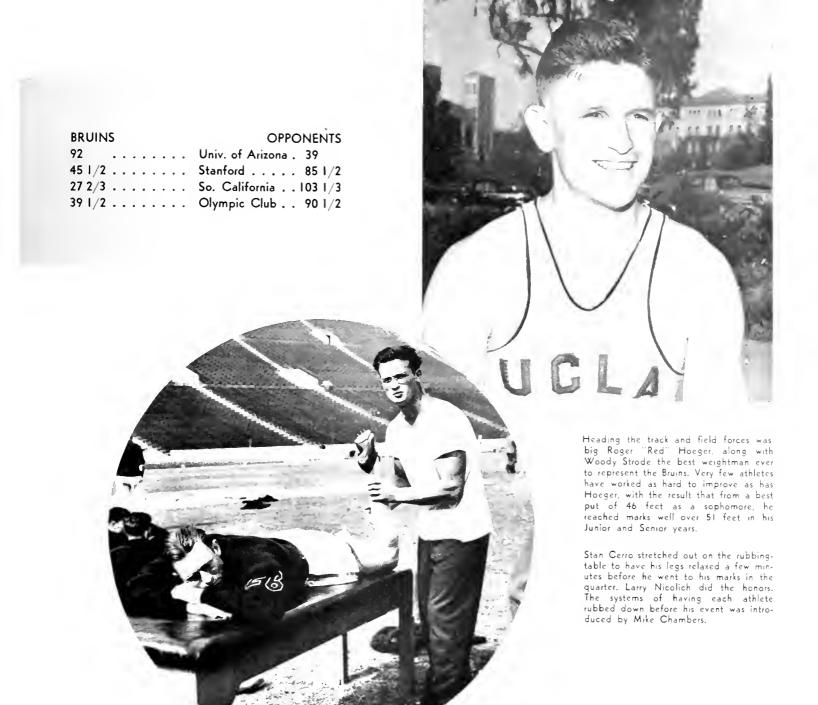

One of the smallest squads in recent years was on hand to welcome the coaching staff, but they made up in spirit what was lacking in numbers. The squad was a closely-knit band including: FRONT ROW: Trainer Mike Chambers, Paul Shoaff, Paul Dixon, Tom Ham, Leon Miller, Roy Keene, Kenny Boyd, Hal Sinclair, Jack Hynes, Phil Diez, Jack Schilling, Ray Maggard, Otis Bowdoin, Hubert Duke, Clarence Mackey. BACK ROW: Senior Manager Roy Menashe, Coach Harr/ Trotter, Luther Goodwin, George Edwards, Stan Cerro, Moss Perry, Bob Tavis, Captain Roger Hoeger, Dan Miller, Jack Ralls, Al Kositch, Earl Carlson, Al Izmirian, Coach Elvin Drake. This team deserved a great deal of credit for their team spirit and the way in which the / gave everything they had, even against such great odds as faced them this year.

Coach Harry Trotter launched a campus-wide man hunt after losing a galaxy of stars from last year's team. Withdrawals and ineligibility further reduced the size of the squad down to traveling-size proportions. Veterans Roger Hoeger, Hal Sinclair, and Jack Schilling formed a powerful nucleus on which to build a team of individual stars. Stan Cerro and Paul Shoaff improved greatly to add their share of points. The yearling team of 1940 turned Ray Maggard, Kenny Boyd, Hubert Duke, and Phil Diez over to the care of Coach Trotter. The best schedule of many years was in the offing until old man Pluvius saw fit to cancel the meets with Santa Barbara State, California, and the Long Beach Relays. Cancellation of these meets not only robbed the team of several trips, but also deprived the team of badly needed competition between the Arizona and Stanford meets. Partial compensation for these losses was offered by the initiation of the annual Los Angeles Coliseum Relays. This new meet gave the boys a chance to reap their annual harvest of medals along with the Fresno Relays and Compton Invitational.

There weren't many bright spots along the cinderpath this year, but as in years past, Harry Trotter was still able to maintain his jovial spirit. "Trot" can point with pride to the spirit his boys have shown when year after year they face the hopeless task of defeating the "Big Three." In the distant past, Trotter served as coach of the Blue and Gold football teams as well as headman on the oval. During that time many famous athletes have come under Trot's supervision.

Roy Menashe continued the line of Sigma Pi senior managers as he took over the reins as chief assistant to Coach Trotter. For most of the season Roy was a one-man crew, and a good one at that.

Track managers do almost as much running as the athletes during a meet, especially the enthusiastic group working under Roy Menashe this year. The staff above who put in starting blocks, carried sweat-suits, etc., went under the names of Joe Prather, Roy Menashe, Bill Bangerter, and Howard Keller.

Plenty of practice but no competition was the order for Bruin spike artists during the early weeks of the track and field season. Old Jupe Pluvius washed out the Santa Barbara State and California meets in addition to the Long Beach Relays, giving Mentor Harry Trotter a dummy preparation. Numerous innovations in the way of calisthenics by Trainer Mike Chambers helped the boys over this period of watchful waiting, but by the time a meet finally rolled around, they were appraised of the fact that only competition can make champions. Among those who set outstanding marks in those daily practice sessions were Paul Shoaff, high jumper, Phil Diez, hurdler, and Leon Miller, distance runner. Also giving favorable indications of things to come in future meets were Hal Sinclair, sprint ace who placed in every important competition, Roger Hoeger, husky shot putter, Jack Schilling, broad jump specialist, and Stan Cerro, quarter-miler.

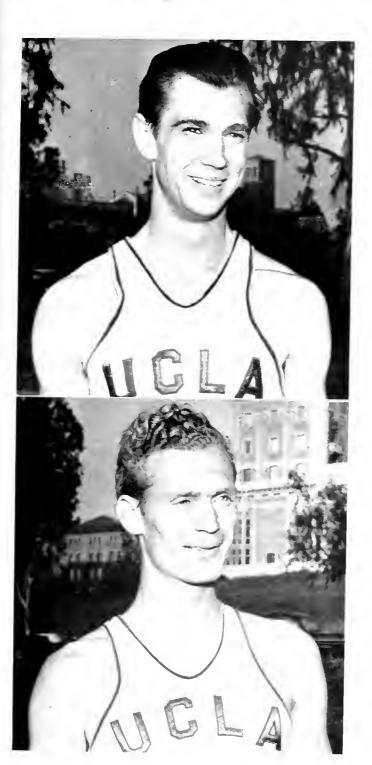

prior to the Arizona meet. Shoaff is co-holder of the school record at 6' 4", but bettered this mark by one inch at the Compton Invitational.

Phil Diez was just beginning to round into shape for the hurdles after a slow start at the opening of the year. After making points against Arizona and Stanford, Phil joined the touring Mexican team.

Most runners find conditioning a tough proposition for the first few weeks, but not so for Leon Miller. Leon merely continued the long-distance running which he did during the fall on the crosscountry team.

CHAMPS

Jack Robinson lived up to all the promises which preceded him from Pasadena J.C., and then some. "Jackie" became the first Bruin athlete ever to win letters in four major sports. His football playing placed him on the second team all-Coast, while he was tops in conference scoring for basketball. On the diamond Jack was a top-notch shortstop, and in track was Conference and N.C.A.A. champ.

Three of the greatest track athletes ever to wear the Blue and Gold brought national recognition to their alma mater in 1940 and only the cancellation of the Olympic Games limited their fame. Jack Robinson stepped from the baseball diamond to the broad-jump pit, and after two weeks practice leaped 25' to set a new record in the conference meet. He reaped national laurels when the N.C.A.A. crown was bestowed upon him. Pat Turner followed Robinson down the broad-jump runway to give U.C.L.A. the best pair of college jumpers in the country. Pat won the Coast Conference-Big Ten meet with a leap of 25' 6", the best mark since the Olympics of 1936. The third member of the trio was Captain Carl McBain. "Mac" ran into a lot of trouble in the low hurdles during his career, but in the National A.A.U. meet he negotiated the 400 meter hurdles in 51.6 seconds. This time equalled the American record set by Glen Hardin and entitled Carl to a place on the All-American track team of 1940.

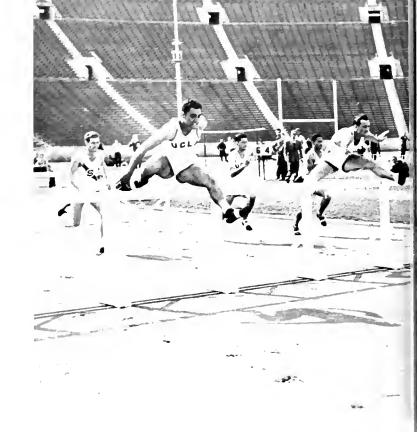

The old traditional stories about "Pat and Mac" found their counterparts on the Westwood campus in Carl McBain (top) and Pat Turner. Their careers on the same track team dated back from junior high days. L.A. High received the benefits of their services with Carl winning the city low hurdles and Pat taking the broad-jump. Harry Trotter got one of his few breaks when they entered U.C.L.A. together. Mac went on to become varsity captain and a big-time politician while Pat was landing a wife.

STAVERD

Bruin tracksters clearly showed the results of their lack of competition when they met Stanford in their first conference meet. Valuable points vanished when Captain Roger Hoeger and Jack Schilling failed even to place in events in which they were favorites. Hal Sinclair came through with his anticipated wins in the sprints after a close call with Grant in the century. The Indians ran away with the rest of the blue ribbons, leaving the Bruins the satisfaction of taking second place in all events except the mile, discus, and polevault. In these events only third place honors went to the home town boys. Luther Goodwin came out of his first varsity meet as a new Bruin star. Unplaced by all pre-meet dopesters, Luther wound up with a second in the broad-jump and a third in the high-jump. New meet records were set by Hart and Peck in the high-jump and pole-

Phil Diez ran neck and neck with Hertel of the Indians in the high hurdles, but slowed up at the finish to wind up in second spot. A few yards in the rear were Dan Miller and Otis Bowdoin. The latter took the show spot over his teammate who ran with an injured knee.

Big power-man for the Palo Alto farmers was Allan Grey. His put of 50' won the shot as Roger Hoeger dropped below expected form.

Larsen breezed across the finish, an easy winner in the half-mile, to give the Reds first place. Teammate Olson finished far behind in the third spot. Sandwiched between the two Indians was U.C.L.A.'s Kenny Boyd, probably the shortest man on the Coliseum track that day.

CALIFORNIA

Coach Harry Trotter's charges ran into the most powerful track and field team in the country when they took on the cross-town Trojans. The Olympic Club of San Francisco came down to add to the competition, bringing along Cornelius Warmerdam as their featured performer. Hal Sinclair met his first defeat of the season when a throat infection sapped his endurance in the century to allow Bourland of S.C. to nip him at the tape. In the furlong, Stan Cerro took Sinclair's place and ran a close third behind the Trojans. Duke ran one of the best races of the day in the low hurdles when he finished inches behind the highly rateo Laret of S.C. Another good Bruin performance was Kenny Boyd's third in the half as he crossed the finish line on the heels of a pair of Trojans. Hoeger in the shot, Miller in the two-mile, and Schilling in the broad-jump each rang up second place points in the dual meet with S.C. Shoaff and Goodwin leaped 6' 2" in the high-jump to tie for third behind Wilson and LaCava of the Trojans. Stan Cerro was elected to the captaincy for 1942.

Leon Miller had a sure third place when he came into the stretch in the two mile against S.C. and the Olympic Club, but Ganahl of the Olympics put on a sudden sprint to catch Miller napping. The two tied for fourth place.

Trojan power reached its climax in the quarter when the Cardinal and Gold swept the first three places. Howard Upton was an easy winner, followed by Grunbock, left, and Crank, Stan Cerro was on Grunbock's heels but faded at the finish to go unplaced. Only other Bruin entry was Al Izmirian, who brought up the rear.

Cliff Bourland of the Trojans pulled an upset when he defeated Hal Sinclair in the century with a blazing finish. Hal's throat infection slowed him down after he got off to a beautiful start. Skafte, at left, finished strong to beat out Jackson of the Olympic Club for the third spot. Duke of the Bruins was fifth.

John Mumaw followed in the footsteps of his coach when he was elected freshman captain. Coach "Ducky" Drake was captain and half-miler for the Bruin varsity in 1926 as well as being the top cross-country runner. "Ducky" is well known for the strenuous training he gives this proteges but his methods produce results as in the case of Mumaw. John ran the half and the relay in every meet save the S.C., and here he added the mile to his day's work. Only twice in the season did he fail to win the half.

TRACK

Frosh track made its traditional debut with a mere handful of candidates appearing to be taken under the wing of "Ducky" Drake. Not quite so traditional was the shortage of individual stars on which to form a nucleus. George Phillips and John Mumaw emerged as the outstanding point-winners with Frank Cookson and Hoxsie Griswold showing promise of developing into varsity material. Phillips and Griswold in the shot and discus scored most of the team's points in the field events with Ray Simpson backing them up in the shot. The three alternated to win the shot in every meet. Mumaw and Cookson were high-point men on the track, Mumaw in the half and Cookson in the hurdles. Ralls in the javelin, Katz in the quarter, and Sato in the broad-jump each came through with one win during the season. Against the Trojan Frosh the Brubabes were helpless. Phillips and Griswold took one-two in both the shot and discus for the only Bruin show of strength.

Halfway through the high-hurdles Eliot began to pull away from Marsh of the Brubabes. At the finish the order was the same with Cookson, at left, winding up in the show spot.

O'Reilly of the Trobabes led his teammates to a clean sweep in the century. Shoop finished a foot behind him and Daley came up to get the decision over Cookson of U.C.L.A.

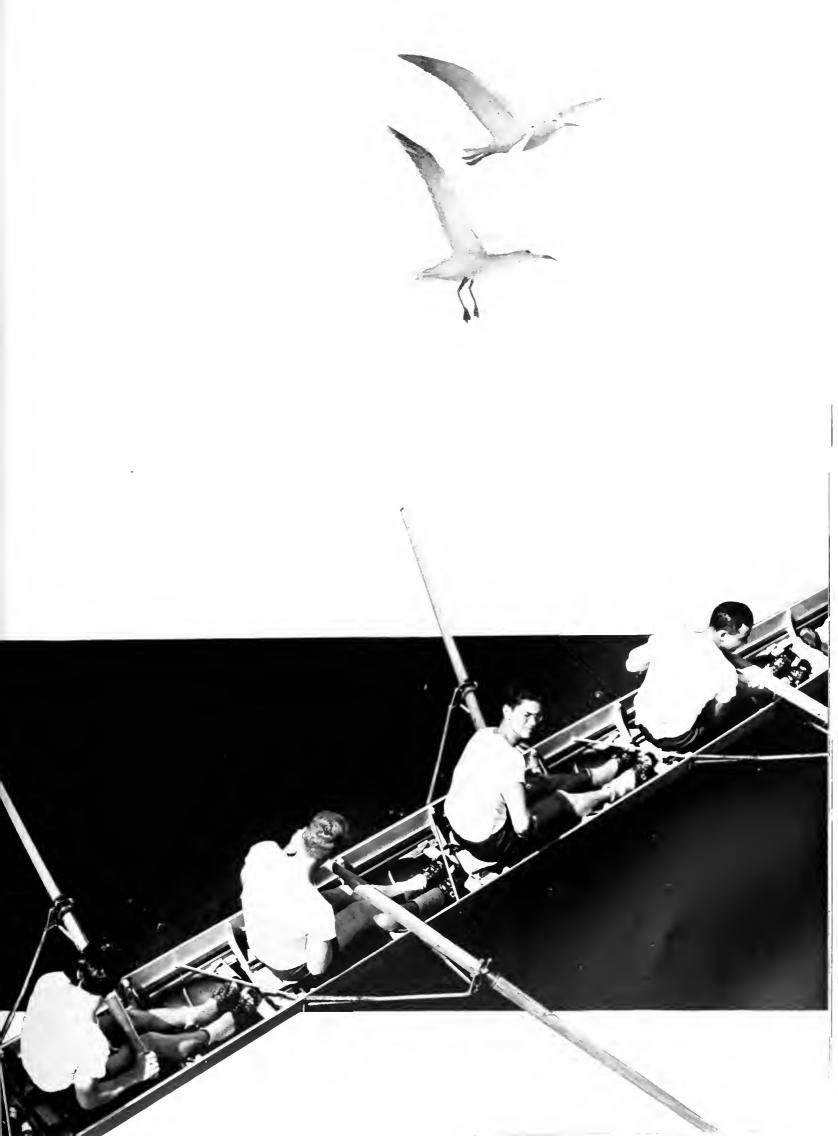

John Mumaw, Bruin captain, received the baton from Lee Katz as he started on the anchor lap far behind the fast-moving Trobabes. U.C.L.A. holds the record, set in 1937.

Van De Venter displayed good form against the Trobabes but lacked the drive to push him into first spot. He tied with teammate Laeventhal for third as Troy took one-two.

CREW

U.C.L.A. owes a wealth of thanks to Ben Wallis, coach of the Bruin sweepsters. Without the unceasing work of this lawyer-coach, crew would never have reached the importance that it has achieved during the past few years. Law practice took most of his time, but twice a week Coach Wallis put his charges through miles of tough rowing.

Rowing took another step forward this year when the course and boathouse were made available for the entire season. Crew has been almost a self-made sport at Westwood. Daily trips to Long Beach were a great handicap to crew members until replaced by the tide-controlled course at Ballona Creek. Boathouse facilities were provided late in 1940, but lack of funds left the shells stranded without a landing. This fault was remedied in 1941, and with the purchase of a new shell things are looking up.

All the members of the varsity crew elect the commodore of the Bruin Rowing Club at the end of each season. Ignacio "Iggy" Quijada was elected to this position to reward his work in building up an interest in crew. "Iggy" pulled an oar in the first boat as a Sophomore and Junior, alternating between the jayvee as a Senior.

Senior manager Paul Simon enjoyed crew from the wheel of the coaching launch where he relaxed and sympathized with the galley slaves.

Assistants to headman Paul Simon were George Cambon, Clark Tinch, and Milton Willner. Life for these boys was a joyride when their boss broke down and allowed them to ride in the coaching launch.

Crew attracted more campus interest this year than at any other time in its history. The nearness of rowing facilities at Ballona Creek brought out a record number of candidates for both varsity and freshman boats. Pre-season conditioning reached a new height when Mike Chambers initiated a full program of calisthenics which quickly weeded out the less enthusiastic. With the coming of spring, spirits blossomed anew and life became less drudgery. The fall dance sponsored by the Bruin Rowing Club under the leadership of Commodore Ignacio Quijada was followed by a full social calendar. Annual selection of the crew queen found Eleanor Vetter wearing the crown as reigning beauty. This year the crew members made use of their brains as well as their brawn by utilizing all the candidates for queen. A woman's auxiliary, Shell and Oar, was organized to further the cause of rowing at U.C.L.A. First objective of the beauteous group was to raise funds for the installation of showers and lockers at the new boathouse. Led by president Dorothy Dodge, a raffle and bridge contest were held to start the financial drive. Everything considered, it is hard to see how the oarsmen can lose.

Top among early season candidates was the array of crewmen forming the first boat. Jim Wallace, left, set the stroke for the other seven members. In consecutive order behind Wallace were: A. J. Meyer, Bruce Johnston, Tom Fuller, Lester Levitt, Homer Mihm, Warren Hayes, and Ignacio Quijada. Bob Parr rode in the driver's seat. Against Cal, Levitt and Quijada were replaced by Kingston Cable and Lee Clark with Jim Raker taking over as coxswain. Levitt was lost early in the year with a broken arm and Quijada was restored against Oregon.

Constant juggling by Coach Ben Wallis made it impossible to pick a definite jayvee boat. Early season form placed Tony Lloyd - Morris at stroke, Lee Clark at seven, Neal Dundas at six, Sam Sale at five, Don Nyhagen four, Warren Beck three, Rod Ogilvie two, and Hanford Files at the bow position. Barking the stroke was Jim Raker, who with some of the others, was later promoted to the first stroke.

Coach Ben Wallis probably thought the boys would really appreciate their shell a great deal more after explaining the mysteries of the fragile canoe to a bevy of beautiful girls. Shell and Oar members wanted to see the origin of their club so Ignacio Quijada, extreme left, A. J. Meyers, and Bob Parr were delegated to carry out the pleasant assignment.

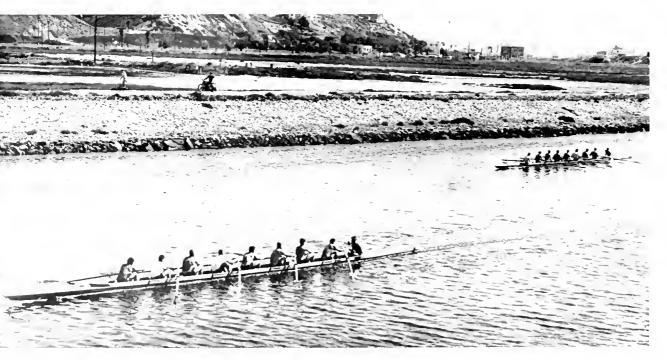

The powerful Golden Bear boat jumped to an early lead over the Bruins and gradually pulled away. Rumor had it that the Cal boys lack finesse, but here they had power and smoothness to spare. Coach Wallis followed his band in the coaching launch to bark out advice and encouragement.

With the result of the Oregon State race at Corvallis still to be decided, the Bruin varsity has maintained an even ,500 average in three races. In the opening race of the season, Sacramento J.C. and Ben Wallis' crew crossed the finish line at Ballona Creek in a dead tie. The race was held under the worst possible natural conditions, with a swollen course and floating debris hindering both boats. In the second race of the year, failure to take a high stroke cost the varsity a four-length loss to the strong Bear crew from Berkeley. The powerful Cal boat stepped out in front and was never headed. Against Stanford, the locals outswept the Indians by seven lengths.

Along the rock-bound shores of Ballona Creek the Bruins made up for their showing against Cal by rapidly putting clear water between the Eugene P. Clark and the canoe paddled by the Indians.

Corswain Eddie Urata was lost among the Frosh grants while on land, but on water he cracked the whip over Tim Evans. Bob Whitney. Warren Miller, Phil Baker, Dave DeHaas, Meyer Blumberg, Bob Jones, and John Joseph. This crew was the biggest and best boatload of freshmen ever to splash the waters of Ballona Creek.

Bob Hillen will some day be one of the best crew coaches in America. Any frosh crew member on campus will tell you so at any rate. Under Hillen's supervision fall practice was instituted for the first time. There is little doubt that the success of the '44 frosh crew was due in a large part to the work of Coach Hillen.

CREW

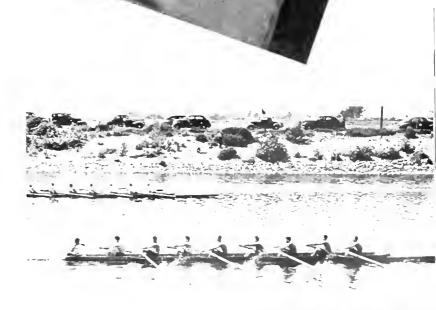

A steadily improving crew all year long Coach Bob Hillen's freshman boatload this year reached their climax in the Stanford Regatta, the final local race of the year, by setting a new yearling record in an upset win over the layvee boat. In their opening race with Sacramento J.C.'s second boat, inexperience cost the Brubabes a win. The peagreeners turned in a pair of wins over Compton J.C. to complete their season. The line-up was almost the same all year long, the only changes being made in the coxswain, bow, and six positions, until five mar Brinton Turner was stricken by appendicitis two hours before the first Compton race the day of the Cal regatta. The rest of the boat included coxswain Eddie Urata, stroke Tim Evans, seven Ray Whitney, in Warren Miller, five Myer Blumberg, four Dave De Haas, three Phil Baker, two Bob Jones, and bow Johnny Joseph.

Members of the high-and-mighty junior varsity hung their heads in shame after a challenge race with the lowly freshman boat. The yearlings preceded to uncork their best effort of the year and sailed down U.C.L.A.'s own Poughkeepsie with the jayvee following in their wake. A new Frosh record for the 2000 meter course was hung up by Coach Hillen's rangy charges as they romped to victory.

WINNER

MINOR SPORTS

RIFLE TEAM

The rifle team, varsity and R.O.T.C., usually a strong Uclan minor sport, upheld its reputation again this year by winning 85 out of 86 matches. The R.O.T.C. team lost one match, but the varsity remained undefeated for the second consecutive year. The R.O.T.C. team, composed of Milton Shedd, Franklyn Michaelson, William Brown, Thomas Simpson, and Rolfe Blanchard, won the Hearst Match from 31 other teams in the Ninth Corps Area, making the second consecutive year for this honor and distinction. Sergeant Thomas, coach since the days on Vermont Avenue, resigned his position just as the season was getting under way. He was replaced by Sergeant Hogwood from the University of Washington

Fred Stevens, Bill Brown, and Mike Corcoran were among the top Bruin sharpshooters. Mike was a Navy man: the others were officers in the Bruin

Despite the ineligibility of Ed Smyth, captain and 1940 Pacific Coast Conference title holder in the 175 pound division, the Bruin grapplers boasted a successful season. Briggs Hunt, former Bruin wrestling team captain and coach for the past five years, was drafted by the army in mid-scason and replaced by another alumnus, Bob Thomas. Our grunt and groan boys were able to avenge last year's defeat by "big brother" in a very convincing manner, the final score being 21-11. In other league competition the scrappers triumphed over Whittier 33 - 5, and were pinned by San Jose by a slim margin of 16-4. Gridder Dale Tipton was outstanding in the heavyweight division along with Bob Meriam who wrestled in the 165 pound class. After the declaration of Ed Smyth's ineligibility Bob Meriam was elected captain.

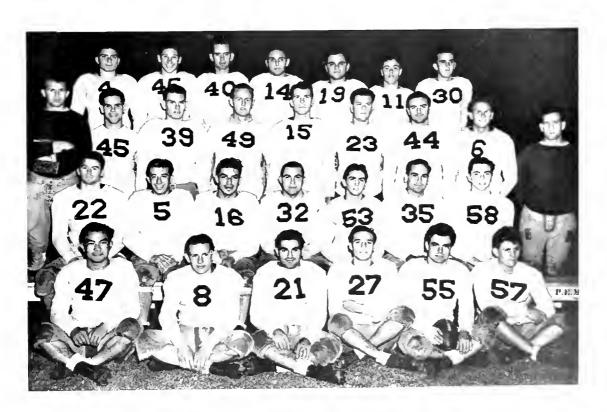

Curry, wearing the trunks of the Cal wrestling team, found himself in an upsetting position as Dale Tipton pinned his shoulders to the mat. To make sure of his victim, the 240 Bruin cracked a few Curry ribs

B FINTING.

An experimental season in 1939 showed the benefits of a football team made up of players who participated for the sole reason that they enjoyed playing football. And the "B" team was given a definite place in UCLA athletics. Norman Duncan, former Frosh mentor, was placed in charge of the small band with Frank Kroener as his assistant. Norm's charges went into their first game against the Pasadena J.C. reserves undermanned, but managed to hold their opponents to a 13-0 score. The Bruins reversed the decision in a return engagement with the same foes, emerging a one-point winner in the 7-6 game. A harddriving attack made the Bruins a constant threat, but lack of a scoring punch kept them from scoring until the third period. Walt Crowe passed to Frank Angonna, the play winding up on the Pasadena 3, and Warner Browning plunged over to score after three attempts. Pasadena's score came late in the game as a result of a recovered fumble and two passes from the Bruin 15. In the last contest of a brief schedule the Los Angeles City College reserves overcame an early Bruin lead to win 13-7. Crowe scored for the Bruins on a 33-yard run.

F E N C I N G

In contrast to the unusual success of last year's Bruin fencers, the 1941 squad of blue and gold stabbers went down to defeat in each of its matches. Composed almost exclusively of sophomore foilmen, the squad was not able to come through in tight places when points were needed. Sophomore ace Mason Hamilton was the one shining light on the team, winning most of his encounters. In the two matches with Southern California, the Uclans came closest to victory, losing the epee 6-3, the foil 5-4, and winning the saber 5-4. In both engagements the scores were identical.

Mason Hamilton and Parke Snavely were battling with sabres in practice, prior to locking weapons in this head parry.

Preparing for the Trojans were Harold Edmundson and Elwy Jones. The weapons being wielded were dueling swords.

Gentlemen duelists in the Bruin manner; Coach Ed Murphy, Hajime Tanaka, Mason Hamilton, Elwy Jones, Captain Parke Snavely, Harold Edmundson, Eugene Levine, Jack McLaughlin, John Russell, Manager Walter Guy. Guiding the destinies of the golf team were: Don Carman, Carl Randall, Harry Lindenbaum, Warfield Garson, BACK ROW: Coach Don Park, Everett Smith, Lowell Robbins, Jerry Hawley, Howard Culver and Keith Gresser.

After numerous attempts to hold the traditional Al-Universit, Golf Tournament were frustrated by persistent rainfall, the matches finally got under way in the middle of March as the Brentwood course began to dry off. Capt. Warfield Garson got in the same groove as another minor sport captain and was declared ineligible after winning the all-U tournament. In an auspicious season opener the Bruin divoteers waved the Colorado University 101/2-41.2. Next came an intersectional match with Oklahoma with a 9-9 tie resulting. From this point on nowever, the team was unable to muster sufficient strength to score a win over our major opponents. Cal. Stanford, and S.C. The scores for these matches indicate that the Bruins were competely outclassed being 17-10, 24-3, and 18-9.

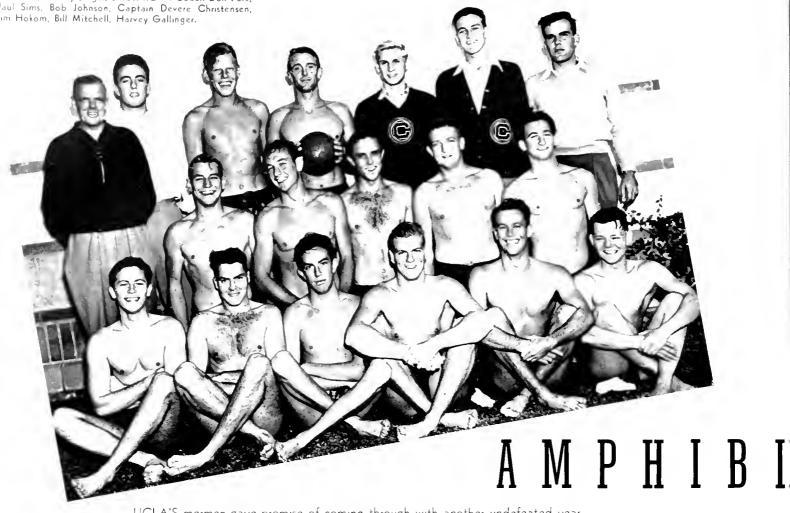

Brentwood Country Club furnished the setting for the first match between the Trojan and Bruin divoteers. Don Carmen, leading Bruin golfer, teed off in perfect form before the critical eyes of the Trojans

Howard Culver blasted the ball far down the fairwat Cheviot Hills, but could not defeat those Troja

UCLA'S mermen gave promise of coming through with another undefeated year. They breezed through a six game practice schedule with but a single loss, that to an all-star aggregation of former Bruin players. In the win column were 12-5 and 11-4 decisions over Fullerton J.C., 14-7 and 6-0 wins from Compton J.C., and a 7-3 victory over the Los Angeles Athletic Club. The league season found a lower percentage of wins, with three victories and the same number of losses. Stanford fell before the Bruins twice, first by a one-sided score of 5-15 and the second by 4-5. Cab Mitchell tallied seven goals in the first game and three in the second to dominate the scoring. California reversed the picture in taking both games by the identical score of 8-6. The flu bug kept Mitchell on the sidelines in this series, leaving Devere Christensen to furnish the scoring punch. The first game with S.C. went to the Bruins 7-6, Troy winning the last game 12-8.

Fen Holmes, fresh from the Islands, got an early taste of high-class waterpolo when he went up against Verne Kelsey. Verne rates as a Bruin great, making the alf-Coast two years running.

One of the best rounded aggregations ever to turn out for swimming at U.C.L.A. greeted Don Park late in February, but the squad was soon weakened by numerous ineligibilities and injuries. Led by Captain Bill Kuehne, the local splashers were standouts in a number of events, even threatening to erase the Bruin reputation for lack of divers. The squad started the season with victories over Compton and Fullerton Junior Colleges, but were later turned back by California and Stanford who boasted unusually strong teams. Along with Kuehne, the tankmen were well represented in the sprints by Dore Schwab, "wonder-boy" on last year's frosh team; in the backstroke by Johnny Seigal; in the breast stroke by Dick Reed, and distances by Fen Holmes. In the climaxing tilt of the season, our splashers drubbed El Trojan 46-29.

In the historical meet in which the Bruin mermen finally defeated the Trojans, Gene Glasband fired the gun to start Bill Kuehne on his way to victory in the 50. Taking off are Schwab of the Bruins, Trojan Blenkhorn, Kuehne, and Hinkley of the cross-towners.

One of the most successful teams among the minor sports, lightweight basketball attracts those who play the game for the fun of it. Part of the squad who came out were: FRONT ROW: David Vann, Dick Towne, Jack Saunders. STANDING: Art Sundberg, Taylor Caspary, Co-captains Bob Leebody and Ray Gillette, Manager Bruce Carpenter.

145-LB.

Overshadowed in publicity by their big brothers, the Bruin lightweights far surpassed them in the won and lost column. Eighteen wins were chalked up by the speedy quintet. Six losses were handed the Bruins with their archrivals from Berkeley receipting for two of the defeats. The northern tour netted seven victories out of the nine games played. Coach Waldo Lyon molded a smooth, fast-breaking quintet built around co-captain Bob Leebody, high scorer for the year. Supporting Leebody on the forward wall were Dick Sakomoto, Tosh Ihara, and Homer Hocker, all of whom closely pressed Leebody for scoring honors. Defensive positions were held down by Dick Towne and three year veteran Ray Gillette.

GYM TEAM

Continuing where they left off last year, U.C.L.A.'s gymnasts enjoyed a very successful season, winning dual meets from California, S.C., Occidental, and Santa Barbara. The musclemen then turned around and lost a triangular Pacific Coast Conference meet with Cal and S.C. by a narrow margin in which the final scores were 110 for the Bears, 101 for the Bruins, and 9 for the Trojans. The 1941 squad boasts a number of stellar performers and includes the captain and consistent point winner, Bill Corwin, Russ Bidwell, Don Gresser, Eddie Motter, Johnny Byrne, Oliver Gross, and John Campbell. The performances of blind Eddie Motter were a feature of every encounter. The entire team showed fine spirit and all shouted praise for Coach Cece Hollingsworth. This makes the second successive year for Cece in the top-flights of the gym world. For a time, it was hoped that some of the boys would be sent east to compete in national meets as the quality of their performances was such that they were likely to do well in such competition, but a little matter of lack of funds kept the boys home.

KNEELING: Gordon Miller (fifth man), Leon Miller (second man). STANDING: Coach Elvin "Ducky" Drake, Bob Johnson (sixth man), Captain Dave McFarland (fourth man), Dick Moore (third Lane Donovan (first man), Senior Manager Russell Simpson, Individual ability plus a well-balanced team gave UCLA its best band of harriers in history. Santa Monica J.C. was run into the ground with a 16-45 score in favor of the Bruins, with Donovan, Miller, MacFarland, and Moore sweeping the first four places. California handed a visiting Bruin team its only defeat, the Bears winning 23-33 as Peters crossed the wire seconds ahead of Donovan. Los Angeles put up a close fight before losing 33-25, as Donovan and Leon Miller finished in that order to give the Bruins a good lead. This same pair led the way to the wire as Stanford was beaten 27-28. Miller reversed the order when San Diego lost 32-23. In all the meets MacFarland, Moore, and Gordon Miller gave a close support to the leaders.

Gordon Miller, fifth Bruin to pass the half-way point in the San Diego meet, still faced two grueling miles of hills over the local course. With verbal aid from Manager Russell Simpson, he finished in eighth place to add valuable points.

Norm Duncan gave his boys plenty of tough practice by matching his best men against each other. Hector Anton and Jack Perrin, top men in their weights, put up a good scrap. Anton fought at 120, Perrin at 145.

Learning the art of self-defense the hard way were: Tommy Matsunaga, Jasper Dailey, Hector Anton, Robert Rutt, Cliff Ketzel, Jack Perrin, Wesley Russell, Sho Onike, Manager Carter Ruby, and Coach Norm Duncan.

After fall practice this year the Brun buxing situation looked as good as ever but when the spring enrolment came around, the nx bug ran amuck and Coach Norm Duncan almost had to resort to conscription in order to get up a team. However, to aid the local situation a couple of unheardof lads in the personages of Manual Alba and Dave Lynch turned up and developed into a pair of class, punchers. Also consistent in their respective weights were Hector Anton and Cliff Ketzel. The plue and gold poxers lost the first match of the season to a superior Stanford squad and never were a threat as a team the entire season. The bout with California was a part of the Men's Do and almost featured a Bruin victory. However, only four Uclan sluggers could be mustered and by losing one of these bouts. the Westwooders came out on the short end of a 3-5 count. A scheouled match with Cal Aggies had to be cancelled when the Aggies packed up and left for Boston to compete in the National Championships on the date of the Bruin match.

Attracted by the rough play in hockey were, FRONT ROW: Captain Morrie Pechet, Clyde Christofferson, Jim Bartholomew, Jim Mellon, BACK ROW: Allan lanell, Bill Ewonus, Scott Miller, Howard Campbell, Reg Dawson, Leo Hirshfeld, Coach Norman Duncan.

The Bruin puck squad opened the 1940 season in a very auspicious manner with the declaration by Pacific Coast Conference moguls of Scott Miller's eligibility. Early in the season the Bruin sextet beat Loyola to advance to the finals of the Hoover Cup Tournament. From this point on, however, the Bruins, because of injuries and job difficulties, were unable to get their full strength on the ice except on rare occasions. Captain Morrie Pechet, Bill Ewonus, and newcomer Don Prickett carried the brunt of activities on the Bruin forward wall. Howard Campbell and Clyde Christofferson were steady at defense while Jim Bartholomew could always be found in the cage. The pucksters fared about the same in both league and non-legaue competition, winning 2 from Loyola, tieing 2 with S.C. and losing a total of 8 games to S.C., Bakersfield, San Diego, and Loyola in league encounters. Highlights of the season were victories over Loyola and the ties with S.C.

Two of the league's outstanding centers met in this face-off between the Bruins and Trojans. Bruin captain Morrie Pechet was opposed by Eric Beauchamp, one of Troy's best.

Jim Bartholomew was lost amid flying sticks and sharp skates as he blocked the flying puck shot at the goal. Waiting to retrieve were Christofferson and Trojan Harry Black.

California's finest snow crop in years was welcomed by Wolfgang Lert, Ray Avery, Bob Hannah, Bud Halley, and Otto Kaus. Lert became coach in February and Captain Bob Hannah lost his eligibility to leave the squad short on man-power.

Bruin snow-plowers could boast of having more captains than in any other sport on the campus. Perennial star Wolfgang Lert led the pack until graduation promoted him into the coaching position. Bob Hannah took over until the faculty axe removed him and left the post at the mercy of Tom Shumaker. Snow-storms forced the postponement of the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate Tournament but the team was consoled by spending a practice period at Sun Valley. The Bruins came out second in a threeway meet with the Trojans and Pomona, of course S.C. won. Pasadena J.C. lost to the Bruins after taking most of the first places, but had the skids put under them by Bruin second and third place points.

Single-filing down the mountains at Norden on a practice run were Wolfgang Lert, Otto Kaus, and Bud Halley. The team was practicing for the Intercollegiates.

Coach Wolfgang Lert gave his charges a demonstration of an expert's skill in a sallom run. Wolfgang and skiing at U.C.L.A. have been synonymous terms for four years.

John Somerville was blocked from behind as he started on a down-field jaunt dribbling the ball before him. John always turned in a high calibre game.

Somerville relayed the ball to Larry Thompson on a drive toward the goal guarded by San Bernardino J.C. Thompson ran into trouble as he met the defense.

In the first game of the season the Stanford team eked out a close 3-2 win over the locals, but the Bruins found a victim in the second game when they dominated San Bernardino with a 2-1 score. The annual trek to the Bay region resulted in California dishing out a hard 5-3 win and San Mateo J.C. taking over with a 4-1 beating. The third match ended in a tie of 2-2 despite the standout performances of Sommerville, Ralls, and Haskins. When California played a return game on the local field, she again emerged a two point winner of 3-1, and San Mateo found themselves outplayed, but came out with a 1-1 tie. However, in the final game the Bruins overcome the unexpected opposition from San Bernardino J.C. with a 1-0 win.

Preparing for the Cal match were Frank Austin, Phil (Men's Week) Boulian, McCord Crandell, and Frank Maggipinto.

Coach Tom Helt was justly prova of the achievements of his poys despite the record of five wins, five ties, and six losses. When the high calibre of most of the opponents is considered the team deserves the rating of being the best in Westwood history. Most of the contests were with powerful athletic clubs throughout the southland who boast some of state's ranking players. Phil Boulian and Bernie Schwartz were the only returning veterans but were bolstered by Jack Austin and Frank Maggipinto of last year's Frosh. Holdovers from the 1940 team rounded out the roster, these being Harold Harrison, Ray Willhart, and Ray Rothman. This team won both of the intercollegiate matches on the schedule. The S.C. College of Dentistry was blanked 5-0 while the allimportant games with the Bears at Berkeley found the invading Bruins taking away sx wins while dropping three games.

In the past few years, the courses at Scripps Institution of Oceanography have been extended to include the study and research of all forms of marine life. Located in La Jolla, this branch covering the study of marine life is a perfect example of the specialized work being done by the faculty and students of the University of California. Under the director of the institution, Harold U. Sverdrupt, in the fall of '38 the students and faculty of the institution discovered a mud-core of world's-record length, and which showed the submarine geological formation of the Santa Barbara Basin. Then in the spring of '38 the institution took a sevenweeks' cruise off the Gulf of California to make a hydrographic survey and to study the exchange of water between the Gulf and the ocean. The "E. W. Scripps" which has been named after the donor is now being used for all of the institution's research cruises.

TEN B WOMEN

Guardian angel of every woman student in the University, Dean of Women Helen M. Laughlin, serves to make the A.W.S. a more efficient, serviceable and helpful organization. Kept busy representing the University at innumerable teas, luncheons, and other meetings, Dean Laughlin still finds time to keep an eye on her staff which is so efficient it can practically run itself. She is well known for her informal teas for incoming women where from forty to sixty new students dine and chat with women leaders of the campus, and for her vocational lectures given regularly throughout the year.

Women's Medical Advisor Lillian R. Titcomb supervises yearly medical examinations of all women students and cares for their emergency needs.

Responsible for the biggest year of women's activity in the University were these members of the A.W.S. cabinet. In the front row: Nancy Tyler, Ann Gillespe, Connie Purkiss, Harriet Stacy, Jean Launer, Dorothy Renfro, and Marjorie Middlemiss. In the back row are: Katherine Preister, Betty Beal, Betty Ann Carlisle, Marcella Sutton, Christine Backus, Elizabeth Whitfield and Lillian Helland.

ASSOCIATED WOMEN STUDENTS

Crewed by an efficient council composed of the elected officers and the chairmen of the thirteen main committees, the good ship A.W.S. plotted out her course for the year in accordance with the wishes of her 4066 passengers, the women students of the University. The first port in this semester's trip was the Orientation Luncheon for new students on their first and worst day at U.C.L.A. - registration. At this time, Dean Laughlin, her staff, and several prominent campus women were introduced. From there the tour included a long series of programs, lectures, banquets, teas, and fashion shows until the year was climaxed by the Activity Banquet held early in May. Here the newly elected officers were introduced, special service awards were presented, and the new members of the different womens service honoraries were tapped.

Serving most capably as Secretary on last year's council made it easy for Harriet Stacy to take over the office of A.W.S. President this year. Under her leadership the traditional activities were expanded to include an Assembly Committee to give general programs of interest to women students and a handicraft committee for recreational purposes.

To Vice-president Dorothy Renfro fell the engaging tasks of handling the newly inaugurated Women's Week and presiding over the traditional A.W.S. Hi-Jinks.

Keeping records, minutes and correspondence in tip-top shape was only one of the many duties handled so capably this year by Jean Launer in her capacity of A.W.S. Secretary.

Connie Purkiss as Treasurer busied herse f with budgets and requisitions as she attended to the all-important task of juggling the precious A.W.S. funds.

Box lunchers gathered in class on the lawn of the Women's Gym. Long lines formed in class on the lawn of the wound in and out arong the groups. Box lunchers gathered in class on the serpentining times wound in and out arong the groups of the punch bowls as other serpentining was provided by Viv Stancilif's record at the punch bowls as dandwiches. Music was a huge success. It is pring on the server without ants or men, it was a huge success.

HOMENS

The outstanding innovation of the year's program was Women's Week, during which daily activities were held for the Bruin Coeds while the supposedly stronger sex spent long hours in lonely silence. The calendar included a sports playday, a luncheon and program on the lawn of the Women's Gymnasium, a special Women's Week Mixed Recreational and an aquacade fashion show. The week was climaxed by the annual Women's Hi-Jinks held in Royce Hall Auditorium on November 29. Refreshments, dancing, and awarding of prizes in the Women's Gymnasium followed the program. It was not until the following morning at the Mortar Board Breakfast Rally Dance that the men were again allowed to participate in campus activities.

For women only! Disguised males were spotted by big feet and suspicious headgear among Hi-Jinks spectators. Were made to perform and publicly humble themselves on the stage after being branded with indelible lipstick. Tom Shumaker vocalized with vengeance for mistress of ceremonies, Dorothy Renfro.

Boos, not cheers, welcomed invading yell leader Marv Katzman as he tried to take over at Hi-Jinks. A rough fate was his at the hands of the Amazon Spurs who forcibly ejected him from the auditorium. Pat Darby, Leona Wallin and Mary Brubaker took the roaring bull by the horns.

W. A. A.

The beginning of the second semester saw the complete reorganization of the Women's Athletic Association and its enlargement into the University Recreation Association. This new organization, headed by an executive board and a recreational council, will sponsor weekly recreational programs similar to the present Wednesday evening Mixed Recreationals and afternoon recreational hours, during which the facilities of the Women's Gymnasium will be available to any student wishing a little recreation. Intramural sports activities for women and women's organizations will be continued. The program is planned to give men and women a better opportunity to engage in recreational activities together.

Her past experience serving her well, Ruth Nelson presided more than capably as this years' president of the Women's Athletic Association, becoming the leader of its complete reorganization.

Those who served on the W.A.A. Board this year were: Left to right, seated: Jean Kunkel, Chairman of Publicity; Wilma Middaugh, Corresponding Secretary; Ruth Nelson, President; Marilaine Frey, Vice-President; Dolly Reeves, Chairman of Mixed Recreationals. Standing: Audrey Schufeldt. Chairman of Swimming; Claire Haston, Chairman of Baseball; Rosalie Lincoln, Chairman of Badminton; Rita Germaine, Chairman of Tennis; Mary Erma Brown, Chairman of Intramurals; Martha Pattison, Chairman of Poster Committee, and Song Leader; Joyce Munson, Recording Secretary; Helen Friedman, Chairman of Archery; and Ruth Reynolds, Treasurer.

Guiding the destinies of the Women's P.E. Department are in the front row: Allen, Hooper, Gruenwald, Deane, Harshberger, Cubberley, Hyde. In the back row are: Anderson, Snavely, Fulton, Moore, Ketcik, Thompson, Duncan and Johnson.

Coordination of the athletic activity of the University coed was the aim of the Women's Athletic Association during the past year. Afternoons of supervised games in the form of playdays provided for local and visiting students highlighted the year. Contests among different groups within the Department of Physical Education were other major undertakings of the W.A.A. Those coeds showing the most ability in this field of work were haridsomely rewarded by the association with appropriate prizes. Qualifications for membership include a C average through an entire University career and an active interest in the work of the organization. The high standards fostered by the W.A.A. have given it a record through the years of which it is justly proud.

As Vice-President and Social Chairman, Marilaine Frey supervised banquets, programs, and some presidential functions.

As Joyce Munson retires from her official position she advises, "Never be a recording secretary if you want any spare time."

Wilma Middaugh, W.A.A. Corresponding Secretary, found it necessary to engage an expert staff to help handle the profuse correspondence.

Ruth Reynolds spent a busy year juggling the figures so that they would conform to those specified in the budget.

"Fido" begs for a bone at the P.E. club banquet. Margaret Costello reassures her that she can have any crumbs the P.E. majors may leave behind. One of the members is pinch-hitting for the club's lost mascot for the occasion.

The Children's Christmas party provided fun and entertainment for dozens of eager youngsters. Refreshments, music, games, puppet show, and Santa Claus with a pack on his back, were among the exciting surprises planned.

Dr. Frederick Cozens, professor of Physical Education and Dean of the College of Applied Arts, heartily applauded the activities at the Mother Goose dinner given by the P.E. Department.

Freshmen and sophomore women agree that all required courses are not dull and uninteresting especially those given in the Physical Education Department. Two hours a week seems all too little to spend at play when an efficient staff supervises classes in dance, swimming, golf, tennis, badminton, lacrosse, and archery, as well as the regular team sports of volleyball, basketball, hockey and baseball. Special courses are given in life saving, both junior and advanced. Almost any time, any day, Bruin Coeds may be seen treking across Westwood Boulevard to the fields carrying bats, balls and other equipment.

The for-alle One of the major functions of the Women's Athletic Association has been the giving of Bi-monthly Mixed Recreational programs. From six to nine o'clock on a Wednesday evening, the Women's Gymnasium buzzes with activity as five hundred or more carefree students engage in games of badminton, volleyball and ping-pong. Social and folk dancing are also offered, and during the latter part of the spring semester the pool is open for swimming. Refreshments are served outside on the pool balcony. In the future these evening programs will be held weekly under the sponsorship of the newly created University Recreation Association. The men got out of hand at the Hawkins Dance and reverted to the caveman stuff. Prizes were given for the best costumes. These two victors rushed off to Santa Claus, tinsel and all, were featured at the Christmas Dance given in the Women's Gym. on the dance floor.

Although producing no immediate rival for Helen Hicks' throne, golf classes were among the most popular in the curriculum. These ladies of the fairway had their sights leveled on the 200 foot mark.

Amazing results of painstaking instruction in swimming classes found the photographer shooting stars in broad daylight. This was but one of many intricate maneuvers taught to splashing mermaids.

Cupid found the competition tough against archers like this.

When the Women's Athletic Association began its career, it had as its main function the conducting of intramural sports competitions for women. Today these same activities hold an important spot on the program of the newly created University Recreation Association. At the beginning of each semester an orientation meeting is held to acquaint all women with the sports to be offered that season. The climax of the year's activities occurs at the annual spring banquet where athletic letters are presented to those senior women who have best served the W.A.A. in their four years. This is not an award which can be earned, but an honor conferred on those deemed most deserving by the Association.

The photographer managed to sneak up on this terrific action during a class tennis match, with eight girls rushing to the net for a kill shot. P.S. This picture absolutely was not posed.

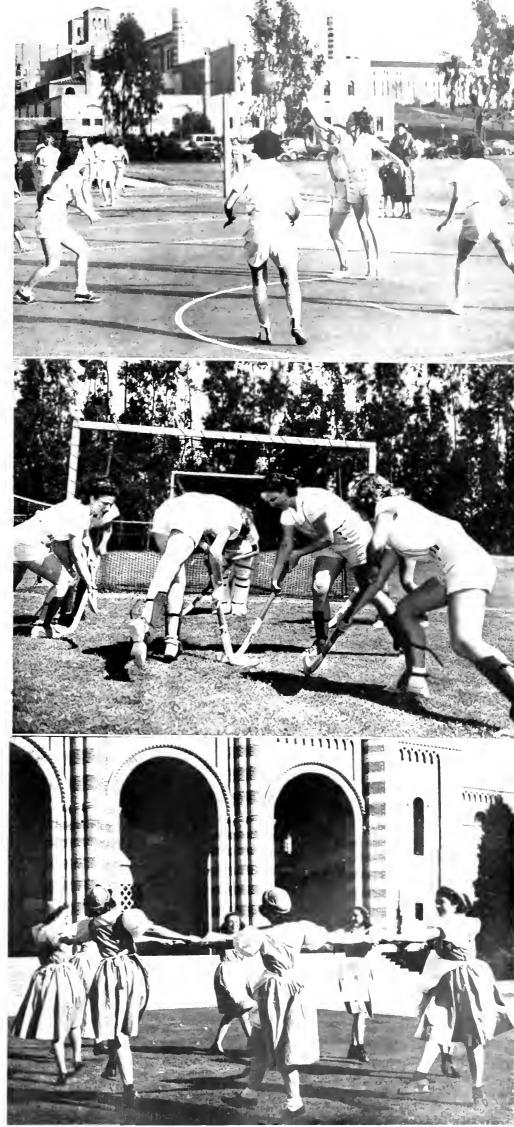

The Intramural sports program sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association has a definite place on the calendar of every sorout, and dormitory. The fall semester is taken up with the volleyball tournament, the trophy being presented at the annual W.A.A. Fall Spread. The spring semester finds the Coeds fighting for the basketball title, and as vacation nears the annual swimming meet is held. Plans are now underway to add bowling and tennis competitions to the present program. Competition in the team sports is conducted through round robin tournaments. There is a separate cup for each sport which the victors may keep as long as their winning streak holds out. Entrance into these intramural games is optional, sign-ups being held before each sport begins. Such tournaments give the women students no longer enrolled in physical education classes, and those who enjoy extra exercise, a chance to engage in friendly athletic competition while enjoying the companionship of their own particular group.

A quick pass provides the action in this fast basketball game.

Roughest and toughest of the women's sports is field hockey. Bruises and victory go hand in hand.

A little less strenuous, a little more rhythmic are the dancing classes.

SORORITIES

Throwing their spacious patio open to one and all, the Thetas attracted a goodly present crowd of neighbors and campus wolves all bent on making friends and influencing people or just quenching their thirst.

Proving they aren't entirely sophisticated the Thetas engage the Alpha Phis in a water fight to end all water fights. Those lines at the upper right aren't engraving flaws but rather more water looking for something to wet.

Typical of all sororities is this group of Alpha Gams working frantically to get their float ready for the Homecoming parade after taking weeks to haggle over its design.

An empty punch bowl, crushed paper cups, campus socialites milling around exchanging the latest bits of gossip—these arc the carmarks of a present. The place is the Dee Gee patio and the gentleman gesticulating is Fiji Bob Scott.

PANHELLENIC Ouncil

The local Pan-Hellenic Council is occupied with any question which affects the sororities, such as deciding whether to send their girls to any dances at Ft. McArthur or seeing that sorority publicity is suitable and equally distributed among the various houses. A complete revision of the local rushing rules took much debate and time this last year. Several of the new measures were creations of a Pan-Hellenic adviser, an extra-day added to the rush week calendar and registration at a $2.00 fee for all those University women who desired to be rushed.

Outgoing Pan-hel Council president Janice Lipking hands over the gavel of the office to new prexy, Frieda Liebscher, at the Panhellenic Ball.

PHRATERES

Dormitory Life

Catering to a more independent and transient clientelle that their sorority neighbors, the dorms offer housekeeping facilities to girls living away from home. Having to prepare their own meals the girls gain valuable homemaking experience. They frequently entertain their friends at open houses and house dances.

Standing in the center to the rear Rudy prexy Juanita Hemperley pensively awaits her turn on the toboggan. Snow sports are only a few of the varied activities enjoyed by dormitory girls.

Characterizing the varied social life of dormitory women, Hersheyite Carol Lubic, Mary Wissburg and others enjoy themselves at one of the newly introduced Host Parties.

This is the famed Hilgard Row and in the left fore-ground are located most of the dormitories. Towards the left center exists the only dormitory located on the campus—Myra Hershey Hall.

PHRATERES CABINET

Membership in Phrateres Cabinet is composed of the president of Philia and the presidents of the various women's domitories on the University campus. When it comes to the actual voting for the various officers of the group each member of Phrateres gets her chance to cast a ballot and it is from these six hundred or more ballots that these officers are chosen. The cabinet is responsible for the coordination of the various Phrateres groups as each dormitory has its own social functions. In addition to coordinating social activities, the cabinet endeavors to unify the vote of the membership into a Phrateres bloc. This attempt to organize at least a part of the non-org vote has met with only indifferent success, judging by the last election.

PHILIA

Peanuts, popcorn and cracker-jack; keep out of the way or you'll get a whack. Maybe the girls are just brushing up on their boarding house tactics.

Philia is another sub-chapter of Phrateres, but is unique in that it does not represent a particular dormitory, but rather is composed of both sorority and non-organization women. Membership is open to any woman who wishes to be a member of Phrateres. It is perhaps the most active of the Phrateres sub-chapters.

Off on a knapsack luncheon go these cuties from Rudy. The gait would appear to be the girls' own version of the Goose Step.

This sub-chapter of Phrateres was built in 1930 in response to Dean of Women Laughlin's call for more dormitories for women. The hall is named after its builder, Dr. Neil Rudy. One of the most active, the chapter has had six presidents of all-Phrateres.

OUTSTANDING WOMEN

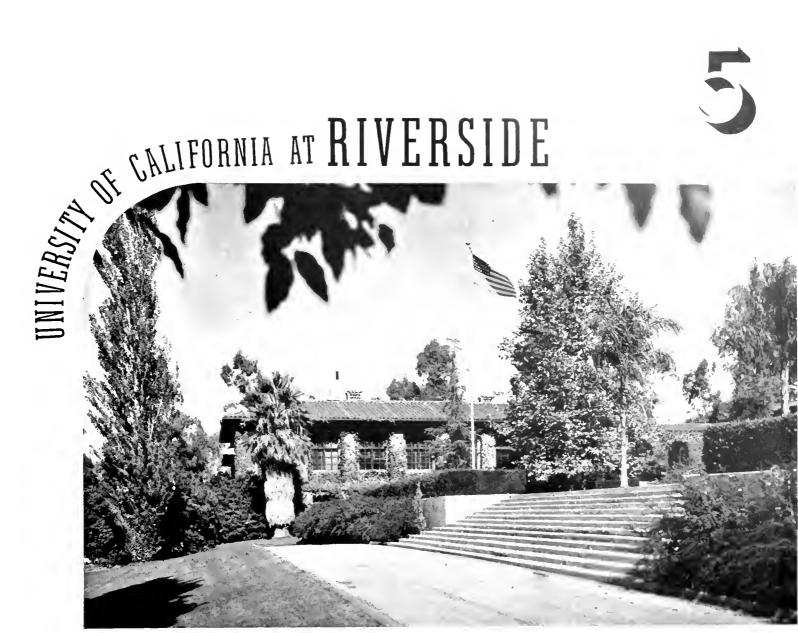

Sub-tropical and tropical flora are studied at Riverside, where 450 acres are owned by the University. From Riverside, bulletins and circulars are spread throughout the state in an attempt to present the results of experimentation to the general public. County agencies are maintained by this division of the University of California, and campus tours are conducted as an added service to the growers and other interested persons. Here in the buildings of the Riverside Citrus Experiment Station, the staff openly discusses scientific problems in open forums for the public. Also maintained by the University as a part of the Riverside division is the W. K. Kellogg Institute of Animal Husbandry. The purpose of this institution has been to make available to horse breeders the finest and purest Arabian blood for the creation of a superior American horse. Today, research assistants working under Managers H. H. Reese and C. E. Howell are creating champion horses through continuous experiment and painstaking care.

NNOTICED by the average person is the intricate detail of Royce Hall. Corresponding to the Lombardian style of decorating the porches of their public buildings, the upper Royce porch has a mural depicting the story of the Instruction of the World. Represented are the twelve disciples of learning with a key sentence from the work of each. Six fifteen-foot stained glass windows and an auditorium seating nineteen hundred people carry out the rich beauty of the building.

A. M. S.

Exceeded in years of service as a dean only by Helen Matthewson Laughlin, Dean of Women, Dr. Earl J. Miller has completed his sixteenth year as head of the men students. In his official capacity, Dean Miller has a seat on the Student Council and Board of Control, acting as the connecting link between the Associated Students and the Administration. Tall, erect and handsome in a masculine way, he is also well qualified for the many social duties which go hand in hand with his difficult and all important position.

Taking time off from his work to use the school directory, Dr. Donald Mc-Kinnon, men's physician, spends his days keeping the stronger sex strong. He also teaches a hygiene class

Student body leader Jim Devere talks over A.M.S. problems with Bill Kuehne, president. Ice cream replaces notebook for Jo Ann Hollister, A.M.S. board secretary.

John Vrba, Yell king, leads an A.M.S. Frosh Orientation group in singing in the lounge of Kerckhoff Hall. Coffee, doughnuts, and advice to the yearlings featured the program.

The Associated Men Students, or as it is better known, the A.M.S., is the male counterpart of the A.W.S. However, instead of several officers, there is only one, the elective office of president. The Association is governed by the A.M.S. board, and on the whole, endeavors to orient freshmen, to better the men's housing facilities, and to put on a good Men's Week.

Men's Week, an unforgettable period of freedom for the beaten-down male about campus, was planned and presided over by A.M.S. president Bill Kuehne. Bristly beards, smelly bodies, dirty clothes and pipes were noticeable, as was the lack of the feminine dignity around school. Starting festivities off with a bang, the Bruin gridiron stars put on U.C.L.A.'s first Varsity Show in the Royce Hall auditorium. Free tobacco and corn cob pipes were given to all males at the Co-op, and for the remainder of the week Westwood was hidden by a thick blanket of smoke. And the funfest still went on. Thursday, a "sissy court" was set up, and brandings were administered to all males unfortunately blessed with "that skin you love to touch". The Men's Do held on Friday, and adding a fitting climax to the week, was highlighted by the U.C.L.A.-California boxing match. Joe E. Brown and Alan Hale were there, and a lot of laughs and refreshments were had by all.

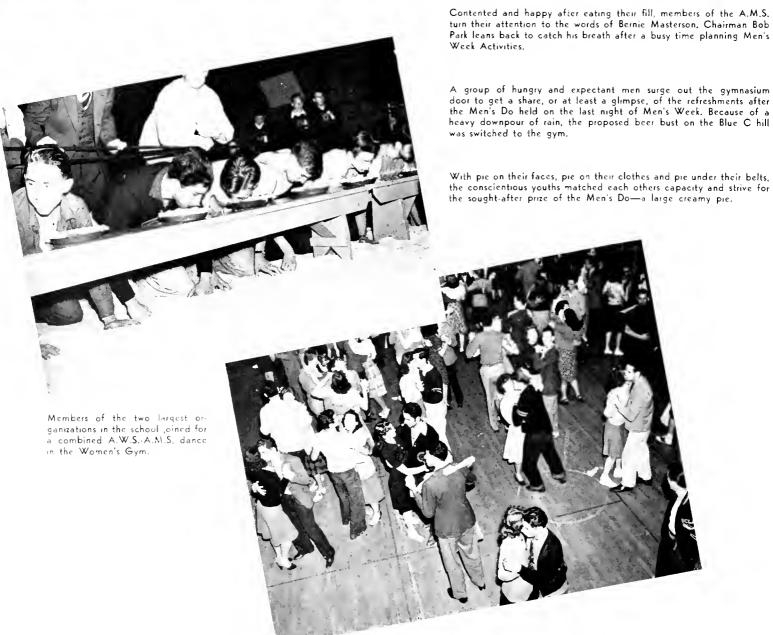

Youth had its fling in the A.M.S. office this year. Bill Kuehne, only nineteen years old when he assumed office, had a lot of fun at the helm. His biggest project of the year was the formulation of plans for Men's Week, Represented the male population of the campus on the Student Council. Bill brought fame to the name of Kuehne not only by virtue of his A.M.S. capacity, but in the athletic field. Stars in water polo and was Captain of the swimming

This looks like a scene from "A Hundred Men and a Girl" but actually it is an informal dinner gathering of the A.M.S. Board and its secretary. Seated around the table are David Hurford, Hugh Geyer, Bob Park, JoAnn Hollister, Jim Devere, Bill Kuehne, Irwin Greenbaum, and Homer Dietrich. Standing are Hal Snyder, Bill Farrar, Llewlyn Williams, Norman Padgett, Joe Virzi, Armin Mardin, Rudy Massman, Bill Taylor, Jose Colon, Jim Gessner, and Ted Vasilopolos.

Monday night of Men's Week, U.C.L.A. brawn, namely the Varsity footballers tocover the Royce hall stage. They took it over all right, and transformed it into a Broadway musical, complete with a shapely chorus, ham actors, and corny comedians to bring about a very successful beginning of another Bruin epic. the Varsity Show. Coach "Babe" Horrell's hefty crew kept the overflow crowd gasping for breath with their rendition of a rhumba fantas. in which the eighteen seductive chorines writhed and cavorted in true Earl Carroll fashion. Noah Curti, Ted Forbes, Stu McKenzie and Nate de Francisco were given tremendous ovations, not to mention Varsity Girl Marie Whitmore's version of a real stage beauty. The Bruin athlete's life—at work, in the classroom, on trips, during the game, and love interestas contrasted with similar situations at a certain cross-town institution were portrayed by severa' of the more veisatile characters of the group. And then, too soon, the curtain fell on the first annual Varsity Show.

A group of the fair mardens joyously play "ring around the rosy." The gorgeous creature in the center is little Noey Curti.

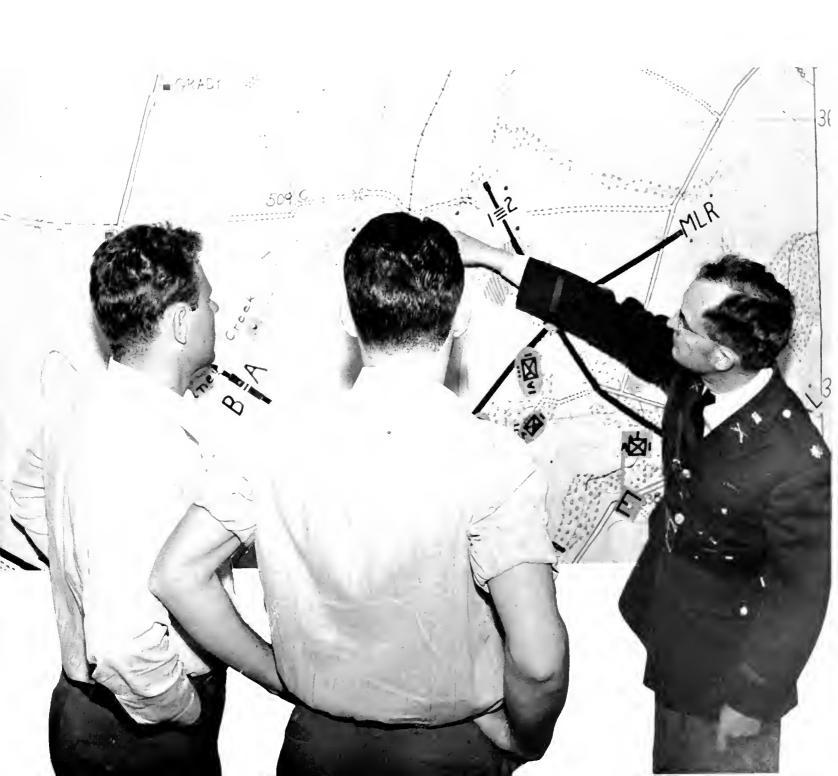

Nate de Francisco, Don Toland, Queen Marie Whitmore, Stu McKenzie, and Benny Kvitky present the Varsity Show chorus, which was one of the highlights of this madhouse review.

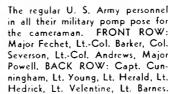

R. O. T. C.

Colonel William Kugler not only won the award for the outstanding officer but also headed the entire unit for the spring semester.

Grades, make-ups, tests, information on this and that kept the office staff of the military department on their toes every day. Captain Peretsky, supervising officer of the office is shown issuing orders to his "non-com" subordinates.

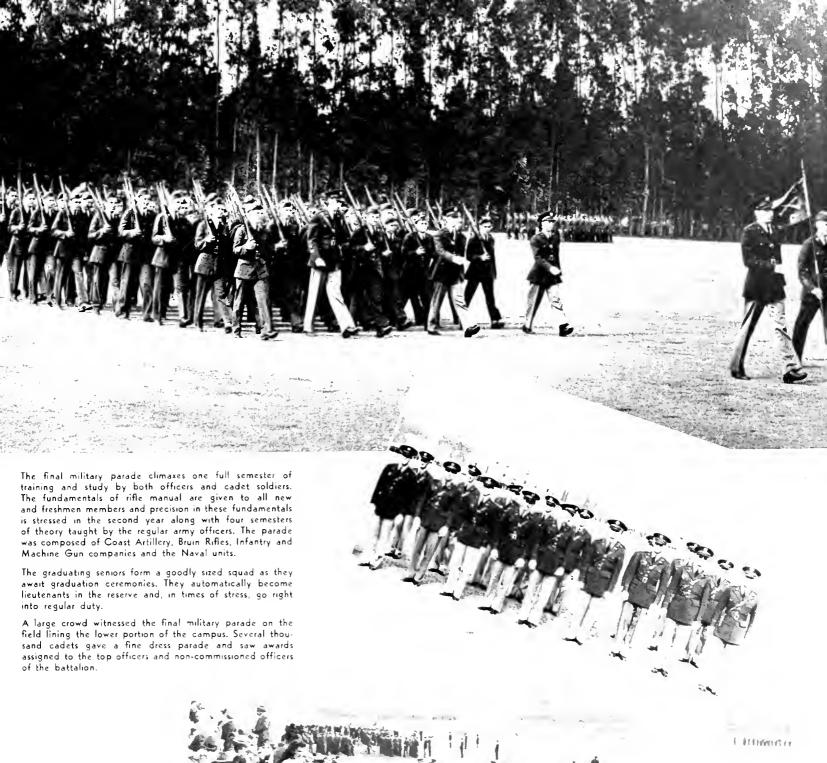

In spite of the great national defense measures, and the general trend of increase in the armies of the world, the Infantry unit at U.C.L.A. took a drop in its registration this year. Enrollment fell from 1,444 students in the Basic Course the first semester, to 1,291 in the second semester. As a consequence of the fewer lower division cadets, the quota of cadet officers in the Advanced Course was cut from 150 to 146. The decline in enrollment is due to the decrease in the general registration of the University, and to the enlarging of the Naval unit during the last semester. This decrease leaves room for Colonel Charles F. Severson and his staff of instructors to emphasize quality instead of quantity.

Scenes such as this were typical at nine, eleven and one o'clock every Monday and Friday. Allowing only a few minutes for donning uniforms the Basic Course develops quick change artists.

Kay Pyne made an attractive Scabbard and Blade queen. She is shown accepting a floral tribute from Roy Menashe.

Frank Michaelson did a fine job as the Coast Artillery unit head.

The officers who consistently turn out top-notch Coast Artillerymen are left to right: Captain Scott, Lieutenant F.obach, Lieutenant Colonel Norris, and Major Smith.

Major Smith explains to his Coast Artillery class the intricacies of the range finding instrument which is focused on a tiny ship model being towed across the drill field.

COAST ARTILLERY

U. S. Army expansion for national defense made no changes in the local Coast Artillery unit. This branch has as its permanent limited strength 281 Basic Course students, and thirty-five officers in the Advanced Course. The unit is composed principally of Pre-engineering and Physics majors, one of those courses being practically prerequisite for this training. Major James H. Smith was recently made head of the staff of instructors, to fill the vacancy created when Lt. Colonel Don R. Norris was recalled to active service.

Staff Sergeant Claude J. Tuttle, Assistant Armorer, hands out a fast line in addition to uniforms at the supply window in the R.O.T.C. wing of the Men's Gym.

Ready for active duty after having received their commissions stand Bob Conrad, Lee Clark, Ben Sanford, Roger Applegate, Carl Kruger, Frank Michaelson, and Bill Douglas.

The regular Navy officers charged with supervising the U.C.L.A. unit are Captain Battle, Commander Alford, Lt. Commander Weeks, Lt. Commander Warren, Lt. Marsh.

NAVAL R.O.T.C.

The Naval unit at U.C.L.A., which is now three years old, was enlarged this year to a strength of 208 cadets. Next year in keeping with the government's two ocean navy policy, the unit will acquire an additional 110 cadets. This expansion will bring it up to full strength. In the relatively short period of the navy's existence on the campus, the P.N.S.&T. Captain Charlton E. Battle and his staff have developed it into one of the prides of the University.

Naval cadet color bearers pass in review with "Old Glory" on the right and the naval unit insignia to its left.

At port arms the naval unit stands in full regalia waiting for drill and inspection. This is a familiar sight each Tuesday on the drill field.

ATHLETICS

MEN'S P. E. CLASSES

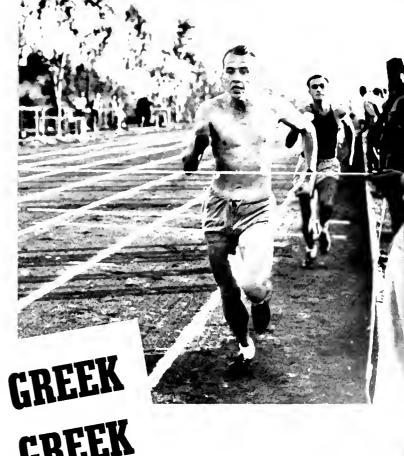

The "lone female" of the Men's Gym aids Dick Daley in helping the boys with the programs, cuts, grades, or what have you.

Everyone knows about Physical Education, commonly known as "gym", but little is known of the officers behind this popular department. Top mogul is John F. Bovard, Chairman of the Department and Director of the Men's Gymnasium. William H. (Bill) Spaulding, until recently Head Football coach, holds down the important post of Director of Athletics. Briggs Hunt, "Cece" Hollingsworth, Don Park, Wilbur Johns, Norman Duncan and Jim Schaeffer, all prominent coaches, along with Tom Helt, Ed Murphy and Paul Frampton have the status of "Supervisors of Physical Education for Men." The department, so familiar to lower division men students, is incorporated under the College of Applied Arts.

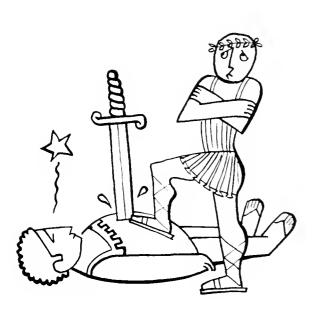

Exciting moments such as these were a common sight on the athletic field as competing teams each strove for the league championships. Charlie Howard's Delts lost out to the Phi Delts in the championship tilt while the Phi Psi eleven trailed.

Interest in Interfraternity football this year was high among the followers of the sport and of the fraternities. Crowds were numerous at many of the contests and the three-way battle between the Phi Delts, Delts, and the Phi Psis was a tossup until the very end.

Spurred on from the sidelines by the cheers of fraternity brothers, Phi Kap runner Vic Stancliff flashes across the finish line a winnah. When not leading the pack Vic finds time to lead an orchestra. These events proved that all fraternity men do not train on beer.

While a brother blocks out a would-be tackler, a fleet Alpha Sig makes a gain in one of the many interfraternity touch football classics. As the picture shows, uniforms on such occasions are not necessarily uniforms. When fraternity men play the referee is kept busy with his whistle.

Interfraternity athletics this year centered upon the close battle between the Delts and the Phi Psis for the Gold Cup signifying the all-around champions. Winning only in track, and placing second in football, the Delts forged far ahead of the nearest rival at the start of the competition and then lost out to the Phi Psis at the very finale of the year's events, swimming. They came into the home stretch as runner-up by trailing the men of Phi Kappa Psi by fifteen points out of a total of 367 posted by the winners. In football, the powerful Phi Delta Theta eleven defeated the Delta Tau Delta team in the final playoff with the Phi Psis third. Basketball was not as evenly matched as the sparkling Sigma Nu quintet outscored and outmatched all other combinations to walk away with the Casaba Cup. Theta Delta Chi was runner-up. The second semester of play was climaxed by the phenomenal rise of the Phi Psis and the weakening of the Delts. Volleyball and swimming proved to be the winning factor for the Phi Psis, while the baseball title went to the Phi Delts to assure them of third place in the allaround title. The Sigma Nu victory in the agility elimination gave them fourth place. The Delts and the Phi Psis, while not winning in many sports, showed strength in all events which accounted for their high scores.

points. This contestant shows perfect form executing the difficult one and a half reverse belly flop.

From the looks of things, Jim Zastro must have connected with the ball. Then again maybe its just the Goodyear Blimp passing by. Baseball was one of the more popular interfraternity sports.

FRATERNITIES

In an effort to nave fraternities play a more important part in University life a plan was formulated this last year to make for better coordination of the various fraternity groups on this campus. By having each fraternity donate a small sum to its upkeep, a fraternity affairs office was inaugurated and maintained. Unanimous choice for the head of this group was genial Clyde Johnson under whose guidance a complete foundation of organization was laid down. "King" Cable ably tool care of the student end of the newly formed organization.

Opening affair in the fraternity year was a pledge banquet under the toastmastership of Conrad Nagel.

Clyde Johnson had a busy year managing the duties of the newly formed fraternity affairs office.

By enforcing attendance of pledges at a study table the fraternity average is expected to take a jump for the better.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

The 1940-41 Council was one of the most aggressive groups on campus. After increased pledging they were given new power from the University. In December was the Annual Ball. A study table for fraternities cut flunk-outs in half. Guides to scholarship and chapter officers were published. Finances of houses were improved through House Managers' Association. In March the Tri-Campus banquet was the greatest ever staged. Philanthropy became a keynote of the Council. A new Fraternity Affairs Office was set up to handle work of administering fraternity problems.

Dr. Kaplan (left) and Dr. Woellner (right) receive keys of honorary membership in the Interfraternity Council from Pierce Gannon because of their work in improving the fraternity system.

Since the University Farm and Agricultural College joined the establishment of the University of California in 1906, the Davis campus has become one of the most outstanding and progressive branches of the University. Located on a 1,079 acre tract of land not eightyseven miles from San Francisco, the branch at Davis is maintained for research and instructional purposes. Scientific methods of farming as well as the ago-old homely practices of milking and everyday farm choics are taught these modern agriculturalists. Here though the enrollment does not reach 1,800, of which less than 150 are women, and with numerous new additions to the institution, the campus does not nearly accommodate those desiring admittance since Davis offers both degree and non-degree work. Thus on the University Farm and in the College of Agriculture both professional and non-professional students may study the raising of poultry, animal husbandry, and the culture of dry field crops. Professional students may study agricultural engineering and chemistry, and women may take advantage of the finest home economics course on the Pacific Coast.

JUST as the owl in the center of the arch over the entrance signifies wisdom, so the Library overlooks the quadrangle symbolizing the spirit of erudition. This building, modeled greatly after the Church St. Sepolcro of Bologna also combines the color and free style of Byzantine and fifteenth century Spanish architecture. Upon its central dome is found the symbolic design of the Tree of Life.

ALL-U AFFAIRS

Selected as the official theme of the 1940 Homecoming after an all-campus contest, "When It's Tepee Time Down South" became the stimulus for all types of activity from planning floats to decorating the men's gym for the dance. Tom Freear, as chairman of the Homecoming Committee distinguished himself by organizing a series of very successful events starting with an All-U-Sing and closing with the Alumni Dance at the Biltmore Bowl. Under his direction, the Committees conducted the usual contest for a Queer and made arrangements to house and otherwise accommodate the invading Indians from Stanford. The Committees met the special train from Palo Alto and proceeded to entertain the visitors royally.

Judges Thomas, Kaplan, and Jackson compare notes on the parade.

Lights, camera, action! We're off for a retake of 1940's Homecoming. As the cameras roll in on the first night we shoot a funpacked All-U-Sing for which Johnny Vrba and ol' timer McCune outdid themselves. Highlight was the presentation of Queen Dorothy Broughton and her entourage including Pat Jones, Kathleen O'Connor, Barbara Gastil, and Dorothy Austin. Sophomore Betty Lou Rose reluctantly handed over the Blue C cup to freshman Phoebe Harbon in recognition of the 3-2 Frosh Brawl victory. The Sing created so much pep that work began at full steam on the bonfire pyre. The men worked furiously piling up chairs, crates, telephone poles and almost anything that would burn. The women of the newly formed co-ed's auxiliary worked equally as hard hauling food to the builders. Varied events continued throughout the week including Hello Day, the Alumni Banquet, and the Grads Review in Royce. The parade on Friday night climaxed the pre-game festivities. The judges finally chose Delta Sigma Phi as the grand sweepstakes winner: Alpha Gamma Omega for fraternities, and Chi Omega winner for sororities. Cal Men was chosen for the best of the non-Greek division and the Delta Tau Deltas received the vote for the funniest. The rally and bonfire followed the awards. As the embers died out, Orrin Tucker entertained dancers in the gym.

2600 celebrants "jammed" in the Men's Gym for the afterparade dance. Wee Bonnie Baker warbled coyly to the accompaniment of Orin Tucker's orchestrations.

All-University Sings are a traditional part of student activities and have done a great deal in providing clever and informal entertainment on Monday evenings which has helped foster school spirit. The Sings have brought such celebrities of the entertainment world as Marjorie Weaver, Sonny Dunham, and Skinny Ennis. And from radio, came Braven Dyer who interviewed members of the U.C.L.A. football squad. Then there was Johnny Vrba, who as chairman of the California Arrangements committee was the man responsible for carrying on the tradition this past year. As master of ceremonies he presented these notables and also student talent in the Royce Hall Tonight series.

Royce Hall Tonight! And here are Johnny Vrba, Dick Wilkes, and Les Buhai carrying on the tradition of presenting the Monday night audiences with a little comedy which was slightly on the corny side.

Before the Bruins started their trek to Berkeley to battle the Bears, they gathered in Royce Hall for one of the biggest rallies ever held. Midst songs and yells Babe Horrell was interviewed concerning Bruin possibilities.

Ignacio Quijada, aided by Tommy Thompson, master of ceremonies, presented Eleanor Vetter, newly elected Crew Queen, to the University at the final All-U-Sing which officially opened Crew Week.

Football players galore took over the first All-U-Sing which was in their honor. Coming from the audience the members of the team entertained Monday nighters with songs and introductions of fellow members.

N I T E L I F E

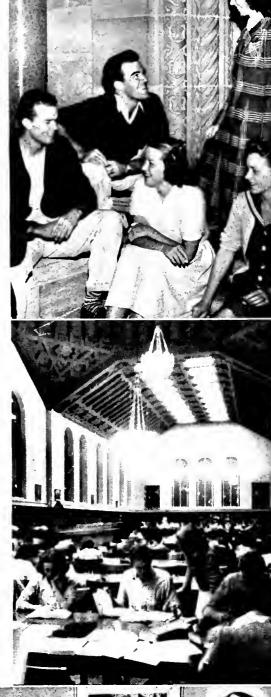

Blue Monday is a thing of the past as that six o'clock feeling screads over campus. Off to the rows go Joe and Josephine, eager to usher in the week's social life. Although house meetings and big cinners call forth the deluge of Bruins, they form but a background for the other festivities. Eventually the conformist finds himself drawn to the Sing, recreational, or more often to just a casual get-together in the village.

One of the places frequented by the local Bruins on Monday night is Mrs. Gray's Drive Inn on Wilshire.

Monday night after meetings, Sings, or dates, Crumpler's Bruin Rendezvous becomes the center of social life.

Typical of the library on a nice balmy evening, is the gathering of the clans on the steps outside for a gab fest.

A bit on the more serious side is this phase of Monday night life—study tables in the main reading room of the Library.

Delta Zetas spend their Monday evenings in the typical sorority way, discussing last weekend's dates and next week's work over the inevitable bridge game.

Frequented by non-orgs, the All-U-Dances, under the direction of the A.S.U.C., present ideal afternoon entertainment.

A.M.S. and A.W.S. dances, presented in the women's gymnasium, are the gathering place of swing fans after a Sing.

Presenting either the orchestra of Vic Stancliff, or his recordings, the All-U-Dances gather together the campus rugcutters.

DANCES

The ideal medium for informationtertainment is found at the All-U Dances sponsored by the A.S.U.C. social committee, and held on the average of once a month. They form an integral part of U.C.L.A. social life. attracting numerous campus celebrities, and frequently highlighting special University activities such as Homecoming or Men's Week. Billie Mae Thomas, vice-president and official hostess for the A.S.U.C., planned the affairs, and saw to it that special entertainment, such as guest artists were provided. Each month a social committee headed by such hosts as Bob Alshuler, Max Dunn, Peggy Lawhead, and Hugh Geyer aided in entertaining new students and others attending the functions for the first time.

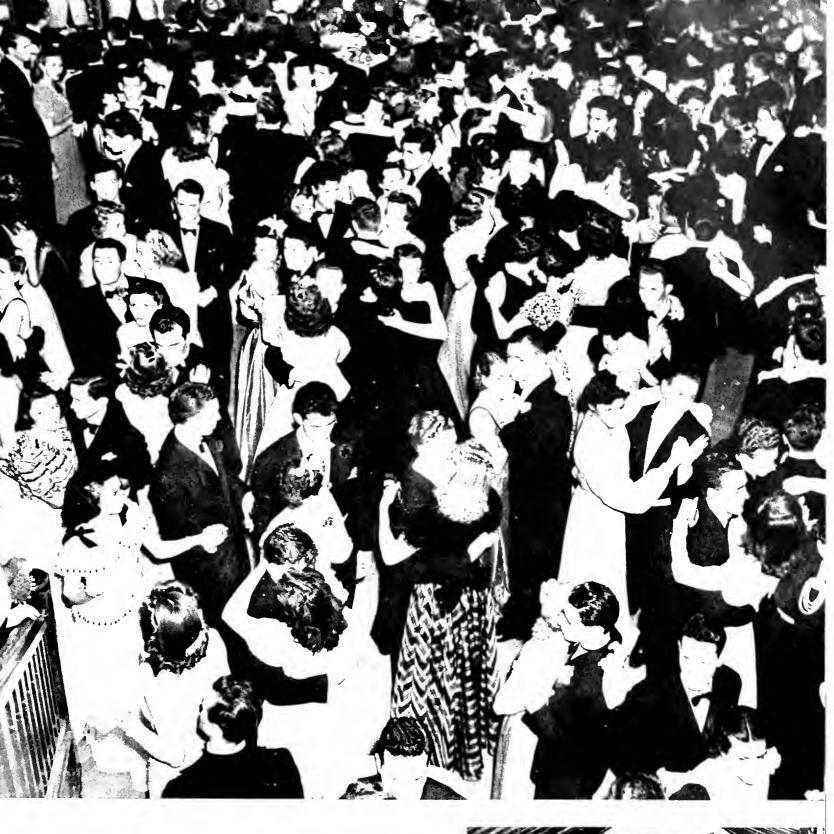

CLASS AFFAIRS

CH All Things

On Saturday evening, the thirtieth of March, the Junior Class presented its musical extravaganza "Of All Things" on the stage of Royce Hall auditorium. Under the direction of Charles Gaupp and with the music of Farlan Myers, the jubilee helped fill the spot needed by a young University, that of tradition. But better yet was the fact that the show was good, the music and lyrics were excellent, and the audience was overly pleased.

Leaving Royce after the jubilee were many Bruin notables such as Hitoshi Yonemura, Bob Alshuler, Alice Wheaton, and Quin Frazier.

The finale of the jubilee drew together personalities who had been individually outstanding in the show. Two of these were Kay O'Connor and Bob Searles.

After the junior show local Bruins could be found over on Gayley at the Open Houses. Here in front of the Phi Psi house, funsters are admiring the decorations.

Typical of the continual migration from one open house to another was this scene of mobs of people moving from the S.A.E. house to parts unknown.

ORGANIZATION AFFAIRS

A typical scene at the Interfraternity formal was this one with the Greek clans gathered around the bandstand watching the antics of the maestro and his men as they presented one of their novelty acts. A few of those seen in the foreground are Carl Randall, Lucretia Tenney, Bob Weir, Trudy Klamm, Bill Albers, and Florence Macrae.

Sorority women added impetus to the fast closing social season when they presented their annual Panhellenic Ball in May. Greek ladies and their honored guests of the evening donned formal attire to trek to the Fiesta Room of the Ambassador Hotel where they danced to the strains of Will Osborne, his orchestra, and his slide trombone. Variety was added to the evening when Dean Laughlin installed the new Panhellenic officers and Janice Lipking, retiring president, turned her gavel over to Frieda Liebscher.

Seen conversing between dances at the Interfraternity formal dance were Ted Jones and film starlet Anne Gwynne.

Dancing during the evening at Pan-Hel soon became somewhat of a task due to the crowds of Greek men and women. Perennially starred in the date books of socially mirided coeds is this festive gathering of the clans. Sponsored each fall by the Interfraternity Council, the formal dance is open to all members of Greek social fraternities on campus. This year the danceable melodies to which the Uclan's swayed, echoed from the Fiesta Room of the Ambassador Hotel. They were provided by the top bands of Victor Young and the late Hal Kemp. Innovations in the traditional evening were the dinners given at fraternity houses before the ball.

Notables recognized by dancers at the Panhellenic Ball were the sponsors: Dr. and Mrs. Kaplan, Mr. and Mrs. Russell, Mrs. Horace Mills, Dean Laughlin, Mr. Clyde Johnson, and Mr. John Stinebarger.

Rented or borrowed full aress suits and tuxedoes were in a definite minority several times during the social season. It was on these occasions that military officers and their ladies presented their formal balls. Traditionally, the officers were dressed in regular uniform and many a feminine heart fluttered at the sight of the highly polished brass and leather. The dances of both the Army and the Navy were very colorful affairs. The colors of the service, company uniforms and their banners all added to the military effect. At the Conning Tower closed affair the navy plue predominated and army khaki set the scene at the Officers' Ball.

Kay Pyne, who was elected Honorary Colonel last fall, reigned over the annual Scabbard and Blade Ball at the Riviera Country Club. Assisted by Morgan McNeely and Robert Graf. Kay was responsible for tapping all the new members of the organization.

Dancers at the Scabbard and Blade formal dance at the Riviera Country Club included Franklin Wood, Bob Tavis, and Mary McNeal. Over five hundred other couples shared the music, the palm decorations, and the festivity of this military formal.

Enjoying the Navy dinner dance were Silvia Battle, Roy Billings and Leland Teets, with his guest. These guys and gals were members of the select group admitted to the closed affair given by Conning Tower, the newly organized honorary for Naval R.O.T.C.

Sitting around the table chatting at the Officers' Ball were Jack Simons, Peggy McQuilkin, Bob Alshuler, Alice Wheaton, and Hitoshi Yonemura. As usual this affair was formal so that uniforms and fair ladies predominated the scene.

Dancing under their ill-gotten palm trees, Bruce Alexander and Johnny Johnson hula with their dates at their famous annual Fiji Island party.

Seen here are the Hershey Hall girls. They are noted for the number, hospitality, and the success of their dances.

One of the more spectacular parties was the Alpha Sig Alpine Dance which found Gene Winchester and his crew in mountain Tyrolean garb.

Holding hands for the La Conga, Ann Gillespie and Bill Farrar were among the quests who enjoyed the Gamma Ph Bita Open House.

Once during each semester the soronties give what has come to be known as a "present". At this time Greek women throw open the doors of their houses to the University public. Thus for a period of a little over a week, students of the University entertain themselves by mobbing the houses on Hilgard to meet the neophytes and to sample the punch and the dancing at each house. Invitations are sent to each fraternity and sorority, and the general public is notified of the "present" by way of the Daily Bruin. Through these means of advertising, living rooms and patios are transformed into crowded dance floors that the newcomers, the pledges, may be presented to their fellow students. And so the University meets the girls chosen by each house to carry on its social career and solemn traditions.

Alpha Chi's go through their paces as the line sweeps on and on. After an hour of this, the present line breaks up, and the girls are free to dance with all who ask.

Kappa pledges brave the barrage of false names, and seem to be enjoying themselves, judging by smiles up and down the line.

After this long Chi Omega line broke up, the campus wolves moved in with their lines.

Utterly charming in jeans by Schaparelli these Phi Psi nuggets smile demurely over their vegetable corsages. This fraternity is unique in that it is the only fraternity to present its pledges to the public.

DANCES

Every week-end during the past year has found Greek organizations busily engaged in putting on all types of functions. Formal informai, and costume affairs have filled the year's calendar with a never-ending round of excitement. Each fraternity and sorority tried to out-dazzle the others with formal attire and swank night life, and then not satisfied they tried to outdo each other by dreaming up ideas for original costume dances. Then, too, the Greeks had their semiannual formals, their pleage gances, and their house parties during the Junior week-ena. And then with all the regular dances accounted for the fraternities solved the problem of dance-less weekends with informal spur-of-the moment get-togethers somewhere in the city.

November found the Kappa-Fiji party in full swing at the Westport Beach Club. It was distinguished as the first affair of the year.

"Last Chance" was the theme of the Guidon dance and L. Bradbury, A. Brown, B. Taylor, J. Norman, K. Cochrane, and P. Lawhead are making the most of it.

Acclaimed by all who attended as one of the best dances of the year, Phi Psi Formal at the Bel-Air Bay Club proved almost too much for "Little Joe" Seward.

Joe Luder seems to be giving Charlotte Guinney the inside at the Alpha Chi Open House. Marie Dashiell, Ruth Wiencke, Terry Olmstead and their escorts called the affair "highly successful."

G E N E R A L ORGANIZATIONS

During the past few years the organizations of the University have blossomed forth and have begun to take a more active part in U.C.L.A. social life. Auxiliaries to all the prominent men's organizations have sprung up and seem to be leading the way for these groups to find more in the University than pure academic life. Even the most businesslike and scholastic of the honoraries has taken to having social gatherings in the form of informal get-to-gethers and the more formal organization dances. By coming into the social whirl, the members of these honoraries have become a part of the University outside of the formal and stiff business meeting.

Taking a much earned rest after an evening of heavy dancing are these members of the R.O.T.C. who attended the Bruin Rifles Dance. This was one of the first affairs sponsored by the newly named organization.

Still new to the University are the Bruin Host Parties. Sensing a need for getting students acquainted with each other a plan was used which had already found a large following at Pasadena J.C.

Anne Brown and her Gamma Phi sorority sisters take time out from other activities to watch the waves break at Laguna during the Spring vacation.

A carefree group of Bruins take advantage of a few minutes of sunshine to relax and enjoy themselves during Eastertime at Laguna.

Georgie Randle and her friends seem to be entertained by something during the Balboa week-end.

Comes Spring vacation, there is the annual hegira to Balboa. Aside from the annual trel to Stanford or Berkeley this is the only other attraction which can so readily empty the campus. Reverting to high school form, Joe and Josephine Bruin let down their hair and have a rip-snorting time. Despite this year's inclement weather they managed to catch a few rays of sunshine before returning to term paper worries.

Sleeping facilities in Balboa during Easter vacation were at a premium. Local Bruins found themselves bargaining not for couches but for floors instead of the great outdoors. Three of the victors, Dick Woodard, Lou Nordeen, and Joe Luder found themselves in the garage.

Breakfasting we find Connie Milton, Elizabeth Hays, Keith Covey, Betty Lou Jackson, and Jack Brainard. Each seems to be lending a hand to prepare this late but hearty breakfast of bacon, eggs, and coffee at the Balboa residence of the Alpha Chis.

San Francisco has become the center for all Berkeley students desiring to carry their professional education beyond the university stage. For in San Francisco the University maintains the California Medical School under the leadership of Emeritus Dean Langley Porter, the Hastings College of Law under David Snodgrass, acting Dean, and the California School of Fine Arts under the directorship of Lee F. Randolph. Prominent faculty and the numerous laboratories, clinic, and hospital buildings of the medical school make it one of the most outstanding in the country; for, here, the student is offered practical experience. Then at the Hastings College of Law, students may gather in the libraries of books for analytical study of case book systems, or they may receive practical training in the moot courts of the university. While at the California School of Fine Arts, the faculty is concerned with the training of future teachers and of artists and craftsmen in the field of fine arts.

THE Women's Gym stands at the Westwood entrance to the campus proper as a fitting complement to the Men's Gym opposite. Women of the campus find relaxation the year through at the sides of the outdoor pool and in the large gymnasium. Room 200 is famous also as the setting for All-U Dances and mixed recreationals. The wholesome structure of the building and the purpose for which it stands is symbolic of American youth.

something's always BRU-IN
at beverly hills hotel

in fact, it might be said that this ll-acre paradise, just down the road from u c l a, is an extension of the bruin campus. for, whenever there is a sorority, fraternity or club affair to be held that calls for beautiful surroundings, suave service and the best of food and drink, the choice is invariably one of the many private party rooms of the beverly hills hotel.

and, when joe and josephine bruin become dative, their goal is often our popular thursday night buffet dinner dance ($2 per, and no cover) or our sunday night dinner dance ($1.50 per, and no cover). last, but not least, when good bruins get together to toast the mighty golden bear, the scene, usually, is our polo lounge.

EDITOR'S SWAN SONG

With the 1941 Southern Campus coming at long, long last to a final conclusion (really a final final) many, many thoughts come to mind as I think over the hectic year:

All summer spent looking over annuals, checking the good points and the bad ...slowly the form of the book materialized This was going to be the super book.... Going around to all of the printers, engravers, and binders made me realize how much there was to learn Hap Fraser took the art editorship again....he went to art school during the summer so no layouts were made....came registration, came the sad news that Hap couldn't keep the job....had to scout around—finally found Kaelin....best thing that happened all year....all of the super art work is his....even after his work was done, Aloysius Q. stuck around helping out after almost everyone had descrited the ship, often working 14 to 16 hours a day....if it ever came to a choice between Al and the rest of the staff, I'd take him....biggest disappointment of the year was the failure of many of the top staff members to live up to expectations....inexperience was the bugbear of the staff.... undoubtedly better organization would have helped a lot.... of the five main divisions of the staff: engraving, copy, photography, art, and organizations, the first three were off form, sometimes drastically so....fortunately the art this year made up for almost all of this.... Marcella Sutton's department, with Margaret Karl second in command, clicked beautifully and was one of the bright spots of the book.... Ricky's unexpected fadeout was quite a jolt.... urfamiliarity with the job plus eye trouble were the primary causes....Marie Deshiell, stepping in after the second semester was under way, did a fine job under the circumstances....Betty Beal didn't haunt the office as she used to last year, due to outside work and Education 350....this put too much work on her inexperienced helpers for the good of the book.... Marge Frank vias a peach, always right in there, especially at the end when she took overEased in with Bill Johnke's blessing, Keith Covey was appointed head photographer as a high freshman....his inexperience and bungling experimentation kept us in despair for months but finally all this practice produced results. Johnny Closs' pinch-hitting for the photography department and Bob Grim's painstaking lab work saved the day.... The book probably never would have come out if Bob Pritchard hadn't come to the rescue with his excellent negs (which were manhandled somewhat unmercifully)....a big vote of thanks is due him....Barbara Bettin, on the gravy train as associate editor, started out with the best of intentions but inexperience and an uncooperative photography department caused her early retirement.

The book editors were an assorted lot this year...everything from sophomores to seniors....Russell the Muscle Simpson did a super fine job on athletics....in addition he was right on schedule....his love life was a hectic one, and usually somewhat dismal, according to him....he was closely followed by Beverly Vener, whose section is the best in years....The other book editors, Dorothy Fleischmann, Bee Brown, Gordie Hewson, did excellent jobs when they got around to them....Helen Zellner, a newcomer, took over the slow-moving social section and got it into high gear....she will be best remembered for all of the long hours she spent photomounting, etc., and sticking with the book until the very end.

Relations between the editorial and managerial staffs were quite a contrast to last year's....we got along beautifully....our relations with the outside were extensive and quite varied, what with borrowing prints here and there.... The Westwood Branch of the Continental Advertising Service did not hinder us much—in fact at times was very useful....Bob Reeder should have been effered condolences along with congratulations when he was appointed new Director of Publications...he had to clean up the mess that should have been taken care of by Uncle Joe....we are deeply grateful to him for all his help....best of luck next year and many years thereafter, Bob....a coupie of our main props were Waldo Edmunds of Mission Engraving and Johnny Morley of Bundy Quill and Press....Johnny took quite a beating....we really appreciate all of the hard work he put in getting the copy out (which was like pulling teeth)....we are also deeply indebted to Mr. Preter of Mission and Mr. Jessup of Bundy's for the excellent work they put into the book.

There are many who contributed to the book—some a great deal, some crity a little, but all were invaluable....people like Bill Dettmar, Martha Heap, Jack Mahon, Eleanor Leonard, Terry Olmstead, Mary Lester, to mention only a few....to all these, known and unknown, the book is their debtor, and is n.uch the finer for their work.

Even though it was a headache at times, I really enjoyed working on the book and with the people on the staff. I only hope that everybody else enjoyed it as much as I did and gained as much in pleasure and knowledge.

MANAGER'S SWAN SONG

Our job is well done and the job is the thing. The 1941 Southern Campus gave us the work. We built a plan to do the job. We gathered about us a staff to fit the organization. We developed a spirit to direct us. By it we worked hard when there was a problem before us and relaxed in our time. This change of pace kept work done and people happy. We had a job and a plan and a staff and a spirit of hard fast work.

The link of leadership was the way to success. Each manager did his job his way but got the results on time.

Mary Jo Funk as Minute Man of the staff did most of all for the Southern Campus. Jo is the most loved and most respected of our group.

Jerry McClellan gave us our best organized division and ran it faultlessly. Every army has its self-less hero. Anne Brown became ours when she sacrificed all things to do the finest sales job in years by selling out a record edition before the 1st of June.

Frank Dana held that the best way to have his job well done was to do it himself. His was well done.

Lorraine Hofmann, Frances Ann Wright, Doug Christensen, Joe Jacobucci and Rex May produced when it counted. All of them were outstanding.

These people with their staffs worked together, with a common spirit and a common place, and they produced a record indicating highly successful management of the 1941 Southern Campus.

I thank them all. I admire them for the results they produced and the spirit with which they operated.

The full friendship of the editor and his staff has made cooperation there an easy pleasure.

The freedom the Director of Publications has allowed and the advice he has given I appreciate. I think the results approve his policy.

I recall and will remember the unselfish help rendered in times of need by Alice Tilden at the crossroads of her desk.

I appreciate that these people have found the job and worked hard and earned honestly their results. They have shown that in all efforts, fine people are the thing, and they are fine people.

JACK HENDERSON

With typical Irish bluster, Jack Henderson brought the book to a hectic conclusion with the binding and covering. Called upon for a hurry-up job, his staff at Henderson's Trade Bindery came through handsomely. His was the final artistic touch to a book which struggled, sputtered and then burst fo th in all its belated glory.

WALDO EDMUNDS

Waldo Edmunds was right at home in the Southern Campus office, having held down the editor's chair in 1926. Service man for the Mission Engraving Co., dapper Waldo bolstered sagging staff morale with his colorful collection of chapeaux, sport coats, and engraving proofs. At home with a pipe, Waldo knew the answers to many questions that didn't concern engravings alone, and was associate editor emeritus.

JOSEPH FLEISCHER

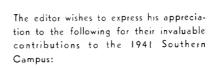

Mr. Joseph Fleischer, official portrait photographer for the Southern Campus for the past three years, has been of great assistance in the production of the Bruin yearbook. A product of Detroit, he has cperated the Martel-Howlett Studio here for almost a decade.

JESSE JESSUP

Jesse G. Jessup, general manager of Bundy Quill and Press, has with this volume produced thirteen editions of the Southern Campus. The quality of the printing is a reflection of his broad knowledge and experience in this field. Capable and cooperative, he has repeatedly shown his real interest in U.C.L.A. by helping us make this book among the best in a long line of outstanding books. Showing remarkable restraint with an over-exacting staff, Mr. Jessup unravelled the many technical problems which arose.

Representing Bundy Quill and Press, John Morley had the unenviable job of getting copy from sterile typewriters. Johnny so loved the Southern Campus that he gave up golfing engagements to be handy at all times, and jeopardized his family life by sitting up all night with all two of the staff. To his good advice and willing cooperation we owe much of the success of this volume.

Art Preter was the dynamo behind the super engravings in the book. The cuts for the color reproductions typify the high standards of workmanship at Mission Engraving Co. Always willing to make an extra cut, trim an edge or even remake a cut when editors changed their minds, he was the staff's friend in need. For all his extra work we say thank you.
